Haskell C. Freedman to Head Red Cross Drive

The appointment of Haskell C. Freedman as chairman of the Newton Red Cross 1955 Fund Campaign has been announced recently by William Falconer, chairman of the Newton Chapter.

Mr. Freedman, an Attorney at Law, and a person long active in Newton community affairs, is well qualified for this important volunteer assignment. He has been active in Red Cross Campaigns for the past four years, having served as vice-chairman.

His activities in Newton, other than Red Cross, include membership on the Newton School Committee, Newton Centre Improvement Association, Newton Taxpayers Association, Past President of the Bowen School Parent-Teachers Association, and Assistant Manager, "Athletics" Newton East Little League.

His activities outside of Newton include Vice President of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees, Boston Bar Association (Committee on Civil Procedure), and Massachusetts Bar Association.

HASKELL C. FREEDMAN

Plans for the campaign are under way, and Mr. Freedman feels that with the continued support of Newton citizens and the faithfulness of many volunteer workers and solicitors, the Fund Drive next March will be successful.

Placement Tests At High School September 9

Pupils transferring from private and parochial schools to the tenth grade of the Newton High School will take placement tests to be given on Thursday, September 9, at 8:30 A.M.

Registration for these tests should be made on Tuesday, September 7, or Wednesday, September 8, in the Guidance Office at the high school. A record of ninth-grade work should be submitted at time of registration.

Other pupils transferring from schools outside of Newton may register on September 7, 8, 9, or 10 in the Guidance Office. Appointments for conferences about programs of study for next year may be made by telephoning LA 5-7-6267.

2 From Newton Are Awarded Scholarships

Peter Rigby and Allan Wright, both juniors at Bowdoin College, have been awarded scholarships for the academic year 1954-55. Dr. James S. Coles, President of Bowdoin College has announced.

Rigby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Rigby of 16 Albion place, Newton Centre. At Bowdoin he has represented his fraternity, Psi Upsilon, on the Student Council and serves as an infielder on the baseball team.

Wright served his fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega, as its secretary. He is the son of Mrs. Ethel F. Wright, 29 Arlington street, Newton.

Combined Police Resources to Cover Highways this Weekend

The Traffic and Safety Committee of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association today offered the complete support of all member police departments to the Special Emphasis Traffic Accident Prevention Campaign which will be conducted during the coming Labor Day holiday weekend.

This was announced in an official communication received by Registration Rudolph F. King, Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, from Chief Samuel H. Bradish of Marblehead, Association President, and Chief Hector J. Pelletier of Cohasset, Secretary-Treasurer.

Chief Philip Purnell of Newton, speaking as Chairman of the Traffic and Safety Committee, made this statement: "The combined resources and personnel of all police departments in the Commonwealth will be used over the Labor Day Holiday weekend to prevent accidents which kill and maim highway users and we are prepared to support the control and regulation of traffic with vigorous and impartial prosecution of all serious and dangerous traffic violations. We have always participated in all official programs of highway accident prevention and we recognize that the anticipated traffic volumes and highway conditions brought about by unusually heavy increases in the number of registered motor vehicles and the number of licensed drivers over a year ago will demand more than ordinary cooperation of highway users with enforcement officials over this Labor Day period."

Other members of the Traffic and Safety Committee appealing for concerted public cooperation in this official life-saving campaign are: Chief William F. Ferrazzi of Quincy, Chief Francis P. Wall of Swampscott, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Rudolph F. King, and Commissioner of Public Safety, General Otis M. Whitney.

Diabetic Industrial Worker Can Keep Illness Under Control

The industrial worker who has diabetes can be as valuable to the company as any other worker, providing he understands his disease and knows how to keep it under control. Hence there should be no necessity for the employee to conceal the fact that he has diabetes when seeking employment.

The employee's family physician can do a great deal to help him keep his diabetes under control. Through enrollment in the Newton-Wellesley Diabetes Education Program the employee who has diabetes can get further information on how to live a normal life in spite of his limitations. Classes are held in the evening to accommodate those who work during the day. The next series of classes start on October 7, 1954. For information about enrollment, call BI 4-4912.

The regular physical examination that is so often required of employees each year quite often discloses new cases of diabetes that would not otherwise be recognized until some more serious complication has developed. When such a new case of diabetes is found the industrial counselor can be very helpful in directing the worker to proper sources for information and medical care and arranging for any minor adjustments in the work situation to fit the special needs of the individual.

Since diabetes most frequently has its onset in middle age or older, it affects more employees who are already established in business and who have less anxiety over the findings than the person just beginning the job. They all learn, however, that when

Maine Election to Show How Political Winds Are Blowing; Returns Sept. 13 May Give Clue to Congressional Fights

Maine will provide the first real forecasts as to how the political winds are blowing, when the voters in the Pine Tree State go to the polls a week from next Monday to elect a Governor, a U. S. Senator, three Congressmen and to fill other State and county offices.

There is some basis for the time-worn adage that as Maine goes so goes the nation, but students of politics realize that it is necessary to delve below the surface of the returns and search for trends in the vote cast by the people who live in the Northeast corner of the United States.

Despite reports from Maine that the Democrats are optimistic and the Republicans worried, few political observers believe there is any real chance of the Pine Tree State going Democratic on Sept. 13 or that Senator Margaret Chase Smith and Governor Burton M. Cross are in any serious danger of defeat.

However, the margin by which Mrs. Smith and Governor Cross win their respective contests may be a sound indication of events to come in the gigantic battle between the Republican and Democratic parties for the control of the next Congress.

Hurricane Causes Considerable Damage To Property In Newtons

Announce Dates For Registration At Night Sessions

City Clerk Monte G. Basbas has announced that there will be night registration sessions in all the city's seven wards. These night sessions will be held before the October 1 deadline for enrolling new voters for the November election.

In addition to the night sessions, registration will be resumed following the September 14 primary.

The evening sessions at City Hall, from September 27 through September 30, will be from 7 to 9 o'clock, while on October 1, the final day, the evening session will last until 10 p. m. Dates and places for registration in the various wards were listed as follows:

Monday, Sept. 27 — Wards 1 and 7. Underwood School, 77 Vernon street, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Tuesday, Sept. 27 — Ward 2. Bram's Battery and Tire Service Company, 252 Walnut street, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Tuesday, Sept. 27 — Davis School, 492 Waltham street, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Wednesday, Sept. 29 — Ward 4. Auburn Branch Library, 375 Auburn street, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Thursday, Sept. 30 — Ward 6. Mason School, 1243 Centre street, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Friday, Oct. 1 — Ward 5. Hyde School, 68 Lincoln street, 5 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Trees Uprooted, Store Windows Blown In, Homes Damaged Tues.

Hurricane Carol, roaring through this city Tuesday morning, did hundreds of thousands of dollars damage as it uprooted trees, crashed in store windows, tore off shingles on homes, destroyed many mercantile outdoor signs and left debris strewn all over the city.

The major damage from the hurricane which roared through here and other communities, coming without adequate warning, appeared to be centered in the number of large and beautiful trees which were uprooted. Practically every section of the community felt the brunt of the storm and all sections suffered damage.

The entire police personnel of the city was on duty during and after the storm, including auxiliary policemen and the fire department was kept busy eliminating the danger of the many fallen wires in all parts of the city. Both departments handled their assignments in an efficient and commendable manner.

In the business areas of the city, the West Newton section appeared to suffer the greatest damage. Here a large tree crashed down onto a fruit store on Washington street; a window of the G. & S. Paper Company was blown in; a large window of Barron's was

Close to 15,000 Pupils Expected to Register

A total of 14,650 Newton school children are expected to register for the opening of schools on September 13. Of this number, about 1300 will be attending school for the first time. It is anticipated that the School Department will have school population will increase by about 600 more children and that, school facilities are being stretched to accommodate them.

A total of 120 new teachers will come to Newton for a three-day orientation program beginning next Thursday. All teachers will meet the following Saturday.

On Friday, September 10, all new teachers will meet in their schools with their principals. That evening, members of the NEWTON'S MANY INDUSTRIES and smaller business establishments contribute a good share of the funds needed to carry on the work of the Salvation Army, according to Richard J. Ferran, chairman of business, and Carleton P. Merrill, publicity director.

Dr. Gordon to Speak at Institute

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel of Newton, will be one of the faculty members of the Institute on Judaism sponsored by B'nai B'rith, District No. 6, which is to take place at Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin, September 9-12.

This institute, one of a series being conducted by B'nai B'rith nationally, will consider "The Problems of Being a Jew in These Days of Crisis." Dr. Gordon is scheduled to deliver three lectures on "The American Jew" and "A Philosophy for Jewish Living in These Days." He will also lead discussion sessions.

Temple Reyim to Hold Open House September 12

Plans now are being formulated by Temple Reyim of West Newton to hold its first function for the coming year on Sunday, September 12. Open house will be held from 7:00 p. m. to 11:00 p. m.

Greetings at this open house will be extended to members and friends by Rabbi Harold D. Kastle and Nathan Goldstein, President of the Temple. The Committee in charge of the affair are Messadems Theodore Shane, Chairman, Lewis Alfred, Arthur Galer, George Chaletsky, Leon Glick, Morris Goldstein, William Gordon, David Perlmutter, Harry Perlmutter, Robert Seider, Nathan Goldstein, and David Shuman.

43,834 Eligible to Vote In September 14 Primary

With the final day for registering for the September 14 primary passed, an increase of 878 was attained, bringing the total registered voters eligible to participate in the primary up to 43,834, according to City Clerk Monte Basbas.

One thousand one hundred and ninety-two new voters have registered since the June revision of the list, which at that time contained 42,956 names, but 251 were dropped from the list because of death or removal from the City.

Ward 5 led all other wards in new registrations with 418, while Ward 6 was second with 292. Leading precincts in new registrations were Ward 5, precinct 4, 144; Ward 5, precinct 7, 71; Ward 6, precinct 3, 66; and Ward 6 precinct 3, 66.

Forty-two thousand nine hundred and fifty-six voters were on the list last June compared with 45,506 in June, 1953.

This year's total included 19,713 Republicans, 4,906 Democrats, and 18,336 independent. Of the total number, 19,802 were men and 22,857 women. The June, 1953 totals included 20,905 Republicans, and 4,937 Democrats. These figures indicate a drop in the Republican registration here of 1,192 and a Democratic loss of 31.

Registration of voters will be resumed following the September 14 primary with Friday, October 1, as the deadline before the November 2 State election.

Candidates have until September 30 to file a list of their receipts and expenses for nominations at the primary while November 18 is the last day for filing such returns for the election.

Evening X-ray Hours Arranged To Aid Workers

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, which is supported solely by the annual sale of Christmas Seals, has distributed bright orange and white posters throughout Newton announcing their free chest x-ray survey. These posters being displayed through the courtesy of Newton business firms, will remind residents of the location and time for x-rays. Registration blanks to be filled in before x-raying, can be picked up at any Newton post office after Sept. 2. No appointments are necessary.

The x-ray unit will be in the parking lot at the corner of Washington and Putnam streets, West Newton Square on Sept. 8, 12 to 8 p. m.; Sept. 9, 12 to 8 p. m., and Sept. 10, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. This will be the first time that evening x-ray hours have been held in Newton. They are planned to give men and women working during the day an opportunity for a free chest x-ray.

Electric Service Being Restored Rapidly Now

Substantial progress was made during Tuesday night in restoring electric service in the 40 cities and towns served by Boston Edison.

Shortly after daylight (Wednesday) the first half dozen of emergency line crews recruited late Tuesday from New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, arrived in Boston and were immediately added to the company's restoration forces. Fifty additional crews arrived here Wednesday.

Municipal authorities have done a splendid job in clearing the streets and this will speed the repair work. The company's electric load Wednesday morning was running 77 percent of a normal Wednesday.

American Red Cross Disaster Fund

An urgent appeal for emergency funds is being made by Red Cross to help in its Disaster Relief Work in assisting victims of the hurricane throughout New England.

Please send contribution as soon as possible to Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, 21 Foster street, Newtonville.

Urges Extreme Care in Use of Candles, Wires

Chief John E. Corcoran today issued a warning to all citizens to use extreme care due to the disastrous effects of the hurricane.

He especially pointed out that the use of candles for lighting is extremely hazardous. Candles should be put in a heavy base and placed away from all curtains and easily combustible materials. Kerosene lamps should be thoroughly cleaned and the wicks trimmed. They should not be filled with oil while they are still hot. This can cause an explosion.

All lights should be placed up high so that children cannot handle them and also be placed so they will not be knocked over.

Do not handle any wires outside that are on the ground or that are hanging. While most of these wires may be "dead" there is still a chance of one being "alive."

For any fire, call the Newton Fire Department at once. If you have a fire hydrant near your property please see that it is kept cleared so it can be easily found in case it is needed.

The chief expressed his sincere appreciation to all those who so earnestly worked in this extreme emergency to help safeguard the city.

Name Miss Curtis Dean of Students At Junior College

The officers of Newton Junior College have appointed Miss Katherine Curtis to the position of Dean of Students. Miss Curtis will take up her duties at the College immediately, but will continue to devote part of her time to the high school guidance office. According to the announcement, the new appointment will strengthen further the educational and vocational guidance services offered to college students. One advantage of a small college is its potential ability to know the individual student well and to meet his needs effectively.

According to Miss Curtis, Newton Junior College will expand its use of standard tests this year in order to gauge the student's capacities more accurately. The test battery will include two in English fundamentals, a reading test, a survey of study habits and attitudes, and the general aptitude test of the American Council on Education. Vocational-interest tests are used in the College whenever they are thought useful.

A special class will also be held for the improvement of skills in English and reading.

demolished; both windows of Anthony Davis, hair stylist, were blown out, as was the window of Miss Flynn's store. Commonwealth avenue suffered severe damage to the many beautiful trees lining both sides of the street and here the destructive force of the hurricane was greatly in evidence. Innumerable large and stately trees were completely uprooted and one in front of the home of Mr. Harold Nesson, crashed through the house. The Newton Corner business area appeared to suffer little damage with only the window of Frost Motors, Inc., being blown in as well as the windows of one or two other smaller establishments. The flag-pole in front of the main library on Centre street, was toppled over, some TV antennas were demolished.

Walnut street in the Newtonville area presented a sorry picture with many beautiful trees uprooted, particularly near the High School, wires were down and one or two stores in the business section were demolished.

The street department crew was on the job early and labored hard and efficiently to make streets passable and clear away the accumulated debris.

The same conditions prevailed in Newton Highlands, Oak Hill and Newton Centre and no area of the city appeared to be spared. Fortunately, no loss of life or severe injuries were reported to the time this article was written.

No official estimate has been made of the total damage sustained throughout the city but a superficial inspection of the city would indicate that it might well run in excess of a million dollars for many homes suffered roof damage, some complete while others minor. The tower of radio station WYOM in Oak Hill toppled and scores of chimneys were damaged or weakened, all of which will cause considerable expense to owners of property.

To some observers the hurricane Tuesday surpassed the intensity of the 1933 hurricane which, like this one, came on with suddenness and which was not expected to strike here although it had been moving up the coast slowly for the past few days. It apparently veered inland on a moment's notice and caught everyone by surprise.

As the intensity of the storm increased and as radio reports gave last minute warnings, many business establishments

Major Brenner Is Candidate for County Comm'r

Major Ernest Brenner of 49 Dartmouth street, Somerville, an Assistant Attorney General during the administration of four governors, and a former chairman of the Somerville Planning Board, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner of Middlesex County, it was announced recently by a county-wide organization headed by Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton, working in his interest. The absence of Major Brenner, who is temporarily serving with the U. S. Marine Corps, has not lessened the enthusiasm of his many friends and boosters who are actively campaigning in his behalf.

A native of Somerville, Brenner received his education in the Somerville public schools, N. E. University Law School, M. I. T., and Washington & Lee University. He has been a practicing attorney for seventeen years, is a member of the Mass. and Federal Bars, and has been admitted to the practice as an attorney before the U. S. Treasury Dept.

Major Brenner has a brilliant military record in the U. S. Marine Corps where he rose from private to major, and is a decorated veteran of the Pacific battles, World War 2, and the Korean Conflict. Prior to his recall to active duty with the U. S. Marine Corps during the Korean Conflict, Major Brenner was a member of the Somerville Chamber of Commerce; the Mass. Federation of Planning Boards; the Mass. Advisory Committee on Juvenile Reading; the Chairman of the Republican Ward Committee; a member and former chairman of the Somerville Planning Board for five years, and has been Assistant Attorney General for nine years.

Miss Elinor Grossman Hellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Hellman, 93 Clements road, recently completed the summer course at the Academie Moderne of Boston. As part of the commencement exercises, the group presented a fashion extravaganza, a modern dance piece, and a television commercial reading.

Occasionally there are some employees who do not accept the fact that they have diabetes and do not accept the personal responsibility necessary to keep it under control. Usually those employees have a poor work record to begin with. It is these persons who create the prejudices that certain business men may have against employing a worker with diabetes. Often to compensate for these prejudices the stable worker's record will improve after he has been found to have diabetes. This type of worker becomes more alert to the importance of a well balanced diet, to symptoms of colds or other ailments that may exaggerate his diabetes, consequently his general health improves and he has less time lost from the job.

The health program in many industries help in the prevention of diabetes by giving advice in weight control. Keeping body weight within the normal limits is especially important for persons who may have some inherited traits or tendencies toward diabetes. The industrial counselor can be helpful in guiding the older employee toward plans for retirement years. The development of hobbies, particularly with some monetary return, can give great pleasure and satisfaction after the employee retires from the job. Hobbies are especially important for the person with diabetes who is past retirement age, for when work interests are removed there may be a tendency for anxiety or preoccupation with their diabetes which only tends to add to the severity of the diabetic state.

AUBURDALE STEWARDESS. When a Northeast Airline DC-3 made a pancake landing last Friday night in Augusta, Me., Miss Claire McHugh of 54 Windermere road, Auburndale, stewardess, was among those on the plane. Both Miss McHugh and Capt. Neuhauser were commended for doing an "excellent job" during the emergency.

CAN'T WAIT FOR SCHOOL TO OPEN. Two 13-year-old girls who climbed to a third floor balcony of the Newton High School, were stranded for half an hour last Friday until police obtained a key to the building and assisted them out through a window. No doubt about it, the girls probably wanted to select their seats for the coming school year.

60 M.P.H. CHASE. A 60-mile-per-hour chase through side streets in Newton Corner ended in a crash of two cars in which the fleeing auto tipped over on its top last Friday night. The driver of the fleeing car was arraigned in Newton District Court on complaints of operating to endanger, operating while under the influence of liquor and drunkenness, while two male companions were held for drunkenness. Released in $325 bail on three complaints was Ronald Doherty, 18, of 18 Fayette street, Newton, while $25 was set on drunkenness complaints against George Murphy 18, of 10A West street, and Edward Wilson, 18, 40 Oakland street, Newton. Judge James E. Luby continued the cases until Sept. 7.

BACK IN JAIL. A Newton convict is back in jail, 20 months after he escaped from a Danbury, Conn., federal prison. He is James R. Knowles, 32, of Floral place, Newton Highlands. He escaped from the federal correctional institution in Danbury, Conn., after serving eight months of a year and a day sentence imposed in Oregon in 1952.

RETIRE AFTER 32 YEARS. William Elwood, 64, of 50 Carleton street, Newton, is one of 14 World War I veterans whose retirement papers were signed by Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston, last week. He had worked for the city for nearly 32 years.

DEFENDANT FREED ON ALL COUNTS. Rodney L. Horton, 22, of 41 Magnolia avenue, Cambridge, was found innocent of five complaints, brought after his car struck a traffic signal light in Newton Centre early last month by Judge W. Lloyd Allen in Newton District Court last Friday. He was found innocent of complaints of drunkenness, operating while under the influence of liquor, operating without a license in his possession, failing to obey a traffic signal and leaving the scene of an accident after causing property damage. Mr. Horton asserted that he was unaware that a traffic light had been struck but that he thought he hit the curb.

$1,000 AWARD. Philip J. Schlueter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Schlueter of 114 Greenlawn avenue, Newton Centre, is one of 10 Massachusetts boys who have won $1,000 scholarships to Lowell Technological Institute.

NEW SUPER MARKET. First National Stores has begun construction of a giant supermarket at Washington and Crafts streets, Newtonville. The $150,000 project is expected to take six months to construct. The building will have 12,000 square feet of space on the main floor and also in the basement. It will be air-conditioned and probably will employ about 75 persons.

KEPT HIM POSTED

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I am a resident of Newton Center, now serving with the Armed Forces in France, and I have been receiving copies of your paper ever since I first arrived here, almost a year ago. My two years of Military service are almost over, and I would like to inform you to discontinue sending me your paper as I will be out soon. Being away from home and receiving your paper, has played a big part on my moral. Your paper has been to me a touch of home away from home. As a civilian, I will continue to purchase your paper as I have done in the past. I want to thank you for keeping me posted with the latest happenings around our communities and also your generosity in sending me this paper.

Timely Advice

With schools soon to open, the State Department of Public Health has some timely advice for the parents, especially those whose children are going to school for the first time. Mothers and fathers are urged to take the following steps:

1. Make sure that your children are in good physical shape. Are they fully protected against diseases like diphtheria, whooping cough, and lockjaw? Now is the time for a complete physical checkup by the doctor and the dentist.

2. Have the youngsters been trained in avoiding traffic accidents? It would be a good idea to walk to school with them beforehand, showing them how to cross streets safely, watch the lights, and take no chances with speeding or careless motorists. On the country roads, they should be taught to walk on the left side, facing traffic.

3. When school begins, see to it from the start that the children get up early enough to avoid rushing breakfast and the trip to school—and no staying up late the night before. This is important for both health and safety. A leisurely and nourishing breakfast is a "must" for the school child. Rushing to school increases the risk of getting hurt and puts the youngster in the wrong frame of mind for his morning's work.

4. Lunches are important, too. If the school does not provide a substantial meal, put up one for the child to take with him. It should be well balanced and should include milk.

5. Teach the kindergarteners independence—how to put on their own coats and rubbers and take care of themselves in other ways.

6. Prepare the children for group contacts and for getting along with other children.

7. Remember that health and safety, like charity, begin at home.

On Labor's Day

This Labor Day, history will record that America's industrial employees have achieved the world's highest standard of living, along with the highest records of productivity, income and benefits.

Thanks in large measure to industry's constantly improving techniques and equipment, the average industrial employee of today can produce more in 40 hours than his father of a generation ago produced in 60 hours. He is able to produce five times as much as 100 years ago—and therefore to have five times as much—with one-third the human effort.

This is the essence of human progress, and history has not witnessed its equal in the recorded annals of man.

Political Overtones

A landslide victory for the G.O.P. in Maine would cause the Republican high command in Washington to breathe a little easier in mapping its plans for the coming campaign. Small Republican pluralities in the Pine Tree State will mean that the storm signals are up for the G.O.P.

That the Republican leaders realize the Maine returns will have a political impact upon the entire nation is reflected by the fact that Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, who has been vacationing in Maine, was persuaded to step out of his Ogunquit retreat and plunge into the fight.

A great many Massachusetts politicians would like to know what method their Maine State cousins use to arouse public interest in their campaigning.

The Maine election occurs one day before the Bay State primary. Yet, all the reports indicate that voter interest is nearing a height in the rugged land of the Pine Tree, while here in Massachusetts the office-seekers are still striving to break through a public lethargy.

Politicians ordinarily realize that it is virtually impossible to attract the attention of many voters to their campaigns until after Labor Day brings an end to the summer vacation season.

Because the primary this year comes so soon after Labor Day, the office-seekers have been doing their utmost to press their bids in the face of the handicaps confronting them.

The big political drive for primary day will start next Tuesday, just one week before the voters go to the polls to nominate Democratic and Republican candidates for State, national and county offices.

On a State-wide level major interest will centre on the outcome of the primary fights for the Democratic nominations for Governor and U. S. Senator.

The candidates chosen at the Democratic State Convention for the two top places on the Democratic State ticket are both being vigorously challenged. Should either of them be defeated, it is likely that the Democratic party in Massachusetts will abandon the idea of holding State conventions.

Representative Robert F. Murphy of Malden, endorsed by the Democratic convention after a hard battle, is being opposed by former Attorney General Francis E. Kelly.

Their contest has been an unusual one. Up to the time that this is written neither Murphy nor Kelly has spoken a harsh word against the other. Each has concentrated on building his own strength.

Murphy's strategy is understandable. He is the favorite on the basis of his endorsement by the State Convention. He is striving to avoid any knock-down battle that might leave wounds and scars.

Kelly is pinning his campaign to the theory that many Democrats may resent the idea of having their candidates hand-picked by the delegates to a convention.

It was Kelly who led a successful fight 17 years ago to outlaw the convention system of endorsing candidates. Turned down by the 1936 State convention, Kelly defeated Congressman Philip J. Philbin for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor and then nosed out Leverett Saltonstall in a terrific upset.

Kelly sponsored a bill in 1937 to repeal the law authorizing pre-primary State conventions, and his measure was adopted. There was no attempt to restore that law to the statute books until after the Republicans suffered their crushing defeat in 1950. Ironically, Representative Murphy was among those who fought the Republican move to revive the pre-primary convention.

Murphy has the support of the Democratic State Committee and ex-Governor Paul A. Dever. Kelly, who is waging his 10th successive primary campaign, has built up a big personal following in that 18-year span and is banking heavily on it.

It should be interesting to watch the strategy of Murphy and Kelly in the final week of their campaign.

State Treasurer Foster Furcolo, endorsed for U. S. Senator at the Democratic State Convention, is in a three-cornered conflict with former State Senator Joseph L. Murphy of Dorchester and former City Councillor John I. Fitzgerald of the West End.

Murphy and Fitzgerald both are hoping to pull the Greater Boston vote away from Furcolo, who is best known in the Springfield area which he represented in Congress before ex-Governor Dever persuaded him to accept an appointment as State Treasurer.

Furcolo would be in more serious danger of defeat if he were in a two-man battle with either Murphy or Fitzgerald. The fact that he has two Boston candidates in the field against him should react to his advantage. Murphy, however, is a potentially formidable candidate who may reap some benefits from the campaign of his namesake, Representative Robert F. Murphy.

The only other fight for a place on the Democratic State ticket finds Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley of Norwood, who was endorsed for State Treasurer by the Democratic State Committee, striving to battle off a challenge by School Committeeman William F. Carr of South Boston and John F. Kennedy of Canton.

Carr is one of the few Democrats who sought a nomination at the Democratic State Convention and then refused to abide by its decision. Because he is the only Boston candidate in the contest, he may give Riley a hard race for the nomination.

Kennedy's principal claim to political fame is that he has the same name as the junior U. S. Senator from Massachusetts. The members of the Republican State ticket are all unopposed in the September 14 primary and can afford to sit back in leisurely fashion for the present and watch the political parade pass by.

But it will be do or die for a number of Democrats during the next 12 days.

The law, which would deprive some veterans holding public jobs of their pension rights, demonstrates once again the danger of rushing through a bill when the State Legislature is hurrying to conclude its business and prorogue.

Conversations with a number of legislators disclose clearly that they did not realize the full scope of the bill on which they were voting or that it would strip any ex-servicemen of their pension privileges.

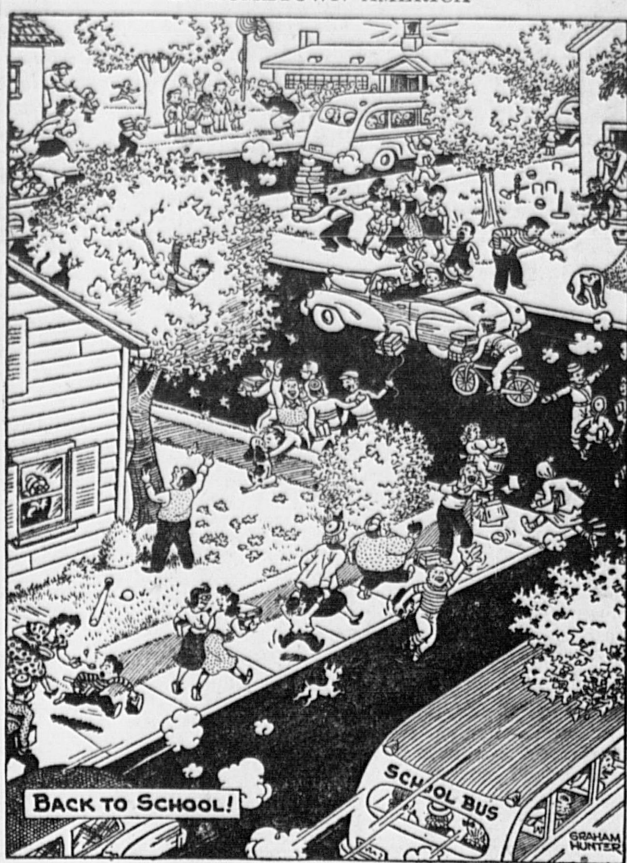

The fact is that they thought they were merely passing a bill which would extend certain rights to veterans of the Korean fighting.

Fair minded Governor Herter can be depended upon to undo any harm that may have been done by the adoption of the measure, but this is another illustration of the folly of enacting important legislation in the closing rush of prorogation.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

A labor union has arranged to lend $250,000 to a hat manufacturing concern which has factories in Massachusetts and New York so that it may continue operations. The loan is being made in order to preserve the jobs of 1500 workers. As part of the unusual agreement, each employee will personally make a $200 loan, even if he has to go out and borrow the money from a bank.

Members of the Hebrew School Staff are: Carl Cohen, Miss Marilyn Finkel, Mrs. Hannah Fisher, Irving Karel, Arthur Green, Mrs. Jules Kadish, Mrs. Ephraim Levin, Ephraim Levin, Sidney Perlow, Mrs. Leonard Safen, Lee Tarutz, Maurice Liberman. The Sunday School teachers are Bernard Prim, Mayer Rubenstein, Hyman Zinn, Elliot Gold, Mrs. Arnold Band, Miss Ann Hochberg, Sigmund Hellmann, Mrs. Fay Kay, David Meyers, Mrs. Norman Rosenberg, Louis Siegel. The Nursery School teachers are: Mrs. Judah Gribetz and Mrs. Jonas Greenfield.

Prime yourself for the future while you are in your prime.

Begonia Show to Be Held Sept. 11

Exotic begonias, native to Africa, India, China, and many out of way corners of the world, will be on display at the Fall Begonia Show. Because these beautiful, shade-loving, easy-to-grow plants make ideal house plants, Begonias in a home setting will be the theme of the show which will be sponsored by the New England Branch of the American Begonia Society, Sept. 11 at the Workshop of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club in Newton Highlands.

Besides the main display there will be many individual exhibits. In addition to the usual prizes trophies will be awarded to the best begonia in the show, and the Bessie Buxton Cup for the best begonia grown entirely in the home without benefit of greenhouse. Mr. Vincent I. Mason is show chairman. Mrs. Frederick Kingsbury will stage the exhibit.

Others working on the various committees are: Mrs. H. A. Sheen, judges; Mrs. Lester H. Fox, entry; Mrs. George Greenlaw, classification; Mrs. Charles Allen, plant sales; Mrs. Charles Dennison, admission and guest book; Mrs. John Van der Meer, refreshments; Mrs. Vincent I. Mason, publicity.

The man without courage is the easiest to discourage.

In some circles the balance of power is a bank balance.

One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.—(Ephesians 4, 6.)

Whatever be our individual concept of God, the Bible's statement that He is within each one of us when we, through cleansing ourselves of sin, open the doors of our souls, is a blessed assurance. In the knowledge of His presence within us is peace, and strength.

4 Important Reasons why you should buy a PONTIAC RIGHT NOW!

1 Pontiac is One of the Greatest Cars Ever Built!

Match today's Pontiac with America's finest cars and you'll get a dramatic picture of Pontiac value. First of all, Pontiac is big—bigger, in fact, than many cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Pontiac is beautiful—with its distinctive Silver Streak styling. Inside, you'll find genuine fine-car luxury and appointments—along with the roominess and comfort that come only with a long wheelbase. But the big surprise comes when you test Pontiac's performance. See how alert it is to every demand in traffic, how it handles and corners almost without effort, how it takes to the open road with plenty of power to spare and saves money every mile.

HUGO PONTIAC, Inc.

714 Beacon Street, Newton Centre

2 Pontiac has the Best Resale Value in its Price Class!

Along with all its fine-car size, luxury and performance, Pontiac has a very special attribute no car at any price can beat—its unsurpassed reputation for year-in, year-out dependability. Pontiac's carefree, economical long life and its proved record of amazingly low maintenance expense are so widely known and acknowledged that it commands the highest resale value in its price class. Because Pontiac is America's most desirable used car, your original investment comes back in greater measure when you trade, making ownership cost even lower.

3 Pontiac is Priced Just Above the Lowest!

After you've convinced yourself of Pontiac's value, after you've considered all the good things you've heard about its dependability—see and compare it dollar-wise. Despite the fact it's a fine car in every sense of the term, it's priced so near the lowest that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac.

4 We'll Make You a Deal You Can't Afford to Miss!

Right now we're making such liberal trade-in allowances that you just can't afford to pass up the greatest opportunity you ever had to become a fine-car owner. Come in and get the facts.

Miss Persis E. Gleason Is Wed To Mr. William Laverack

At a 4 o'clock candlelight ceremony in Grace Church, Newton, Saturday afternoon, Miss Persis Elizabeth Gleason became the bride of Mr. William Laverack, son of Mrs. William H. Laverack, of Boston. The Rev. Francis A. Caswell officiated, and a reception followed in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Gleason of Newton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style gown of antique ivory faille taffeta. The low round neckline was finished with a bertha of heirloom Duchess lace and the full skirt terminated in a circular train. Her heirloom lace veil was arranged cap fashion and caught up on either side with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies, lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis.

Mrs. Edward C. Edwards (Noel Gay Gleason) of Newton was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Jane T. Catlett of Richmond, Va.; Miss Susan Savage of Morristown, N. J.; and Mrs. William S. Stout of Loudonville, N. Y. They wore yellow Pakistan shantung with tiny matching hats and carried bouquets of daisy pompon chrysanthemums shading yellow to bronze, with blending Croton leaves. Miss Anne M. Vermillion of Newport, R. I., was an honorary attendant.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gleason wore mauve and green changeable taffeta with a small flowered hat and a corsage of odontoglossum orchids. Mrs. Laverack, the bridegroom's mother, wore navy blue crepe with a navy velvet hat and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. John W. Laverack of Sherborn was his brother's best man. The ushers included Mr. Edward S. Gleason and Mr. Edward C. Edwards of Newton; Mr. Fletcher C. Chamberlain of Sherborn; Mr. Theodore C. Janeway of Greenwich, Conn.; Mr. Douglas K. Fleming of Seattle, Wash.; and Mr. H. Peters Burr of Hastings, N. Y.

The bride was graduated from the Winsor School and from Vassar College. She made her debut in the 1945-46 season and is a member of the Junior League. The bridegroom prepared at the Loomis School for Harvard University, where he was a member of the D. U. Club and the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1970. They will live in New York City, where Mr. Laverack is principal of the Collegiate School.

Miss Patricia Burns, Mr. John Reichheld Married Saturday

In the Sacred Heart Church Saturday morning at an 11 o'clock nuptial mass, Miss Patricia Burns, daughter of Mr. Thomas H. Burns of Newton Highlands and Falmouth, became the bride of Mr. John Reichheld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manfred A. Reichheld of West Newton and Falmouth Heights.

The Rev. George Sullivan officiated at the ceremony, and a reception followed at the Dorothy Quincy Suite of John Hancock Hall, Boston.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Robert J. Burns, the bride wore a white taffeta gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice and short sleeves and lace bands across the full nylon tulle skirt which ended in a chapel train. Her matching tulle veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Prendergast, wore a coral nylon chiffon ballerina gown. Identically gowned in lighter coral gowns, the bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Reichheld of West Newton, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Robert Reichheld of Natick, a sister-in-law; Miss Nancy Quinn of Cambridge and Miss Joanne Hynes of Watertown. They wore matching headresses and shoes and carried cascades of pink and coral gladioli centering gladioli.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Burns wore a pale blue lace trimmed silk dress, corsage accessories and a white orchid. Mrs. Reichheld, mother of the bridegroom wore iridescent blue taffeta, blue velvet accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. Robert Reichheld of Natick, was best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Eugene Freedy of Wellesley, Mr. Edward Cauley of Brookline, Mr. Jack Sullivan of West Roxbury and Mr. William Foran of West Newton.

The bride was graduated from Regis College in 1952. The bridegroom was graduated from Boston College in 1953 and is now attending Tufts Dental School. After a wedding trip to the Pocono mountains and Canada, they will live in West Newton.

Miss Marie Astone Is Bride of Mr. Charles J. Passanisi

Gladioli banked the altar of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, for the 11 a. m. Nuptial Mass and marriage ceremony which united Miss Marie Astone, daughter of Mrs. Frank Astone, of 24 Smith avenue, West Newton, and Mr. Charles Joseph Passanisi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Passanisi, of 62 Bailey road, Somerville, Saturday, August 21.

Rev. Daniel Quinn performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Joseph Astone. A reception followed at Robin Hood's Ten Acres in Wayland. Serving as best man was Mr. John Passanisi of Somerville, with Miss Camella Astone, sister of the bride, as maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Miss Leona and Miss Claire Astone, also sisters of the bride, and Miss Rose Passanisi of Somerville, sister of the bridegroom.

The ushers were Mr. Anthony Marino of Somerville, Mr. Robert Denaro of Belmont, and Mr. John Rossetti of Methuen. Mr. Leo Grange was the soloist.

The bride wore a gown of ecru paper taffeta, princess style, fashioned with a train and inserts of lace and beads. A beaded crown held her fingertip ecru veil, and she carried white orchids on a prayer book.

The maid of honor wore yellow silk and a matching picture hat and carried yellow roses on a prayer book. The bridesmaids wore blue silk and picture hats and carried yellow roses on prayer books, with yellow streamers.

The bride's mother wore a flower print of brown, tangerine and white chiffon. The bridegroom's mother chose blue lace and crepe. An orchestra provided the music at the reception.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Canada and Vermont, the couple will be at home September 7.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School and Burdett College. The bridegroom, who is employed as an accountant by Stop and Shop, graduated from Somerville High School and Burdett College, and will begin further studies at Northeastern University the end of this month.

First Baptist Church Setting For Stoops-Jones Nuptials

Last Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, Miss Anne Kathleen Jones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chester M. Jones of West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Ward Robert Stoops, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Stoops of Nappanee, Ind. The Rev. Russell H. Bishop officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with an heirloom lace yolk, a fitted bodice and a court train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a satin cap edged with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of chrysanthemums, stephanotis and ivy.

As matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Sam L. Clark of St. Louis, Mo., wore a ballerina gown of pale green silk and carried a basket of white, gold and russet chrysanthemums and ivy, which matched the wreath in her hair. Gowned like the maid of honor, the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert H. Jones of Brookline, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Norma C. Hagman of Winthrop. Judy N. Stoops of Nappanee, Ind., was flower girl.

Dr. Svein U. Toverud of Oslo, Norway, was the best man, and the ushers were Dr. Robert H. Jones and Mr. Leon C. Edwards of Brookline; Mr. David W. Stoops of Nappanee, Ind., and Mr. Oscar Iseri of Ontario, Ore.

The bride was graduated in 1952 from Wheaton College and her husband was graduated the same year from Antioch College in Ohio, and is attending the Harvard school of Dental Medicine. Following a wedding trip to New Hampshire and Maine, they will live in Brookline.

Mr. Allen G. Brailey Weds Miss Suzanne McCausland of Lexington

The altar of the Church of Our Redeemer, Lexington, was decorated with cibotium ferns and arrangements of snapdragons, asters and gladioli when Miss Suzanne McCausland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Beekwith McCausland of Lexington, became the bride Saturday afternoon of Mr. Allen Gilbert Brailey, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Gilbert Brailey of Newton Highlands. The Rev. Harold T. Handley officiated at the three o'clock ceremony and a reception followed.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle over blush pink taffeta. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline edged with seed pearls and sequin applique. The draped skirt was fashioned with the same applique and her fingertip veil was caught to a crown of illusion trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a Bible with white phalaenopsis orchids entwined with ivy and a shower of stephanotis.

Mrs. David W. Emmons of Kennebunk, Maine, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Wilber R. Hyatt, another sister, of Lexington; Mrs. G. Heald of Sherrord of Framingham; and Miss Mary Lou Vincent of Melrose. They all wore gowns of mauve silk organza over rose taffeta with matching head-dresses. Their cascade bouquets combined single asters, shading from pink to purple entwined with ivy. Susan Hyatt of Lexington, niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. She was gowned in a paler shade of silk organza and wore a coronet of chrysanthemums and asters.

The bride's mother chose dusty-rose chiffon and lace for her daughter's wedding, with a small matching velvet hat and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Brailey, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in hyacinth blue taffeta and a small blue hat. She also wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mr. William D. Dunbar of East Greenwich, R. I., was the best man and the ushers were Mr. James E. Burris, Jr., of Newton Highlands, Mr. Elton B. McCausland Jr., of Lexington, and Dr. Arnold F. Garrard, of Lynnfield.

Mrs. Brailey is a graduate of the Jackson-von Ladau School of Fashion and her husband, who was graduated from Amherst College, is now attending Boston University School of Medicine. He is a member of Chi Phi fraternity. They plan to live in Boston.

Miss Helen Baker Bride of Mr. John E. Valante of Quincy

Miss Helen Mary Baker, of white carnations and stephanotis.
Miss Barbara A. Baker, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore an orchid gown of antique taffeta and a matching bolero and lace hat. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Newton of Quincy and Miss Kathleen Valante, sister of the bridegroom, wore yellow antique taffeta gowns with yellow boleros and hats and carried a cascade of pink and white carnations.

The flower girl, Miss Alice McLaughlin, cousin of the bride, wore an orchid antique taffeta dress and carried a cascade of yellow carnations. The bride's mother wore an aqua lace gown with pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace gown.

Mr. Joseph Valante Jr. of Quincy was best man for his brother, and Mr. Albert Ryan of Hingham, cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. Thomas Dowling of Wollaston, cousin of the bridegroom; and Mr. Richard Valante, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers. Mrs. Rose McEvoy sang at the ceremony and an orchestra played for the reception.

After a trip to Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, the couple will live at 19 Oval road, Quincy. Before he went in the service, the bridegroom completed a year at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and will study there again this fall. He served three years in the Army, spending 18 months of that time in Germany. The bride graduated from Newton High School in 1952.

Her sister, Miss Joyce Malcolm, will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Angela Panzera of Maynard, Betty Shields of Dorchester, and Rose Marie Panzara and Mary McCue, both of West Newton. The little blue and white umbrellas were made by the bridesmaids.

The second shower was given the bride-elect by her fellow employees at the downtown Boston telephone exchange. About 50 workers showered her with gifts. A feature of this shower was a cake decorated with figurine of a bride.

FALL TERM STARTS SEPTEMBER 7th
TEN LECTURES FOR ADULTS
 By Charles Moulton on How to Listen More Intelligently To Music - At Our Needham Studios
 This course will explain:
 How a musician listens to music.
 Why popular music may be appreciated immediately, while a great masterpiece makes no such instant appeal.
 What is meant by expression in music.
 What makes a good interpretation.
 What is the common background and similarity of all arts.
 Why some music seems difficult to understand.
 Has music a special meaning or does it only express itself.
 Two types of listeners.

Demand For Petroleum Energy Grows as Economy Expands
 Twenty five years ago, crude petroleum and natural gas supplied less than one-third of the energy needs of the United States. By 1953, oil and gas furnished almost two-thirds of our energy requirements. The demand for petroleum energy continues upward as our economy expands.

Oil Warm Air Furnace Standards Announced By Dep't. of Comm.

Meets Request of National Warm Air and Air Conditioning Association for Industry Guide

Establishment of a Commercial Standard for Warm Air Furnaces Equipped with Pressure Atomizing or Rotary Type Oil Burners was announced by the U. S. Department of Commerce. It is a voluntary standard of the industry and is identified as CS195-54.

The National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association, sponsoring organization, requested establishment of the Commercial Standard. The original specification, based on research work at the University of Illinois, was submitted by the Federal Housing Administration.

That specification has been adjusted at several meetings of the industry to meet the desires of the majority, and has been endorsed by furnace and oil burner manufacturers, distributors, installers, testing laboratories, architects, and consumer organizations.

It provides a guide for the oil burning furnace industry, and a basis for certification of the quality and performance of warm air furnaces equipped with pressure atomizing or rotary type oil burners.

The Commercial Standard was effective September 1, 1954. Mimeographed copies of TS-5169A may be obtained by addressing a request to H. A. Bonnet, Commodity Standards Division, Office of Technical Services, U. S. Dept. of Commerce, Washington 25, D.C.

Nine out of 10 bituminous coal mines in the U. S. have no fatal accidents during the course of a year.

What Shall We Eat... Feeding A Crowd Is Fun

"Outdoor supper for our family reunion must be an easy-to-serve meal," says the smartest hostess we know. "Experience taught us to cook ahead as much as we can, and watch for comfort for everybody when we eat."

"What's your idea of comfort? Outdoor suppers are meant to be simple," we led on.

"Have tables and chairs for the seniors and pillows for folks who sit on the ground. Fasten down table coverings against wind, use your favorite spray against mosquitos. Furnish plenty of paper napkins, cups for milk for everybody, salt and pepper shakers, and of course paper plates and forks."

"Forks only? And how do you make serving a crowd go smoothly?"

"You need a knife for shish kabobs, steak, or barbecued chicken. But many good meals need only a fork. And there are many good desserts to be eaten from the fingers. For smooth running serving, I study the menu and plan the order of the serving dishes around the barbecue pit, fireplace, or serving table, where people will help themselves."

"Do too many cooks spoil the broth at your large family parties?"

"Not if they work in shifts. Let one cook make dishes that can be completed the day before the meal, such as sandwiches or cake. Another cook can fix food that can be begun the day before and finished on the day of the meal, such as a baked casserole."

A third person cooks food which must be done on the day of the meal, such as barbecued meat and tossed salad. But let each cook finish what she starts, even though it means working on both days."

She also warned to keep cold foods cold. Keep milk in large thermos bottles or the refrigerator. Don't let salads with dressing, creamy dishes or desserts stand at room temperature; they spoil easily in hot weather.

"One last question; how do you know how much to buy?"

Here are some guides for food shopping to serve a crowd of fifty people.

1954 College Fashions Are Geared to Easy Living; Casual

A life of ease is a life of fashion this fall in clothes that go back to college. Ease of fit is a big part of the picture, in bloused silhouettes or in middy silhouettes, both of Paris origin. These are fashions which are easy to get in and out of, with their just-tossed-on casual look (studied though it may actually be), demanding a minimum of fuss and care.

In summarizing the significant trends in this year's college fashions, Women's Wear Daily notes that ease of fabric is emphasized in softly draping jerseys, in tweeds and in knits. Knits, particularly, are an important component of ease this year. Easy to take care of and easy to pack, they are softly bloused and draped, treated to big collars and tweed fabrics.

The suit for dressier wear, the rugged tweed coat, the easy-to-live-in knit dress that's an elongated sweater, the convertible pocketbooks of the young college girls.

BIG SWEATER JOB
Sweaters have been specifically dyed to pick up colors of fall tweeds, say the Women's Wear Daily fashion experts. The white trimmings, white edgings and intricate designs of new sweaters are especially beamed at more coordination. They are meant to go with the whitened look in gray fabrics and white "frosted" surface hairs in tweeds.

SKIRTS ARE REBORN
Separate skirts are in a new guise. They're detailed in a way which lifts them out of the strictly classic, in a way which attributes the potential of a one-piece look when coordinated with the proper blouse or sweater.

BLAZERS, SHIRTS WITH GIRLISH CHARMS
Fashions that were borrowed from the boys last year are still standing the girls in good stead for fall, with the inevitable "dolling up."

Blazers and skirts are in for another big season. Skirts have more soft individual detail, some of them lifted directly from men's fashions like the button-on evening tie. Blazers continue as top-notch fashion for campus and sports activities.

MAD JACKETS
Even classic jackets this fall have lost their heads. They appear in the strangest, unclassic fabrics and trimmings to make you sit up and take notice. The short boxy jacket can be sheepskin or a shaggy alpaca. It can be tweed with deep breast pockets and alpaca lining. The classic blazer is striped, such as Roman striped black, orange, gold and turquoise corduroy, for example. Or, it can be striped tweed. The blazer in suede has a cape-skin piping around the pockets. Or, if it's printed burlap, it has incongruous velvet collar and piping.

ALL-PURPOSE HACK COAT
The abbreviated hack coat emerges as the newest all-purpose winter coat for college wear, according to Women's Wear Daily's analysis of back-to-college fashions. Pile linings, provide extra warmth for this sturdy coat fashion, in lengths that are right for trousers as well as for skirts. Corduroy, felt and leather are some of the many fabrics for these short coats.

IMPORTANCE OF LEATHER
Sports car living, the importance of tweed, the emphasis on easy, casual lines are only a few of the reasons leather will be important this fall for the college girl. Leather themes include: Tweed with capeskin as the lining of a reversible coat; tweed collar, cuffs and piping, matched to capeskin or suede jacket; tweed suits with leather collar and cuffs or yoke. They go together like ham and eggs.

The shirt look, featuring cuffed sleeves, vent sides, shirt detailing, in short leather jackets makes them practical for active sports, giving freedom of action for bicycling on campus, riding, golfing or hiking.

PANTS CRAZY
Women's Wear Daily editors find that Bermuda length is about the hottest length going in collegiate sports clothes for fall. Whether shorts, or kiltly shorts, or skirts, this length seems to flatter most women. It is being shown more extensively for fall than it was for summer.

Pants have gone sissified this fall. Conversely, they also take on a boyish look. The feminine look takes in such details as the printed ruffle under calf-length pants to resemble 18th Century pantaloons; rosebud printed velvet for tapered pants or Bermuda shorts; the soft look of all-over Schiffl embroidery on corduroy.

MORE SOPHISTICATION
A full quorum of new fashion ideas come in the important date dress that bids for college girls' acceptance. Princess and Empire silhouettes, "petticoat" fullness or back fullness with slim-line front, the covered-up look and young scoops or sophisticated drape décolletages—these are significant style points for the dresses that play such a special role in a young girl's life. These in many different fabrics, too, and full ranges of colors with "the silk look" and new autumn tones common denominators.

CHOICE IN COATS
Urbane, yet practical for any occasion, describes a good portion of coats at popular prices, with appeal for the college girl. Black, brown or gray are likely for a colorful wardrobe of separates or date clothes. Cut fleeces, chalk stripe flannels and camel's hair figure prominently in coats reflecting softness and prettiness.

The Town of Franklin, Mass., recently installed twenty-two 11,000 lumen mercury vapor street lights to pep up the business district. John Young of the New England Power Service Company worked with the local utility and the town fathers in working out details for the new installation.

Tie-Tours of Europe

Modern DENMARK is justly renowned in the field of contemporary design. From costly hand-executed works to inexpensive articles for everyday use, her mature and highly cultured arts and crafts make the country a shopper's paradise.

Americans visiting EUROPE may now buy $500 worth of merchandise for personal use or as gifts and bring it back to the U.S. duty-free. Since this exemption may soon be increased to $1000, it is suggested that you keep in touch with your Travel Agent for final details.

In PORTUGAL, the historic town of Evora is a tourist's delight with all sorts of things dating back to the old Roman civilization. The imposing ruins of the second century "Temple of Diana" are unique in the Iberian peninsula.

Complete Plans for Control of Traffic Over This Week-end

The Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee has announced that plans for the control and regulation of traffic on the Commonwealth's highways over the Labor Day Holiday weekend have been completed.
His Excellency, Governor Christian A. Herter, honorary Chairman and Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Rudolf F. King, Chairman of the Committee, today expressed personal concern over expected traffic conditions during the coming holidays.
"We have every reason to believe that all previous records of highway travel in Massachusetts will be surpassed during this 1954 Labor Day weekend and every possible precaution will be exercised to keep traffic accidents at a new low," said the Governor and the Registrar.
"This year's Labor Day weekend traffic volumes will exceed any experience yet encountered and will demand the full and complete cooperation of every motorist and pedestrian with the efforts of nearly 7,000 state, community, Metropolitan District, and Registry of Motor Vehicles enforcement officers engaged in the control and the regulation of traffic. All flagrant violations or complaints of a serious nature reported will be promptly dealt with and point assessments will be made according to point schedules now in use.
"Safety for every highway user can be a reality rather than a mere hope," said Registrar King. "It means that this sincere appeal must be given serious consideration by everyone. The Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee is doing its part planning a Labor Day weekend safety project, which if given the proper public support, will make our highways safer than ever before."
Other members of the Massachusetts Highway Committee are: Attorney General, George F. Ingold; Commissioner of Insurance, Joseph A. Humphreys; Commissioner of Public Works, John A. Volpe; Commissioner of Public Safety, Otis M. Whitney; Commissioner of Education, John J. Desmond, Jr.; Chairman of the Youth Service Board, John D. Coughlin; Chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission, Charles W. Greenough; Commissioner of Mental Health, Jack R. Ewalt, MD; Chief of Police of Pittsfield, Thomas H. Calnan; President of the Worcester Safety Council, Howard W. Hindes; and Executive Secretary, Massachusetts Division, American Automobile Association, Robert S. Kretschmar.

Leading Role in "Stalag" 17 Former Newton Resident Has

A former Newton resident who has been scoring impressively in the acting profession has just advanced another rung on the popularity ladder. He is Stewart Bradley, known to his local friends and acquaintances as James Stewart, who has succeeded to the leading role in the hit comedy-melodrama, "Stalag 17" which is thrilling audiences this week at the Boston Summer Theatre in the New England Mutual Hall.
Three weeks ago, Bradley appeared for producer Lee Falk at the latter's Marblehead Summer Theatre in a lesser-known role in the same play, which has to do with G.I.'s in a Nazi prisoner-of-war camp. Falk, highly impressed with Bradley's performance, and, already familiar with his acting qualities (last year, Bradley had acquitted himself admirably in "Three Men On A Horse" in Framingham), signed the actor immediately for the play's top part. Good School Wardrobe Seen As Raising Boys' Self-Esteem

The beginning of school is the best time for parents to resolve to give their sons one of the best habits - that of good grooming. The habit itself helps a boy to be orderly in other things, and the good impression he makes with others bolsters his self-esteem.
The attitude parents hold toward a boy's new clothes for school is important in creating consciousness and respect for good dress. As everyone knows, occasional admiration is a great morale booster.
Parents will find that the new boy's clothes for fall give them the ammunition for a positive, encouraging attitude toward their son's new school clothes. For instance, charcoal grays, one of the handsome color groups for fall, are used in solid color fabrics for suits and as a background for wool tweed sports fabrics. And there would be little effort involved in telling a son that he looks well in a charcoal gray tweed sports coat. Grays Widely Used
The charcoal gray group ranges from the medium dark gray, used in worsted flannel suits, through a warm "elephant" gray used in sports coats and topcoats, to near-black solid color fabrics. Solid black itself is represented in basket weave or saxon wool sports coats. Worn with the traditional gray worsted flannel trousers, these are particularly suitable for brown- or black-haired boys. Contrary to the common belief, black heightens the wearer's coloring and the effect of the shirt and tie worn with it.
When it comes to forming the habit of attention to clothes, his father and elder brother are the strong influences on a younger boy. Mother is usually the day-to-day disciplinarian, but guidance and suggestion in clothes mean little unless they come from his father.
It's up to the man of the house to say when guests are coming that "most men wear a coat and tie when company is expected." Carefully worded advice will help the youngster to learn the proper dress for each occasion. And, of course, a little fatherly admiration is in order for a well-dressed boy.
"Admire His Attire"
Admiration will certainly be in order if his coat is one of the new gray tweeds. The major use of the gray group in fall outer coats is in textured wool tweed topcoats. Dark, warm-toned fabrics, solid black itself is represented in basket weave or saxon wool sports coats. Worn with the traditional gray worsted flannel trousers, these are particularly suitable for brown- or black-haired boys. Newton Children Win Awards at Camp Patoma

Among the 80 campers at Patoma (Day) Camp in Holiston from the Newtons this season, many received achievement awards. With more than 125 at camp earning Rer Cross swimming certificates, the following Newton boys were included: Beginner's Certificate went to David Peters, Auburndale; Fred Barnard, Newton; Gregory LaTucky, Newton Highlands; John Salzman, David Nixon, Fritz Norton, of West Newton; John Aliman, Billy Krell, Richard Price, Corey Steadman, Allan Singer of Wabban. Winners of both Beginner's and Intermediate Certificates were Richard Victor and William Allin, West Newton; Sam Chase and Roger Tishler, Waban. Other Intermediate Certificate recipients were Gerry Christmas, Billy Rutledge and David Wolfers, Waban. Samuel Appel of West Newton received the Swimmer's Certificate.

In the girls' camp the following received Red Cross Awards: Beginner's Certificate to Kathy Grow, Newton; Wendy-Jane LaTucky and Jill Morrissey, Newton Highlands; Marjorie Price, Waban. Anne Rutledge of Waban received the Swimmer's Certificate.

In Rifle and Archery the following won awards: Greg LaTucky received Pro-Marksmen as well as eleven awards in Archery leading to Sharpshooter; William Allin won a Pro-Marksmen, Marksman and Marksman, 1st Class and a series of Archery awards leading to Sharpshooter; Steven Roser, Waban, Pro-Marksmen; David Wolfers of Waban, Marksman 1st Class. Other archery awards went to Samuel Appel, Jr. Bowman; David Wolfers, Bowman, 1st class; Roger Tishler, Bowman; Billy Rutledge, Jr. Bowman; Sam Chase, Jr. Yeoman; James Casselman, Jr. Yeoman; Larry Sundin and Robert Knight, Jr. Yeoman; Lester Meyer, Jr. Bowman; John Salzman, Jr. Bowman, for the Girls' Camp. Anne Rutledge made Pro-Marksmen in rifle. In archery a Bowman award went to Anne Rutledge and Jill Morrissey received a Junior Yeoman award.

The Director of Camp Patoma, Thomas W. Leydon of Waban says that this has been the most successful, in every respect, of the camp's nineteen seasons.

Day Jr. H. S. Placement Tests Sept. 10

The Frank Ashley Day Junior High School will give placement tests here on Friday, September 10, at 9:00 a.m. This is for all new pupils, but does not apply to the seventh graders coming from our elementary schools. Make-up tests for incomplete marks or for pupils who have been tutored in a subject will also be given.

The school office will be open beginning Tuesday, September 7, through Thursday, September 9, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 m. for registration of new pupils and to issue transfers.

New pupils should register, and should bring transfer and report cards with them. Parents are urged to accompany children, whenever possible.

School opens Monday, September 13, at 8:45 a.m. for 7th grade pupils; at 1:00 p.m. for 8th and 9th grade pupils.

Final Race Week At Wonderland

Wonderland, the largest greyhound racing track in America, swings into its last week of racing. The 100 night meeting comes to a fitting climax next Saturday night with the 20th annual running of the famed Wonderland Derby.

This renowned feature has long been considered the Kentucky classic of greyhound racing and because it is, this blue ribbon event annually attracts the elite of the canine kingdom. The Derby this year will probably see what could easily be the race of the century, since Myron Haughn has nominated both of his sensational flyers, NO CURRENT and DANCING MAID for it. And since it is customary on all greyhound tracks to prohibit an owner to have two dogs in the same race, these two dogs have never had an opportunity to match their scintillating speed. However, in Stake events this rule is waived and conceivably Myron might well have both of these top flight performers survive the grueling semi-finals next Wednesday night and land two places in the Derby. If this should happen it will make for a real dream race and the best Derby that Wonderland has ever witnessed.

Injury In May Is Cause of Newton Officer's Death

The death of patrolman Frederick Bell at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Sunday, resulted from head injuries suffered in an automobile accident May 10, it was ruled Monday.

Dr. T. Morton Gallagher, medical examiner, said Bell suffered bruises of the brain and a brain concussion when his cruiser collided with a lumber truck while he was escorting an ambulance to a hospital last May.

The officer was the second member of his family to die from injuries received in the line of duty. His brother, Henry G. Bell, was one of two policemen shot to death by gangsters here August 22, 1937.

Patrolman Bell was stricken at his home Sunday and collapsed. He was rushed to the hospital and died shortly after arrival from unexplained causes.

Dr. Gallagher said Bell apparently suffered the injuries in the accident and died as a result of their failing to heal.

Police said the officer was involved in a collision at Watertown and Walnut streets on May 10. He was thrown from the cruiser but was not believed to be seriously injured.

At the time he was released from the hospital after treatment for what appeared to be minor injuries, police reported.

A native of Brighton, he was a graduate of Newton High School and served with the Air Force during World War II in the South Pacific. He joined the police force here in 1946 shortly after his discharge from the service.

He leaves a wife, the former Evelyn Carroll; a son, Charles; a daughter, Karen; three brothers, Frank and John of Newton, and William of Dorchester; and three sisters, Winifred of Newton, Mrs. Dorothy

X-ray Survey to Be Conducted Despite Storm

Mrs. Therese D'Abre, Health Educator for the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, has announced that, despite hurricane damage to the Association office, the free chest x-ray survey arranged for the 8th, 9th, and 10th of September will be held as planned. The mobile x-ray unit will be in the West Newton Square parking lot at the corner of Washington and Putnam streets. Any Newton resident over the age of 15 is eligible for a free chest x-ray. Following are the survey hours: Sept. 8, 12 to 8 p.m.; Sept. 9, 12 to 8 p.m.; Sept. 10, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Recovery Work Is Nearly Completed Throughout City

Tuesday noon marked the practically complete task of restoring house power and lights here as an army of 365 men worked through the holiday weekend on the damage wrought by the hurricane. An Edison Company official reported that nearly 100 per cent of the homes in Newton had power. In many cases, however, where the lights were not yet restored, householders were informed that "our representative reports that your electric service cannot be restored until your electrician makes the necessary repairs to the service pipe on the exterior of your home. Kindly call your electrician at once."

The repair crews were to be assigned to restoring street lights and to checking emergency repairs and continued work until 8 o'clock Tuesday night and then will be gradually sent back to their home stations, it was reported.

Business manager John J. Conery of the Newton Telephone office reported that at noon Tuesday, most of the customers here had their service restored. He expressed hope that isolated cases, where there is no service, will be taken care of soon.

Commissioner Harold F. Young of the Street Department stated that his staff has been augmented by about 75 trucks and 150 men. With most of the emergency work completed, the men will no longer be kept overtime but will continue the task of clearing the debris for the rest of the week.

Light Primary Vote Indicated Tuesday As Few Contests Loom

League of Women Voters to Aid at State Primary

September 14 is Primary Day in Massachusetts and the Newton League of Women Voters is doing its best to inform every Newton citizen about this important event.

Posters with details about the primary have already been sent to all Newton churches and libraries for their bulletin boards. Newton's motion picture theatres will exhibit a short movie trailer publicizing both registration for voters and Primary Day. Listen to radio station WCRB broadcasting from Waltham for spot announcements on voting information. And on September 14 a sound truck under the direction of Mrs. Irving Rabinowitz and Mrs. Leopold Beckwith of the Newton League will tour the streets of Newton reminding all voters to go to the polls.

The League of Women Voters of Newton feels that it is of the utmost importance that all eligible voters take advantage of their right to vote on Primary Day.

Hugh Harwood to Head Advanced Gifts Division

Hugh Harwood of Waban has been appointed Chairman of Advance Gifts Division in the Newton 1955 Red Feather Campaign, according to an announcement from Benjamin Shattuck, Newton Campaign Chairman. Mr. Harwood's father is a past president of the Newton Community Chest and also served in the capacity of Director, Chairman of the Budget Committee and Campaign Chairman.

Harwood is a member of the Board of Directors of the Newton Community Chest, served on the Budget Committee for four years, was Chairman of the Inter-Agency Cooperation Committee for the Newton Community Council, is a member of the Board of Directors of the Newton Y.M.C.A., and for many years has been active in the Red Feather Campaign.

Assisting Mr. Harwood in the campaign, to start next month, are F. Hopewell Underhill of Newtonville and Warren G. Reed as Assistant Division Chairmen; John K. Bottomley, Chairman for Auburn

"Jimmy Fund" Campaign Gets Under Way Saturday

The annual "Jimmy Fund" campaign to raise money for the Children's Cancer Research Foundation will start in Newton this Saturday, and will continue for two weeks, according to Paramount Theatre Manager Alex Castoldi, who is local chairman of the drive.

As in previous years, the Newton Police Department is co-operating in the drive, by distributing the familiar "baseball banks" to Newton business establishments under the direction of Police Chief Philip Purcell and Captain Charles E. Walker.

The "Jimmy Fund" has fostered research which marked the beginning of a new era in research and treatment of children with the so-called incurable cancer, and has made possible the development of the principal of total care for patients incurable cancer, with 220 youngsters at a time now being cared for. The "Jimmy Fund" has raised the standards of research of children with cancer the world over by passing on without charge to all doctors throughout the world any results of what is learned in the Children's Cancer Research Foundation immediately.

The research staff of the Foundation, under the direction of Dr. Sidney Farber, has made tremendous strides in the treatment and prevention of cancer. The "Jimmy Fund" makes it possible for any child to receive, without charge, in the outpatient clinic, all the necessary doctor's care, diagnostic and laboratory studies, and even the specialized and costly medicines which are used. More than 1400 children have been treated by the Foundation from all over the world, all races, all creeds. Not one penny has ever been charged to the parents of the children who receive treatment from the "Jimmy Fund."

Hot Dish Supper On September 15

The garden of Mrs. Warren B. Kennedy will be the setting for a hot dish supper for the members of the Newton Highlands Garden Club the evening of Wednesday, September 15 at six o'clock. Assisting the hostess are Mrs. Raymond R. Wisner, Mrs. Hubert Dennis and Mrs. Lowell Trowbridge. This will be the first regular meeting of the season.

Police Seeking Car of Gunmen

Newton police are looking for a bullet-marked black Ford sedan with a "K" license plate in their hunt for the gunman who cold-bloodedly shot Patrolman James Roche in the left arm early last Friday.

The driver fired point blank at Roche after the policeman had forced him to halt on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, after a half-mile chase.

Roche flagged down the car for going down a one-way street. When it failed to stop, he gave chase and was shot as he asked the driver for his papers. Two men were in the car.

Although wounded, the policeman fired four shots as the car sped away. Some were believed to have struck the car. Roche, 33, and a Purple Heart paratrooper veteran of World War II, is recovering from the wound at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. He is the son of a Boston policeman, James Roche, who was killed in line of duty.

Temple Reyim to Hold Registration

On Sunday, September 12 between 9 and 12:30 p.m. registration will be conducted at Temple Reyim, 321 Chestnut street, West Newton for new children in the Religious School. Sessions of the Religious School will begin on Wednesday and Thursday, September 15 and 16.

The Religious School is under the direction and supervision of Rabbi Harold D. Kastle. Members of the faculty for the coming year include Irma Devore, Joseph Feinstein, Albert Greenbaum, Ira Hochberg, Annabelle Jaffe, Glenda Marcus, Norman Milgram, Frances Miller, Adaire Joy Schwartz, Libby Sherman and Baila Round.

The affair will be in aid of Guide Dogs Foundation for the Blind, Inc., the Holliston Club's favorite charity. The five regular obedience classes will be offered, with the addition of Graduate Novice, Novice Y (on leash), Graduate Open and Graduate Utility. Official A.K.C. licensed obedience judges will be in charge. Small trophies will be awarded the first six places in each class and ribbons to the fourth places. In addition, there will be other special prizes.

Nominate Republican SUMNER R. ANDREWS of Winchester For

Harrison F. Lyman, Jr.
15 Lawson Road, Winchester, Mass.

Large Ratio of Independent Vote Also Factor In Results

Unless the unexpected happens, voting at the State Primary next Tuesday is very likely to develop into one of the lightest votes cast in the history of the city. This likelihood is due, in no small measure, to the fact that on the Republican ticket particularly every office for the Democratic nomination is being contested for by one or more candidates.

According to the last registration figures, the ratio of Republicans enrolled here as compared with the enrolled Democrats is about 5 to 1 in favor of the Republicans but on the other hand, the total registered independents practically equal the Republican registration. However, it is not believed that many of the independent voters will declare themselves for either the Republican or Democratic candidates Tuesday, although of course, there will be some but hardly enough to be a factor.

Thus, although the Republican registration here is about five times greater than the Democratic, there are really no outstanding Republican contests to bring the Republican voters out. This is particularly true of the major State offices.

On the other hand, however, every Democratic nomination will be contested for and it will be interesting to observe how strongly the registered Democrats will turn out. It is quite possible a large percentage of them will cast a ballot.

Locally, there appears to be little of interest to excite the electorate. Representatives Irene K. Thresher and Arthur G. Heaney, in the 5th Middlesex District, although being opposed by William M. Ellingwood, appear to be in no serious difficulty of obtaining re-nomination, based largely on Ellingwood's showing when he contested for the office recently.

Lightning Knocks Out Power In Newtonville Sq.

Shortly before noon Tuesday, an electrical storm which struck the area, caused a power failure in Newtonville Square for about two hours.

A bolt of lightning was reported to have struck a transformer at Washington park, Newtonville, resulting in a loss of power to many homes in the Newtonville area as well as to business establishments in the square itself.

The power shortage came during the noon meal time hour and severely handicapped workers in restaurants and other eating establishments.

Murphy, Furcolo and Riley Favored in Primary... Light Vote With Few Upsets Expected Tuesday...

It now appears likely that all seven candidates endorsed by the Democratic State Convention early last June will be nominated in next Tuesday's primary to carry their party's banner against the Republican State Ticket.

If that happens, as is expected, ex-Governor Paul A. Dever will be the political architect principally responsible for bringing it about, but an indirect measure of credit will belong to GOP leaders who solidly established the theory that any Republican who refused to abide by the decision of his party's State Convention was writing his own political death warrant by his defiance.

Democratic chieftains were unable to clear the field for the candidates picked by their pre-primary convention. But, led by the politically potent Mr. Dever, they have done the next best thing and launched an intensive drive in behalf of the convention choices.

Back in the mid-1930's, when the last official pre-primary State Conventions prior to this year were held, the Democratic voters seemed to derive a certain satisfaction from overturning convention decisions.

Vote-

In the Republican contest in the 4th Middlesex District, Representatives George E. Rawson and Donald L. Gibbs are unopposed as are their two Democratic aspirants, Laurence E. Cooke and John P. Barton. Nor is there any Democratic contest in the 5th Middlesex District where Charles Delaney and Harold Hurst are unopposed for the nomination.

In the Republican contest for Congressman from the Tenth District, the present incumbent Lawrence Curtis, should have little difficulty in winning the Republican nomination. In the same district for the same office, political observers are predicting the Democratic nomination for Jackson Holtz. Should Curtis and Holtz secure their respective nominations, this contest for the election in November shapes up as a real fight.

In the contests for nomination on both the Democratic and Republican tickets, the office of Register of Probate is a wide-open scramble and anything can happen in these contests.

The same is true in the contests for County Commissioner nominations and also for the Democratic nomination for County Treasurer. These two are wide open contests and not until the ballots are tabulated will the winner be known with any degree of certainty.

All in all, while the Primary interest is practically negligible, once the candidates are chosen, there will be plenty of speculation about the probable candidates who will oppose each other in the November election.

he pointed out for the record that whatever action has been taken and may be taken in the future is a City action and not the personal action of the Mayor.

The Board of Park Commissioners was appointed by the Mayor upon the recommendation of the Board of Aldermen, and once appointed, the Board of Park Commissioners became an authoritative agency of the Executive Department.

When it was decided by the Park Commissioners to request the City Solicitor to take whatever action was necessary to uphold their authority, the Mayor became a party in the action, which was a Bill in Equity, because of his position as the Chief Executive of the City. In view of the action of the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Park Commissioners, the Mayor believes he should continue to administer the expressed policy of the Board of Aldermen and be guided by the judgment of the Board of Park Commissioners.

Adams, Middlesex GOP Candidate Urges Vote Care

Alan G. Adams of Lexington, Republican candidate for the nomination as Middlesex County Commissioner, in a recent speech stressed the importance of all voters taking care to mark their ballots, thoroughly and intelligently on Primary Day, Sept. 14.

Speaking from his long experience, as a newspaper editor and publisher and from first hand observations in visits to all Middlesex cities, and towns during his campaigning, Mr. Adams warned that "many voters tend to be less careful selecting candidates as they read down the ballot, thus often failing to give a vote to the important local offices which are so near to the people, and which perform so many important functions."

"These less publicized offices not so well known to many voters are most important, being as they are 'grass roots' positions and foundations upon which set the entire structures of the municipal, county, state, and federal organizations," Mr. Adams said.

"Know ALL your candidates and the offices they seek, and you will be able to cast an intelligent vote for all elected officers," Mr. Adams advised.

In addition to his newspaper activities Mr. Adams has participated for many years in various phases of local government. He is present chairman of the Lexington Planning Board on which he has served seven years, was formerly a member of the Board of Fire Engineers, and was former chairman of the Lexington Capital Expenditures Committee, which started the five year advanced planning schedule now successfully in operation.

College Notes

Miss Carolyn Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick V. Fowler of 116 Dartmouth street, West Newton, will be among the 200 freshmen registering for the 1954-55 College year at Endicott Junior College in Beverly next Tuesday. Miss

Dr. Grayzel, Cantor Alperstein to Assist at Temple Emanuel Holy Days

For the fifth consecutive year, Dr. Solomon Grayzel, editor of the Jewish Publication Society of America, noted historian and author, will assist Dr. Albert I. Gordon, Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, during the coming High Holy Days. Dr. Grayzel has been ordained as Rabbi by the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

Cantor Max Alperstein, who has officiated at High Holy Day Services for many years, will assist Cantor Gabriel Hochberg of Temple Emanuel in conducting the Services. The Cantors will be assisted by the Temple Emanuel Choirs under the direction of Louis Sigel. Mrs. Rhoda J. Kaplan and Arthur Fultz will accompany the Cantors and Choirs at the organ.

Dr. Grayzel will alternate with Dr. Gordon in conducting the Services in the Main Synagogue and the Community Hall. The Cantors too will alternate with their respective choirs.

The Temple, Community Hall and Chapel, recently air-conditioned, will provide a fitting background for these Services.

In addition to Adult Services, Youth Services are being planned as follows:

A Teen-Age Service for youth 14-17 years of age will be conducted in the Temple Chapel. Young people of the congregation, directed by Mr. Sigmund J. Hellman, Youth Director, will conduct this Service. Admission is by ticket only.

Children's Services under the direction of Dr. Martin Goldstein, Educational Director, and Mr. Leo Tarutz, teacher, will be held in the Vestry for children aged 9-13. Mrs. Norman Rosenberg will conduct Services for students in Grade 1 of the Hebrew School and Grades 1-6 of the Sunday School.

"Cantor Alperstein possesses a beautiful tenor voice and has been a member of the Chorus of the Metropolitan Company since 1943.

Holtz Charges Curtis With Neglect of Duty

Jackson J. Holtz, Democratic nominee for Congress and former assistant U. S. Attorney, today charged the Republican Congressman Curtis with "neglect of duty by absenteeism."

"When a Congressman is needed on the job, as he is needed now on the problem of hurricane funds, and as he is needed now to speak for his district's well-being in foreign policy and economic matters, Curtis is again absent—this time away on a vacation in Europe," Holtz said.

Declaring he wasn't making any attack on Curtis, but merely pointing out the facts, Holtz said:

"It took Congressman Lane, from Lawrence, a Democrat, to wire President Eisenhower urging immediate allocation of federal funds to hurricane-damaged areas to relieve distress and unemployment."

"There was not a single word from the Republican Congressman—who represents the 10th district—Brookline, Newton, West Roxbury, Back Bay and Allston—badly battered by the hurricane."

"If this were a single omission it would be bad enough but it is a pattern of indifferent conduct that runs through the entire record of our present Congressman," Holtz added.

"And where is he now and where has he been to get the facts from his constituents on what they think about foreign policy and economic matters?" Holtz asked.

"Has anybody seen the Congressman in the district—has he been back here once to talk to the people, to find out what they think and how they want him to vote in Congress?" Holtz added.

"Does he forget that his district has people in all walks of life—thousands of businessmen dependent upon the economic welfare of Massachusetts."

"And still thousands of people employed in industry whose jobs depend directly on the economic welfare of these concerns?"

"The 10th district is a dis-united area, a place where in that it has thousands of civil servants, public employees, businessmen, white collar and industrial workers."

"Where has Curtis been? Why hasn't he for two years, while in Congress, been back to the district to find out what the people think and want?"

"If this were done, perhaps he could have raised his voice and made certain the administration didn't veto the postal workers raises that federal contracts came this way and that employment was better."

Charles A. Connor, 19 Fairfield street, Newtonville, recently received the Associate designation of the Life Office Management Association. The designation is attained by completing successfully a series of examinations in the principles of life insurance and in advanced life insurance. Mr. Connor is a member of the Controller's Department of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Miss Barbara Kozol Bride of Mr. John Schwab of Cincinnati

White chrysanthemum and blue delphinium decorated the Oval Room of the Sheraton Plaza, when Miss Barbara Lou Kozol, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry L. Kozol of Newton, became the bride of Mr. John G. Schwab, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Schwab of Cincinnati, O. The 6:30 ceremony, Sunday afternoon, August 29, was performed by Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn and a reception followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported French shirred net gown trimmed with bands of white velvet and fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline. She had a rose point Belgian lace veil, and carried white orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Freeman of New Bedford, as maid of honor, wore a pale blue net ruffled gown with a blue satin cummerbund. The honor matrons, Mrs. Julius Schild, Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Robert Merrill of Chicago, Ill., wore blue net gowns with pointed tiers and matching boleros. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Stephen Benson of Brookline and Miss Phyllis Rice of Newton, wore matching gowns in ice blue. They all carried cascades of delphinium.

Lt. Richard Schwab of Cincinnati, Ohio, was best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Jonathan Kozol of Newton, brother of the bride; Mr. Luis A. Gallop of New York City, Mr. Lawrence S. Schaengold, Mr.

Paul A. Papenheimer, Jr., and Dr. Alan S. Freemond, all of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The bride studied at the Choate School and Wheaton College. The bridegroom attended the University of Cincinnati. After a wedding trip to California, they will make their home in Cincinnati.

Engagement of Miss Lenore Walton Announce

At a tea Sunday afternoon, August 29, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Walton of Weston and Marshfield, and formerly of Newton Centre, announced the engagement of their daughter, Lenore Katherine, to Mr. John J. McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm L. McCormack of Hanover.

Miss Walton is a graduate of Newton High School and Regis College, and her fiancé received his B.S. degree from Boston College and is planning to continue his studies at graduate school this year.

Mr. Walton is a former president of the Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts of America and is presently a member of the council's executive board.

Mayor Whitmore Issues Bulletin Relative to Hurricane Emergency

Immediately following the hurricane last Tuesday morning, Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. prepared and had issued a list of precautions against possible injury and other hazards. Many of these items are still applicable to the situation and in order that all citizens may be properly advised, following is the contents of the notification which the mayor issued:

It is earnestly requested that the citizens of Newton cooperate with the city departments relative to the following:

1. Public Works Department (Street, Water and Engineering): A. Place no rubbish or hurricane debris from your premises onto sidewalks or streets until your regular rubbish collection day on and after September 9th. B. Assist in the urgent clean-up effort by keeping the streets and sidewalks clean. Thereby helping to prevent floods in case of further rains.

2. Fire Department: A. Do not handle wires either on the ground or hanging. They may be alive. B. If water has leaked into your house, have the electrical system and fixtures checked by a competent electrician before power is restored. The danger to life and property from short circuits is real. C. Lighting by candles is hazardous, if used, candles should be put in heavy bases, placed away from curtains or other easily combustible materials. Kerosene lamps should be thoroughly cleaned and the wicks trimmed. Do not fill the lamps with oil while still hot, as explosions could occur. Emergency lights should be placed out of children's reach or where they cannot be knocked over.

3. Police Department: A. It is important to keep children off the streets. B. Cars parked unnecessarily on the streets hamper clean-up efforts. C. Streets are being patrolled day and night by Newton Police. Police cars are easily distinguishable by flashing blue lights. D. Report to police at once anything you see of a suspicious nature, or anything requiring police attention. E. In areas where telephone service is not available, as far as possible regular or civil defense auxiliary police will be stationed in the vicinity of the police box and will be at your service for emergencies.

4. Health Department: A. Caution should be observed in the use of frozen foods which have been allowed to thaw. B. The water supply has not been affected in any way by the hurricane. It can be used for all purposes.

The City of Newton is doing everything in its power not to declare this an emergency. With your kind assistance, and due to the efficient and effective services rendered by City employees and private agencies, a declaration of a state of emergency will not become necessary.

The City officials are confident that a return to normalcy will not be long delayed. The full restoration of electric and telephone services is being expedited in every possible way by these utility companies.

To Register New Students at Temple Emmanuel Sun.

Registration of new students at the Temple Emanuel Religious Schools, Newton, will take place this Sunday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The openings of the various departments of the schools are as follows: Hebrew School classes will open Monday, September 13; the Nursery School will open Monday and Tuesday, September 13 and 14; the Senior Department of the Sunday School on Wednesday, September 15, and the High School on Monday, September 20. Sabbath Services, conducted by the Junior Congregation, will commence on Saturday, September 18.

The High School is a newly established department, designed to provide an opportunity to the graduates of the Hebrew School to continue their Jewish education. The curriculum has

The establishment of this department is another forward step in the strengthening and the intensification of the educational program of the Temple. Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director, reported that some graduates have already indicated their intention of comprising the freshman class of the High School.

Hardly A Man

Hardly a man is now alive who does not know what Boston's old North Church stands for in American history.

When the Old North's steeple was slammed into rubble in the street below by the giant hand of the hurricane of August 31, the blow struck at the hearts of all of us—school children who have thrilled to the ride of Paul Revere, adults who venerate the building's role in the fight to make the Colonies free.

The steeple must be restored, and it must be done with all the care and faithfulness to its era that the architects and artisans can devote to the task.

The job will require an estimated $150,000, which must be raised by contributions.

You can help raise the steeple of the Old North Church, restoring it to its rightful place as one of America's great shrines of liberty. Send your check, made out to The Lantern League, to Charles H.
Watkins, treasurer, 112 Water street,
Boston 9.

The preservation of our symbols of freedom keep us ever vigilant against the threats to our hard-won liberties.

James M. Curley was defeated at the 1934 convention for the endorsement for Governor, but he went on to win both the primary and the election, riding into office partly on the strength of his support of Franklin D. Roosevelt two years earlier.

Francis E. Kelly did the same thing in the 1936 battle for the Lieutenant Governorship. He was rejected by the convention which gave its endorsement to Philip J. Philpin, now a Congressman and then the secretary to the late David I. Walsh.
But Kelly knocked out Philpin in the primary and in the final election squeezed out a victory over Leverett Saltonstall.

Ex-Governor Dever, who declined to be drafted by the Democratic convention and engineered the endorsement of Representative Robert F. Murphy of Malden for Governor and State Treasurer Foster
Furcolo of Longmeadow for U. S. Senator, undertook to make certain that the convention decisions this time were upheld by the Democratic voters.

Four of the candidates backed by the Democratic convention, like all seven men endorsed by the Republican conclave, are unopposed in next Tuesday's primary and are merely marking time until the strategic moment to launch their big drives for Nov. 2.

But Representative Murphy, Treasurer Furcolo and State Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley of Norwood, who was selected by the Democratic convention as its candidate for State Treasurer, all have fights on their hands.

Murphy is opposed for the governatorial nomination by former Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, who is still a potent and formidable primary foe despite his defeat by Attorney General
George Fingold two years ago.

Furcolo is being challenged by former State Senator Joseph L. Murphy of Dorchester and ex-City Councillor John I.
Fitzgerald of the West End. Ex-Senator
Murphy is a potentially dangerous opponent because of the campaign of Representative Murphy.

Riley's opposition is being provided by School Committeeman William F. Carr of South Boston and John F. Kennedy of Canton.

Highly effective support of Representative Murphy, Treasurer Furcolo and Commissioner Riley has been furnished by ex-Governor Dever and Democratic State Committee Chairman John C. Carr.

The active work by Carr has a tinge of irony because one of the first things Murphy did after being endorsed by the June convention was to seek the replacement of Carr, a move that failed by only a handful of votes.

Had it succeeded, it might have proved an expensive mistake for Murphy because it almost certainly would have aligned many of Carr's friends against him.

As matters now stand, the defeat of either Murphy, Furcolo or Riley would be a distinct upset.

All three have one common problem.
Each has a Boston opponent, and close to half of the vote in the Democratic primary will be cast in Boston.

There is only one way to overcome that predicament. That is to make a strong drive in Boston, and that is what Murphy, Furcolo and Riley have done.

The Republican vote next Tuesday probably will be small except in scattered sections where there are local battles for GOP nominations.

Governor Christian A. Herter, Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier and Attorney General George Fingold all are unopposed for renomination and have paid little or no attention to the primary.

There has been so little GOP activity that some persons have to pause and reflect in order to remember the names of the other three candidates endorsed by the Republican State Convention. They are Representative William J. McCarthy of East Bridgewater for Secretary of State, Representative William P. Constantino of Clinton for State Auditor and Representative Augustus G.
Means of Essex for State Treasurer, also without opposition.

Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer Nelson, from whom are few shrewd scholars of politics, has been busy laying the groundwork of the coming GOP campaign, but he has left the candidates free to devote themselves to their duties.

Virtually all the prominent Republicans below the State ticket level are also assured of renomination next Tuesday, although some of them will have to overcome token opposition.

Congressman Laurence Curtis, for example, is being challenged by Charles Kefauver of Brookline, a cousin of Senator
Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Curtis, who is regarded as future gov-ernatorial timber, is expected to win an impressive victory. He has been a good Congressman, has given satisfactory service to his district for the past two years, has solidified himself in it and seemingly is considerably stronger than he was in 1952.

Former Assistant U. S. Attorney Jackson J. Holtz of Brookline looms as the likely winner of the Democratic nomination in the 10th Congressional district.
The election fight between Curtis and Holtz should prove an extremely interesting one.

Last week's destruction-spreading hurricane slowed some of the tempo of the political campaigning in some sections of Massachusetts and halted it entirely in others.

People who had no electricity, whose homes were damaged and in darkness, whose food was spoiling because of the lack of refrigeration, were in no mood to listen to campaign oratory.

This probably will result in a very light vote on primary day. Interest undoubtedly will heighten between now and Tuesday, but there is scant likelihood that it can reach the point of bringing out a big turnout.

The hurricane might well have set the stage for some upsets, particularly on the Democratic side of the political fence, if it had not been for the intensive efforts spearheaded by ex-Governor Dever in behalf of Robert F. Murphy, Foster Furcolo and Clement A. Riley.

One thing next Tuesday's primary vote probably will indicate clearly is that Dever is still a tremendous power in Democratic politics in Massachusetts.

The four members of the Democratic State ticket who are unopposed in the primary are State Auditor Thomas J.
Buckley and Secretary of State Edward
J. Cronin, both assured of renomination,
Representative James A. Burke of Hyde
Park, chosen by the Democratic State Convention as the candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and State Senator John F.
Collins of Roxbury, the Democratic convention choice for Attorney General.

There will be some interest in the complimentary vote given Governor Her-ter and Senator Saltonstall. It will not be as large as would be the case, if there were anything to pull out the GOP vote, but the likelihood is that most Republicans who go to the polls will take the time to mark a cross for Herter and Saltonstall, even though they are unopposed.
Most observers believe that both gentlemen are extremely strong.

Oregon Democrats believe there is a chance they will elect one of the party members to the U. S. Senate from the Beaver State for the first time since 1914.
Senator Wayne Morse, originally elected and reelected from Oregon as a Republican, is expected to back the Democratic candidate.

Circuit Court Judge P. B. Revels of
Deland, Fla., insists that time is money.
Whenever lawyers are late for a case, he fines them $1 a minute and rules that the fine be paid before the trial proceeds.

Thirteen children who were injured in a fire in the Cleveland Hill School in Bu-falo, N. Y., in which 15 youngsters were killed last March, have filed damage suits amounting to $1,300,000 against the School Board on grounds of negligence in maintenance.

Charged with obtaining more than $1500 in fake death claims from the Charlotte Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. in Durham, N. C., Insurance Salesman Leon
U. King explained that he had merely falsified the claims "to disclose to the home office that it could be done."

Fire Brigade Captain Franz Fazeny of Steyr, Austria, was convicted of arson after it was found that he had started three fires in nearby Allhaming because his girl friend lived there and the conflagrations gave him an excuse to see her more often.

ELLIS SUTCLIFFE

Strong Support For Ellis Sutcliffe

Ellis Sutcliffe, Newton's Republican candidate for Middlesex County Commissioner, is receiving the whole-hearted support from influential people in all parts of the district.

As an example, Mr. Sut-cliffe's candidacy has the strong support of such prominent Newton residents as Representative Donald L. Gibbs, Representative George H. Rawson, Mrs. Edna Chagnon, Riley Hampton, former member of the board of aldermen; Allen Hodder, Representative from Framingham; John W. Whittemore of Newton; Wendell Baukman, president of the Board of Aldermen; Miss Adelaide Ball, member of the Board of Aldermen; and many other Newton residents.

Mr. Sutcliffe, who is married and the father of three children, has been active in business and civic affairs of Newton. He is owner and developer 35 acres of land in Oak Hill, Newton, treasurer of Oak Hill Estates, Inc., Mortgage Counselor for the Beacon Mortgage Company of Brookline and a director of a Newton improvement association, and vice president of Newton P.T.A.
(Underwood).

Mr. Sutcliffe was educated in the Newton schools, Dean Academy, Colgate University and Brown University.
His candidacy for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner is gaining strong support throughout the entire Middlesex District and his many friends confidently expect Mr. Sutcliffe to win the nomination.

MRS. GERTRUDE CADY

Services Held for Mrs. Gertrude H. Cady Monday

Mrs. Gertrude (MacCallum)
H. Cady, of 15 Upham street,
West Newton, former executive director of the West Newton Community Centre, died last Friday morning at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Cady retired in 1950 as director of the Community Centre after 23 years of service.
She came to the Centre following her graduation from the Recreational Training School of Chicago, and established craft groups, trained leaders and planned activities for children at the Centre.

In 1927 there were only nine weekly meetings at the Centre, and by 1950, the Centre housed 44 meetings a week. Each summer she helped direct the day camp which the Centre used to run in connection with the Pomroy House of Newton. Mrs.
Cady was born in Newton in 1901.

She is survived by her husband, William H. Cady, and a sister, Mrs. Anton Hananiah of Newton.

Funeral services were held at the Short & Williamson Chapel, 173 Brighton avenue, Allston, Monday at 2:30 p.m., and burial was in Newton Cemetery.
Rev. Douglas B. MacCorkle, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church in Newton, officiated.

Laurence W. Simonds of Newton, who is spending some time at the Sunset Hill House, Sugar Hill, N. H., won the men's top prize there at a large putting match.

2d Lt. David Bates Weds Miss Marion Wright In Haverhill

Given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Harland Francis Wright of Bradford, and her grandfather, Mrs. Walter C. Wright, Miss Marion Estelle Wright became the bride last Saturday evening of 2d Lt. David Edwin Bates, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Finson Bates of Newtonville. The Rev.

Louis A. Houghton officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony in Trinity Episcopal Church, Haverhill, and a reception followed at Trechman Manor, Bradford.

White Alencon lace trimmed the ice blue satin princess style gown worn by the bride and a crown of white seed pearls held her fingertip French illusion veil in place. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and forget-me-nots on a white prayer book.

All of the bridal attendants carried dubonnet asters with their waltz length aqua chrome-spun taffeta gowns. Miss Lois N. Bryant of Bradford was maid of honor; Mrs. Clifton E. George of Haverhill, sister of the bride, matron of honor, and Miss Faye E. Brennan, Miss Janet L. Shane, both of Boston; Miss Kay Wallace, Mrs. David A. Pope, both of Haverhill, and Mrs. John Camp of Baltimore, Md., cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was Judith Ann Jeans of Georgetown and Patricia Jeans, also of Georgetown, flower girl. Her brother, Peter, was ring bearer.

The best man was Mr. Robert E. Knapp of Gossville, N.H. The ushers were Mr. Clifton E. George of Haverhill, Mrs. Robert Smith of Atlantic City, N. J., Mr. Kenneth Lincoln of Arlington, Mrs. Richard Vose of Teaneck, N.J., Mr. Edward Cannon of Newton, and 2d Lt. Joseph Bernath, USA, of Fort Dix, N.J.

The bride was graduated from the Chamberlain School of Retailing in 1953. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Maine in 1953 where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega. After a wedding trip to Bermuda, they will make their home in Pembroke, Ky.

Philip H. Brockington, of 100 Erie street, Newton Highlands, was among approximately 400 completing requirements for degrees at Purdue University at the end of the summer session.

Miss Frances Perry, Mr. John Ford Married at Union Church.

At Union Church in Waban Tuesday, August 31, a 4 o'clock ceremony united in marriage Miss Frances Ann Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wesley Perry, and Mr. John Arnold Ford, son of Mr. John Anson Ford of Los Angeles, California. The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory net gown, strapless, with French inset lace in bodice, long-sleeved ivory bolero jacket; skull cap studded with pearls and a finger-tip-length veil, and she carried an orchid on a white Bible with streamers of carnations.

Miss Mary Foy Perry, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and she was gowned in a French blue silk taffeta dress with halter neckline and bolero jacket; strait, tight skirt in front with flared pleats in back and matching mits for the hands and a matching veil. She carried a bouquet of bountiful pink roses.

The bridesmaid, gowned identically as the maid of honor, was Miss Lynn Wellenkamp of Westwood, N. J.

The bride's mother wore a gun metal grey taffeta dress with pink velvet hat, white gloves and shoes matching the dress and she carried a white purse.

Mr. A. Paul Lavernaich, brother-in-law of the bride, of New Ipswich, N. H., was best man and the ushers were Mr. A. William Perry, brother of the bride, of Waban, and Mr. Robert C. Hatch, of Whitman, Mass.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Hardly A Man

Hardly a man is now alive who does not know what Boston's old North Church stands for in American history.

When the Old North's steeple was slammed into rubble in the street below by the giant hand of the hurricane of August 31, the blow struck at the hearts of all of us—school children who have thrilled to the ride of Paul Revere, adults who venerate the building's role in the fight to make the Colonies free.

The steeple must be restored, and it must be done with all the care and faithfulness to its era that the architects and artisans can devote to the task.

The job will require an estimated $150,000, which must be raised by contributions.

You can help raise the steeple of the Old North Church, restoring it to its rightful place as one of America's great shrines of liberty. Send your check, made out to The Lantern League, to Charles H. Watkins, treasurer, 112 Water street, Boston 9.

The preservation of our symbols of freedom keep us ever vigilant against the threats to our hard-won liberties.

James M. Curley was defeated at the 1934 convention for the endorsement for Governor, but he went on to win both the primary and the election, riding into office partly on the strength of his support of Franklin D. Roosevelt two years earlier.

Francis E. Kelly did the same thing in the 1936 battle for the Lieutenant Governorship. He was rejected by the convention which gave its endorsement to Philip J. Philpin, now a Congressman and then the secretary to the late David I. Walsh. But Kelly knocked out Philpin in the primary and in the final election squeezed out a victory over Leverett Saltonstall.

Ex-Governor Dever, who declined to be drafted by the Democratic convention and engineered the endorsement of Representative Robert F. Murphy of Malden for Governor and State Treasurer Foster Furcolo of Longmeadow for U. S. Senator, undertook to make certain that the convention decisions this time were upheld by the Democratic voters.

Four of the candidates backed by the Democratic convention, like all seven men endorsed by the Republican convention, are unopposed in next Tuesday's primary and are merely marking time until the strategic moment to launch their big drives for Nov. 2.

But Representative Murphy, Treasurer Furcolo and State Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley of Norwood, who was selected by the Democratic convention as its candidate for State Treasurer, all have fights on their hands.

Murphy is opposed for the gubernatorial nomination by former Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, who is still a potent and formidable primary foe despite his defeat by Attorney General George Fingold two years ago.

Furcolo is being challenged by former State Senator Joseph L. Murphy of Dorchester and ex-City Councillor John I. Fitzgerald of the West End. Ex-Senator Murphy is a potentially dangerous opponent because of the campaign of Representative Murphy.

Riley's opposition is being provided by School Committeeman William F. Carr of South Boston and John F. Kennedy of Canton.

Highly effective support of Representative Murphy, Treasurer Furcolo and Commissioner Riley has been furnished by ex-Governor Dever and Democratic State Committee Chairman John C. Carr.

The active work by Carr has a tinge of irony because one of the first things Murphy did after being endorsed by the June convention was to seek the replacement of Carr, a move that failed by only a handful of votes.

Had it succeeded, it might have proved an expensive mistake for Murphy because it almost certainly would have aligned many of Carr's friends against him.

As matters now stand, the defeat of either Murphy, Furcolo or Riley would be a distinct upset.

All three have one common problem. Each has a Boston opponent, and close to half of the vote in the Democratic primary will be cast in Boston.

There is only one way to overcome that predicament. That is to make a strong drive in Boston, and that is what Murphy, Furcolo and Riley have done.

The Republican vote next Tuesday probably will be small except in scattered sections where there are local battles for GOP nominations.

Governor Christian A. Herter, Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier and Attorney General George Fingold all are unopposed for renomination and have paid little or no attention to the primary.

There has been so little GOP activity that some persons have to pause and reflect in order to remember the names of the other three candidates endorsed by the Republican State Convention. They are Representative William J. McCarthy of East Bridgewater for Secretary of State, Representative William P. Constantino of Clinton for State Auditor and Representative Augustus G. Means of Essex for State Treasurer, also without opposition.

Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer Nelson, from whom are few shrewd scholars of politics, has been busy laying the groundwork of the coming GOP campaign, but he has left the candidates free to devote themselves to their duties.

Virtually all the prominent Republicans below the State ticket level are also assured of renomination next Tuesday, although some of them will have to overcome token opposition.

Congressman Laurence Curtis, for example, is being challenged by Charles Kefauver of Brookline, a cousin of Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Curtis, who is regarded as future gubernatorial timber, is expected to win an impressive victory. He has been a good Congressman, has given satisfactory service to his district for the past two years, has solidified himself in it and seemingly is considerably stronger than he was in 1952.

Former Assistant U. S. Attorney Jackson J. Holtz of Brookline looms as the likely winner of the Democratic nomination in the 10th Congressional district. The election fight between Curtis and Holtz should prove an extremely interesting one.

Last week's destruction-spreading hurricane slowed some of the tempo of the political campaigning in some sections of Massachusetts and halted it entirely in others.

People who had no electricity, whose homes were damaged and in darkness, whose food was spoiling because of the lack of refrigeration, were in no mood to listen to campaign oratory.

This probably will result in a very light vote on primary day. Interest undoubtedly will heighten between now and Tuesday, but there is scant likelihood that it can reach the point of bringing out a big turnout.

The hurricane might well have set the stage for some upsets, particularly on the Democratic side of the political fence, if it had not been for the intensive efforts spearheaded by ex-Governor Dever in behalf of Robert F. Murphy, Foster Furcolo and Clement A. Riley.

One thing next Tuesday's primary vote probably will indicate clearly is that Dever is still a tremendous power in Democratic politics in Massachusetts.

The four members of the Democratic State ticket who are unopposed in the primary are State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley and Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin, both assured of renomination, Representative James A. Burke of Hyde Park, chosen by the Democratic State Convention as the candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and State Senator John F. Collins of Roxbury, the Democratic convention choice for Attorney General.

There will be some interest in the complimentary vote given Governor Herter and Senator Saltonstall. It will not be as large as would be the case, if there were anything to pull out the GOP vote, but the likelihood is that most Republicans who go to the polls will take the time to mark a cross for Herter and Saltonstall, even though they are unopposed. Most observers believe that both gentlemen are extremely strong.

Oregon Democrats believe there is a chance they will elect one of the party members to the U. S. Senate from the Beaver State for the first time since 1914. Senator Wayne Morse, originally elected and reelected from Oregon as a Republican, is expected to back the Democratic candidate.

Circuit Court Judge P. B. Revels of Deland, Fla., insists that time is money. Whenever lawyers are late for a case, he fines them $1 a minute and rules that the fine be paid before the trial proceeds.

Thirteen children who were injured in a fire in the Cleveland Hill School in Buffalo, N. Y., in which 15 youngsters were killed last March, have filed damage suits amounting to $1,300,000 against the School Board on grounds of negligence in maintenance.

Charged with obtaining more than $1500 in fake death claims from the Charlotte Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. in Durham, N. C., Insurance Salesman Leon U. King explained that he had merely falsified the claims "to disclose to the home office that it could be done."

Fire Brigade Captain Franz Fazeny of Steyr, Austria, was convicted of arson after it was found that he had started three fires in nearby Allhambing because his girl friend lived there and the conflagrations gave him an excuse to see her more often.

ELLIS SUTCLIFFE

Strong Support For Ellis Sutcliffe

Ellis Sutcliffe, Newton's Republican candidate for Middlesex County Commissioner, is receiving the whole-hearted support from influential people in all parts of the district.

As an example, Mr. Sutcliffe's candidacy has the strong support of such prominent Newton residents as Representative Donald L. Gibbs, Representative George H. Rawson, Mrs. Edna Chagnon, Riley Hampton, former member of the board of aldermen; Allen Hodder, Representative from Framingham; John W. Whittemore of Newton; Wendell Bauckman, president of the Board of Aldermen; Miss Adelaide Ball, member of the Board of Aldermen; and many other Newton residents.

Mr. Sutcliffe, who is married and the father of three children, has been active in business and civic affairs of Newton. He is owner and developer of 35 acres of land in Oak Hill, Newton, treasurer of Oak Hill Estates, Inc., Mortgage Counsellor for the Beacon Mortgage Company of Brookline and a director of a Newton improvement association, and vice president of Newton P.T.A. (Underwood).

Mr. Sutcliffe was educated in the Newton schools, Dean Academy, Colgate University and Brown University. His candidacy for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner is gaining strong support throughout the entire Middlesex District and his many friends confidently expect Mr. Sutcliffe to win the nomination.

MRS. GERTRUDE CADY

Services Held for Mrs. Gertrude H. Cady Monday

Mrs. Gertrude (MacCallum) H. Cady, of 15 Upham street, West Newton, former executive director of the West Newton Community Centre, died last Friday morning at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Cady retired in 1950 as director of the Community Centre after 23 years of service. She came to the Centre following her graduation from the Recreational Training School of Chicago, and established craft groups, trained leaders and planned activities for children at the Centre.

In 1927 there were only nine weekly meetings at the Centre and by 1950, the Centre housed 44 meetings a week. Each summer she helped direct the day camp which the Centre used to run in connection with the Pomroy House of Newton. Mrs. Cady was born in Newton in 1901.

She is survived by her husband, William H. Cady, and a sister, Mrs. Anton Hananiah of Newton.

Funeral services were held at the Short & Williamson Chapel, 173 Brighton avenue, Allston, Monday at 2:30 p.m., and burial was in Newton Cemetery. Rev. Douglas B. MacCorkle, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church in Newton, officiated.

Laurence W. Simonds of Newton, who is spending some time at the Sunset Hill House, Sugar Hill, N. H., won the men's top prize there at a large putting match.

2d Lt. David Bates Weds Miss Marion Wright In Haverhill

Given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Harland Francis Wright of Bradford, and her grandfather, Mrs. Walter C. Wright, Miss Marion Estelle Wright became the bride last Saturday evening of 2d Lt. David Edwin Bates, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Finson Bates of Newtonville. The Rev.

Louis A. Houghton officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony in Trinity Episcopal Church, Haverhill, and a reception followed at Treeholm Manor, Bradford.

White Alencon lace trimmed the ice blue satin princess style gown worn by the bride and a crown of white seed pearls held her fingertip French illusion veil in place. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and forget-me-nots on a white prayer book.

All of the bridal attendants carried dubonnet asters with their waltz length aqua chrome-spun taffeta gowns. Miss Lois N. Bryant of Bradford was maid of honor; Mrs. Clifton E. George of Haverhill, sister of the bride, matron of honor, and Miss Faye E. Brennan, Miss Janet L. Shane, both of Boston; Miss Kay Wallace, Mrs. David A. Pope, both of Haverhill, and Mrs. John Camp of Baltimore, Md., cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was Judith Ann Jeans of Georgetown and Patricia Jeans, also of Georgetown, flower girl. Her brother, Peter, was ring bearer.

The best man was Mr. Robert E. Knapp of Gossville, N.H. The ushers were Mr. Clifton E. George of Haverhill, Mrs. Robert Smith of Atlantic City, N. J., Mr. Kenneth Lincoln of Arlington, Mrs. Richard Vose of Teaneck, N.J., Mr. Edward Cannon of Newton, and 2d Lt. Joseph Bernath, USA, of Fort Dix, N.J.

The bride was graduated from the Chamberlain School of Retailing in 1953. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Maine in 1953 where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega. After a wedding trip to Bermuda, they will make their home in Pembroke, Ky.

Philip H. Brockington, of 100 Erie street, Newton Highlands, was among approximately 400 completing requirements for degrees at Purdue University at the end of the summer session.

Miss Frances Perry, Mr. John Ford Married at Union Church.

At Union Church in Waban Tuesday, August 31, a 4 o'clock ceremony united in marriage Miss Frances Ann Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wesley Perry, and Mr. John Arnold Ford, son of Mr. John Anson Ford of Los Angeles, California. The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory net gown, strapless, with French inset lace in bodice, long-sleeved ivory bolero jacket; skull cap studded with pearls and a fingertip-length veil, and she carried an orchid on a white Bible with streamers of carnations.

Miss Mary Foy Perry, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and she was gowning in a French blue silk taffeta dress with halter neckline and bolero jacket; strait, tight skirt in front with flared pleats in back.

and matching mits for the hands and a matching veil. She carried a bouquet of bountiful pink roses.

The bridesmaid, gowning identically as the maid of honor, was Miss Lynn Wellenkamp of Westwood, N. J.

The bride's mother wore a gun metal grey taffeta dress with pink velvet hat, white gloves and shoes matching the dress and she carried a white purse.

Mr. A. Paul Lavernaich, brother-in-law of the bride, of New Ipswich, N. H., was best man and the ushers were Mr. A. William Perry, brother of the bride, of Waban, and Mr. Robert C. Hatch, of Whitman, Mass.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Cecily Ritter Becomes Bride of Mr. Goldstein

Miss Cecily Audrey Ritter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Maxwell Ritter of West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Robert E. Goldstein of New York, Sunday, August 29, at a noon day ceremony at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Ritter of Rockville Centre, N. Y. Rabbi George Lieberman performed the service, and a reception followed. Given in marriage by her father, the bride had her sister, Mew Newell Goldberg of West Newton as her only attendant.

The bride attended the University of Bridgeport and was graduated from Emerson College. The bridegroom was graduated from New York University and from its law school.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, they will make their home in Rockville Centre, N. Y.

New Class of Fifty-eight Enrolls at Andover Newton

Andover Newton Theological School, combination of the oldest Congregational (1807) and oldest Baptist (1825) seminaries in the country, will register on September 16 its 129th consecutive class for Newton and 147th class for Andover. Fifty-eight new students from 19 states and 4 foreign countries, who have graduated from 48 different colleges and universities, will begin their theological training at this world renowned school. Upper classmen return on September 20, bringing the school's total enrollment to over 200.

Although the majority of the new students are Congregational or Baptist, there will be eight other denominations represented in the incoming class. Coming to the "Hill" from outside the United States for the first time will be students from Korea, Jamaica, B.W.I., Philippine Islands, and Canada. As is also the case of the upper classmen, 50 percent of the new student group is married.

Coming from New England are Massachusetts 14, Connecticut 6, Rhode Island 3, Vermont 3, New Hampshire 3, and Maine 3. Other states represented among those registering September 16 will be New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey, West Virginia, Washington, D.C., Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin, North Dakota and California. Besides its new class, Andover Newton will welcome new members of the faculty and a new Dean. On August 1 Dr. Wallace Forgey, former minister of the First Baptist Church of Melrose, took over his duties as Director of Field Work and Associate Professor of Pastoral Theology. He is succeeding the Rev. Nathaniel M. Guptill who recently resigned to become minister of the First Church (Congregational), Newton Centre. Dr. Forgey, a graduate of Acadia University and Andover Newton, recently received his Doctor of Divinity degree from Colby College.

Coming from Hawaii on September 1 is Dr. J. Leslie Dunstan who will be Professor of Comparative Religion and Missions. Dr. Dunstan who was born in London received most of his education in the United States at Colby College, Boston University School of Religious Education, and Union Seminary. He received his Ph.D. from Columbia. Then he returned to England for special studies at Westminster College. For many years he has been serving in the Hawaiian areas, including Professor of Religion at the University of Hawaii, Assistant Minister Central Union Church, Honolulu, and Secretary of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association.

For the first time since Andover and Newton joined forces in 1931, the joint school will have this year a new dean, the Reverend Roy M. Pearson, who will succeed Dr. Vaughan Dabney who served in this capacity for twenty-three years, and who for reasons of health has just retired. The Reverend Mr. Pearson, well-known radio preacher, author, and minister of the Hancock Congregational Church of Lexington will be moving to the Hill at Newton Centre about November 1.

On sabbatical leave in France for the first semester this year is Dr. John W. Brush, Professor of Church History. Returning from duties at the World Council of Churches in time for the opening of School will be President Herbert Gezork and Dr. Paul S. Minear. During the past summer several important phases of Andover Newton's Development Program have been accomplished. Sturtevant Hall, one of the single men's dormitories, has been completely renovated and a new kitchen installed. Chase House, the single women's dormitory is also being renovated and redecorated and will be completed for the opening of the School's first semester. The largest project now in progress at Andover Newton is the new married students' dormitory. This imposing three-story brick structure will house 28 married students and provide two guest suites. This building is expected to be completed for occupancy by November 1.

September 9, 10, 11, 12, the new ultra modern V.F.W. Parkway Drive-In Theatre will present on the largest cinema-

Also available for students and faculty and for the community in and around Newton is the new Danielson Chapel which has been given to the School by the Danielson Foundation as a counseling center and place of worship for small groups.

With these many improvements to the campus, the new members of the faculty, a new Dean, and a large enrollment, Andover Newton is entering a new era in its long and useful service of training spiritual leaders for New England, the United States, and the world at large.

scopes screen in the world "Hell and High Water" in technicolor and cinemascope, starring Richard Widmark and Bella Darvi. This story takes place on a northern Pacific Island. Richard Widmark an experienced submarine commander is hired by scientists and private individuals to discover details of communist atomic installations.

Also on the same program "Siege at Red River" in technicolor starring Van Johnson and Joanne Dru. Van Johnson and Milburn Stone working behind the union lines, steal a Gatling gun and head southwest toward Indian country.

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, September 12, 13, 14 "Knights of the Round Table" in color and cinemascope starring Robert Taylor and Ava Gardner. The kings and tribal chieftains of England are constantly fighting until Mel Ferrer establishes his right to the throne with aid of Felix Aylmer.

Curtis Wins Praise of Congressional Leaders

Congressman Laurence Curtis, (R-Mass.) of the 10th Congressional District, completed his first term in Congress recently "in a blaze of glory", Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin, Jr., reported today. "The fine record made by Larry Curtis as a new member of the 83rd Congress won him the esteem and respect of his colleagues, Republicans and Democrats alike," Speaker Martin said.

Congressman Curtis' attendance record also won the praise of Speaker Martin. When fanatical Puerto Ricans fired pistols wildly into the House Chamber early in the session, Congressman Curtis was among those who calmly kept their seats. His cool action set an example for his colleagues.

Congressman Curtis was among those who led the fight for a bigger and more generous retirement system which will bring a more comfortable life to millions of Americans in their old age. For the first time millions of persons will come into the system whereby they will start earning pension rights. It is estimated that five out of six workers will be eligible for pensions under the new system devised by the 83rd Congress.

Congressman Curtis filed a bill for Fair Play in Congressional investigations. The Curtis bill (H. R. 10276) attempts a new approach by placing provisions right in a statute which would control action of both branches of Congress rather than in detailed amendments to the House and Senate Rules. Congressman Curtis also strongly fought for the liberalization of the Refugees Relief Act which will extend new hope to thousands of persons who had fled or escaped from behind the Iron Curtain.

When the fishing industry in Massachusetts was hard hit, Congressman Curtis joined forces with his colleagues to help the industry. He also worked hard to get more ship construction jobs for the Boston Naval Shipyard. For his action on behalf of the people in his district and the Commonwealth, Congressman Curtis won the praise of Governor Herter and Congressional leaders.

Congressman Curtis filed a bill to curb wilful purveyors of falsehoods concerning racial and religious groups.

Curtis told Congress that "there is a general aversion in this country to certain wilful purveyors of falsehood concerning racial and religious groups whose one object seems to be to divide class against class and group against group, and hold up to contempt the ideals of liberty, equality before the law, and brotherly human consideration which have been foundation stones of our American civilization since the days of our founding fathers."

"This type of propaganda is bad enough during ordinary times; but it is unbearable during a period of cold war when cunning adversaries are

M. D. Hirshon of the Diener Motor Car Company, Boston, has recently received a congratulatory letter for attaining membership in the Studebaker Century Club.

A pin, emblematic of this organization which is reserved for Studebaker's top salesmen, has been presented to Mr. Hirshon by the regional manager to replace the Star Honor Club emblem which he had been awarded some time ago.

seeking every means to infiltrate, subvert and divide the American people," Congressman Curtis said.

Ever wonder where the term "private eye," to describe a private detective, came from? It goes back into the 1880's and the founding of the Pinkerton Detective Agency. Its trademark was a wide-open eye, beneath which was the legend "We Never Sleep." People soon began calling the detectives you know what from the trademark, and people still do today.

SERVICE RESTORATION REPORT TO OUR CUSTOMERS

On Tuesday, exactly a week after Hurricane Carol had struck, more than 98 per cent of Boston Edison Company's 450,000 customers had their electric service. Since that time our working forces have not slackened their efforts in bringing this important task to completion.

We again thank our customers for their patience and understanding, particularly those in the numerous residential areas where tree damage was extreme and restoration work most difficult.

1954 College Fashions Are Geared to Easy Living; Casual

A life of ease is a life of fashion this fall in clothes that go back to college. Ease of fit is a big part of the picture, in bloused silhouettes or in midly silhouettes, both of Paris origin. These are fashions which are easy to get in and out of, with their just-tossed-on casual look (studied though it may actually be), demanding a minimum of fuss and care.

In summarizing the significant trends in this year's college fashions, Women's Wear Daily notes that ease of fabric is emphasized in softly draping jerseys, in tweeds and in knitwear. Knits, particularly, are an important component of ease this year. Easy to take care of and easy to pack, they are softly bloused and draped, treated to big collars and tweed fabrics.

The suit for dress wear, the rugged tweed coat, the easy-to-live-in knit dress that's an elongated sweater, the convertible dress-with-jacket costume, dress-up dresses, the sissified shirt—these are the uniforms that come through for special occasions at college.

TWEEDS A "MUST"

The tweed suit or coordinated separates promise to be the outfit that every college girl will buy this fall. Tweeds offer these new features: soft styling that goes with their newly softened texture, and wonderful colors. Whether very young in silhouette, with short fitted jacket and the flared, petticoated skirt, or with the slouchy new elegance of slim lines and loose jacket, the tweed suit satisfies the pocketbooks of the young college girls.

BIG SWEATER JOB

Sweaters have been specifically dyed to pick up colors of fall tweeds, say the Women's Wear Daily fashion experts. The white trimmings, white edgings and intarsia designs of new sweaters are especially beamed as more coordination. They are meant to go with the whitened look in gray fabrics and white "frosted" surface hairs in tweeds.

SKIRTS ARE REBORN

Separate skirts are in a new guise. They're detailed in a way which lifts them out of the strictly classic, in a way which attributes the potential of a one-piece look when coordinated with the proper blouse or sweater.

Is Candidate for Register of Probate In Middlesex County

Lawrence H. Davis of Everett, who has served 12 years in the House of Representatives from the 20th Middlesex District, is a candidate for the office of Register of Probate in Middlesex County. Married and the father of four children, the 41-year old former legislator also has had extensive experience in the City of

Freezer Firm Makes Use of Demonstrators

The Newton headquarters office of National Foodsaver Plan, a firm dealing in frozen food and food freezers has saved its customers heavy losses in perishable food. Using the demonstrator models of food freezers on the floors of its Newton office, it has brought in, by its own trucks, frozen food from as far away as Worcester and Cape Cod which would have been subject to spoilage due to power loss. It has also taken care of the frozen food of many Newton families who had purchased food elsewhere.

Atty. Thomas C. Quinn of Brighton Gov. Council Candidate in 3rd Dist.

Having battled spectacularly in the past, in the Third District, to capture the Governor's Council seat for the Democrats, Attorney Thomas C. Quinn, of Brighton, envisions success this year. In 1950, the G.O.P. candidate received 128,000 votes, a slender 5,000 plurality over the Democratic standard-bearer. In 1952 the vote cast for Attorney Quinn, a first-time candidate for public office, hit a total of 125,000 votes, the largest vote ever polled by a Democrat in the third district.

Members of Junior Tennis Team That Won Wright Cup

Howie Myers and Bennet Serkin, both 15, were members of the 1954 Eastern New England All-Star Junior Tennis Team which captured the Wright Cup at the Wright Cup International matches held at Dartmouth College, August 28 and 29. Playing doubles as the number one team, they won all three of their matches without the loss of a set. By winning the trophy, the Eastern team jumped from last place a year ago and showed the benefits of a year's experience gained through New England Junior Tennis League matches. Bennet is the captain of the Newton New England Junior Tennis League team, and Howie is number 2. Both deserve credit for their fine efforts and showing.

Careful planning with the help of books at the Needham Free Public Library will make your next party more fun and more successful.

Indiana woman got a divorce on grounds that her husband cracked a couple of her ribs practicing "wrestling holds" he saw on TV.

"Maybe you can't take it with you, but these days where can you go without it?" —Pearl Bailey.

Newton Junior College Starts Season October 4

Newton Junior College will begin its ninth year October 4 with an enrollment of about ninety students. Young men and women from the Newton villages and from surrounding communities will register for courses on September 27 and 28 in the College Library. Two-thirds of the students reside in Newton; at present Wellesley, Needham, and Natick lead the list of other towns from which students will come. Although Orientation Day for Freshmen is held on September 30, new applications will be considered until classes open.

The college director, James D. Laurits, states, "The Faculty is increasingly pleased by the way Newton Junior College, being small, is able to make itself flexible to serve the needs of young people. The specialty of the college has been excellent instruction at low cost. It has meant better jobs and advancement opportunities for many graduates and for others it has brought four years of college within their reach. And still we have a way to go—each class will have two or three good students who cannot afford the tuition. The Kiwanis Club of Newton is helping some of these students this year. Somehow we must find sources of aid for the future. Education should be made available to all qualified students."

The College attempts to serve all high school graduates, whether they seek only one or two additional years of education and specialized training, or whether they intend to transfer later to a four-year college. Certain of the young men and women will study Liberal Arts and Sciences. Many others will concentrate on Business Administration or on Retail Merchandising. Technical-Vocational work is popular in such fields as radio, television, electricity, and auto mechanics. Both freshmen and sophomore students engage in a full program of extra-class activities. College teams in basketball and baseball play in regular leagues. Specialized facilities exist for student use, such as classrooms, social rooms, council room, and a large library.

HEALTH FOR ALL

INSECT BITES

The hum of a bee in a summer flower garden is a pleasant sound, but the pleasure is quickly changed to pain if the bee suddenly switches his attention from flowers to people. Bee stings are painful for anyone, and some people who are especially sensitive suffer considerable discomfort from them. Fortunately, there are some quite simple household remedies for bee stings. The old-fashioned application of a mud pack is frowned upon now, because of the danger of skin infection. Recommended treatment is to get the stinger out by pressing the skin around the sting—very gently, needless to say. Then bathe the skin with baking soda solution. That soothes the irritation.

Baking soda solution is useful for mosquito bites, too, to relieve the itching they cause. Or you can use calamine lotion or Epsom salt solution, or one of the antiseptic ointments. Insect bites in themselves are very rarely dangerous in this country. Scratching them, however, can lead to infection, so that it is well to relieve the itching as much as possible. When there are a lot of biting insects around, it is a good idea to use a cream or lotion that repels them—and prevents bites in the first place.

Chiggers and ticks are other pests sometimes encountered in outdoor life. Chigger bites are relieved by bathing the bitten place with strong or medicated soap, and then sponging with alcohol. When this is done soon after the bite occurs, it prevents the unpleasant red welts that may otherwise appear.

Ticks have the disagreeable habit of attaching themselves firmly to the skin. A drop of chloroform, gasoline, or turpentine will usually make the tick let go so that it can be removed easily.

Of course, in case of serious discomfort or multiple insect bites, it is well to consult a physician. Highly effective treatments which he may want to prescribe have been developed in recent years.

Proclamation

By Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.

WHEREAS: The Salvation Army in the City of Newton will soon begin its Friendly Annual Appeal to our people to support its worthy endeavors here for the ensuing twelve months; and WHEREAS: this great humanitarian organization "with heart to God and hand to man" is beloved not only by servicemen and women of two World Wars and the recent Korean conflict as well as by all those in need because it never spares itself in serving peoples of every race, creed and color; and

WHEREAS: one dollar of every five contributed here in Newton will remain here exclusively for local needs to aid the needy of our community, with children as the biggest beneficiaries; and furthermore this Salvation Army Service Fund is entirely administered by a local committee of prominent, civic minded citizens who know home town conditions best of all and who serve without remuneration, without overhead and without red tape to provide immediate on-the-spot aid for those in distress and

WHEREAS: The Salvation Army is truly "Their Friend in Need at Time of Need" as proven daily throughout the year by the untiring work of this local committee as well as by the many famed regional activities of The Salvation Army which also benefit from Friendly Appeal;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Howard Whitmore Jr., Mayor of the City of Newton, do hereby proclaim the week of September 13, 1954 as Salvation Army Week and I urge each citizen of this community to give wholeheartedly whatsoever he can to help The Friendly Appeal in its solicitation for funds.

Friends Boosting Candidacy of Major Brenner

Major Ernest Brenner, although temporarily absent from the political scene while serving with the U. S. Marine Corps, is receiving the support of his many friends in his bid to win the Republican nomination for County Commissioner of Middlesex.

His candidacy has the support of Senator Richard Lee and General Daniel Needham, both of Newton, along with a long list of many prominent citizens throughout the district.

Major Brenner has served in

TELEPHONE SERVICE NOW RESTORED IN MASSACHUSETTS

Last week 150,000 telephones in over 250 telephone exchanges located in Massachusetts were put out of service by the hurricane.

This was 8 per cent of the telephones normally served in this state.

Normal service has now been restored.

The work that was done over the long weekend permitted us to finish the restoration job that was started even before the storm was over.

If by any chance your service has not been restored, or is not working satisfactorily, please notify Repair Service, so that we may get at it immediately.

Those customers whose service was interrupted by this storm will receive an adjustment for the "out-of-service" period as a credit on an early bill.

Now that the restoration job has been completed, may we again thank our customers for their patience and understanding; all public officials for their prompt assistance; other utility companies for their cooperation and all telephone employees for their outstanding performance during this emergency.

Mr. and Mrs. Motorist

THEIR SAFETY DEPENDS ON YOU!

Accidents like that shown below, involving children at school crossings and playgrounds, are happily getting fewer every year. But accidents that involve two or more motor vehicles are not. We believe there is a unique reason for this . . . a reason that lies deep within human nature itself.

Almost every motorist feels a strong personal responsibility for the safety of children. It is instinctive for any man or woman to protect the life of a child even at the risk of personal danger. Most of us are extremely careful when we see a little boy or girl in or near the street.

Why not obey the rules of the road . . . watch out for the school children who are just returning to their class-rooms. Give them every consideration . . . and remember:

THE LIFE YOU SAVE COULD BE YOUR CHILD.

DON'T BE BLIND TO THESE FACTS!

STOP when a school bus is stopped to pick up or discharge passengers. You'll be given warning by the flashing lights.

STOP even if you are on the opposite side of the street. Remember, heavy fines or loss of your driver's license is the penalty for not obeying these rules.

SLOW give these school buses enough room and time to operate safely. Remember, these youngsters are yours and mine. We want them to be safe at all times.

City of Newton POLICE DEPARTMENT

Newton Graphic

Gentlemen:

School opens in a few days. Motorists, slow down, drive carefully.

Parents, set a good example and teach your children safety practices.

Remember motorists and parents, the child you save may be your own.

Popular Piano Taught With Animated Music

This fascinating technique has proven to be the fastest means of getting the pupil to play. Lessons are interesting, since from the beginning the pupil is playing songs he knows. However, to play music, he must have the same sound foundation he would in studying classics, if he so chooses. MARY DAVIDSON

"School of the Dance" to Reopen September 20

Miss Mary Goddard Davidson announces the reopening of her "School of the Dance" on Monday, September 20. Lessons will be given daily to both girls and boys in classical ballet (Cecchetti Method), toe variations, and tap. Exercise classes and instruction in ballet for adults will be held mornings. Private lessons will be arranged by appointment.

Students will have the benefit of instruction from nationally recognized dancers who will conduct special classes. During the past season, 1953-1954, Igor Youskevitch, "universally acclaimed the world's greatest dancer," was guest teacher by special invitation of Miss Davidson at her studio.

In June, Miss Davidson's pupils appeared in a matinee and evening benefit concert as the closing event of the season. Miss Davidson is a member of the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists. She has received instruction from such well-known teachers and dancers as Igor Youskevitch and Edward Cato of Ballet Theatre, Frederic Franklin and Leon Danielian of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, Anatole Vilzak, Aubrey Hitchins, Valentine Pereyasla-vec, Maria Swoboda, and Igor Schwetoff.

Pupils may register from September 9, through September 16. The studios are at 40 Columbus street, Newton Highlands, and also at The Workshop, 72 Columbus street; telephone, LAsell 7-3302.

To Serve On 75th Commemoration For Emerson Coll.

Mrs. Cecil S. Rose of 50 Green Park and Mrs. Adrian O'Keefe of 1415 Commonwealth Avenue, West Newton, have been appointed to serve on the 75th Anniversary Commemoration for Emerson College in Boston. Mrs. Rose, an alumna and Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Emerson College is one of the energetic workers, actually one of the moving spirits back of the Emerson College Women's Committee which, in its short life of two years has achieved so much good for the handicapped children of Greater Boston through the establishment of the Samuel D. Robbins Speech Clinic at Emerson College. Mrs. O'Keefe, also an alumna and member of the Board of Corporators, has given her strong support to the Women's Committee and contributed greatly toward the success of the project.

Receives Master Of Music Degree

Paul Vincent DeLuca, Mus. B. son of Mr. and Mrs. Francesco DeLuca, 161 Chapel street, Newton, received his Master of Music Degree at the Boston University Commencement Exercises Saturday, August 21.

He majored in clarinet, studying with Mr. Manuel Valerio, a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. DeLuca is a member of the Fantasia Club (the Honorary Music Society), and a member of the Sinfonia Fraternita (the Delta Omicron Chapter).

At present, Mr. DeLuca is a member of the faculty at the Chaffoff School of Music in Boston.

Fire Department Performance In Emergency

The Newton Fire Department performed the following duty during the day of the storm last week, the first call being received at 9:47 a.m., and continuing throughout the day until 11:39 p.m.

Calls were received as follows:

Arising Wires	15
Fallen Trees	8
Sprinkler	1
Boarding up Windows ..	18
Flooded Cellar	5
Lights for Newton-Wellesley Hospital	1
Lights for City Home ..	1
	50

Patrolling Area:

Engine 3—Beacon St. Sect. Ladder 4—Lowell Ave. to Boston line.
Engine 10—Brookline St. Sect. Engine 4—Washington and Cherry Sts., to Waltham line

Auxiliary Fire Dept.:

Pumper 10—Patrol Duty Engine 12—Patrol Duty
Reporting back to duty for the emergency were 75 officers and firefighters of the Newton Fire Department, as well as 25 officers and firefighters of the City of Newton Auxiliary Fire Department.
During the height of the storm 17 box circuits were opened and these have now been closed.
Chief John E. Corcoran wishes to take this opportunity to commend the Fire Alarm operators, all Fire Department personnel, the Wire Department, the Motor Equipment repairmen, and the City of Newton Auxiliary Fire Force, all of whom rendered outstanding service during this emergency.

Helpful hints and new ideas about flower arranging are outlined in many excellent books on this subject at the Needham Public Library. Some of the newer titles include Conway's Treasury of Flower Arrangements, Constance Spry's "The Art of Arranging Flowers," and Marie Fort's Flower arrangements for all occasions.

Farsightedness Is Normal for Grade Sch. Pupils

Farsightedness has been found to be "normal" for the young grade school child, Dr. Raymond M. McMurdo, president of the New England Council of Optometrists, has stated. Unless a child is farsighted when he starts school he is likely to develop a more serious visual handicap before he reaches his teens, according to Ohio State University research cited by Doctor McMurdo.

"It has long been recognized that many children have trouble concentrating on near-point tasks like reading," he said. "As they get older they can focus more easily on objects within arm's length, and then reading becomes easier."

"Now the Ohio State University study shows that unless a child starts with this cushion of farsightedness his natural tendency will make him myopic—nearsighted—by about the fourth or fifth grade." The research conducted by Dr. Howard F. Haines and Dr.

Wilda Rosebrook showed close coordination between vision and scholarship. It covered many factors in addition to farsightedness and nearsightedness.

Named Red Cross Chapter Director

The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, announces the appointment of John A. McCarthy Jr., as executive director, to become effective September 15th.

Mr. McCarthy, a native of Dorchester, comes to Newton with a wealth of Red Cross experience. He has held a number of responsible executive positions with the American Red Cross over the last 12 years. He began his Red Cross career as field director for the Navy's Construction Battalion Camp at Davisville, R.I., during World War II. Later Mr. McCarthy was active in the Veterans Claims Service in New York, Providence and Boston.

His next assignment was as claims consultant in Veterans Rehabilitation for the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of the Red Cross and later at National Headquarters. He next accepted a position as administrator of the Norfolk, Virginia Blood Bank, following which he was active for a period of 3½ years in promotion work for the Massachusetts Regional Blood Program.

He served as executive director of the New Bedford Chapter during the past year, and clearly demonstrated his leadership during and immediately following the disaster caused by Hurricane Carol. The Newton Chapter feels most fortunate to secure the services of a man with his knowledge and experience in Red Cross.

Postmen Collect $4452 Locally For CP Campaign

Pres. William T. Sullivan of Branch 34, National Association of Letter Carriers, last night paid great tribute to the postmen whose appeal message to all postal patrons in the Boston District added $45,000 to the 1954 United Cerebral Palsy Fund.

Collected locally was: Auburndale, $232.50; Chestnut Hill, $799.25; Newton, $613.10; Newton Centre, $681.80; Newton Highlands, $365.50; Newton Upper Falls, $171.75; Newtonville, $428.00; Waban, $569.25; and West Newton, $591.13, a total of $4,452.28.

All postmen responded to the call to volunteer a helping hand to the army of palsied children destined to a lifetime of wheel chairs, braces and beds. These contributions, Sullivan said, "will be used for maintenance and the creation of new clinics for services to bring new hope, so these palsied children may have normal useful lives."

Lower Falls St. Project Before Aldermen Mon.

Appropriations totaling nearly $25,000 have been recommended by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., for Street and Water Department projects, according to the preliminary docket for Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

The main appropriation, which along with the others has been referred to the Committee on Finance and Public Works, is $17,000 for a connecting street from Grove street to Concord street, Newton Lower Falls. The mayor also recommended $1465.84 to be spent by the Law Department as awards for land damages involved in the new street.

Water main extensions recommended are 50 feet on Cleveland street, West Newton, $350; 115 feet on Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, $932; and 355 feet on Thomas avenue, West Newton, $2435.

An existing 2-inch water main running for 120 feet under Kenneth street, Newton Highlands, is scheduled to be replaced by 6-inch pipe at a cost of $1095, and the Water Department also proposes to eliminate dead ends in water mains on Central street, Auburndale, at Hancock street and at Grove street, costing $1300.

Eight hearings are slated to be held at 9 p. m. by the Aldermen before their business meeting. Boston Edison is seeking to remove an existing pole on Fairview terrace, West Newton, and replacing it with one about 180 feet west of Chestnut street.

Two hearings will be on the construction and acceptance of new streets. The first will be on the as yet un-named connection road between Concord street and the second on Schofield drive, from Fair Oaks avenue to Nevada street, Newtonville. Plans for Schofield drive include a cement curbing.

Also scheduled are hearings on construction of common sewers through Fox lane, to Arnold road, and through Fox place, from Arnold road westerly, both Oak Hill; on taking land for and construction on main drains and common sewers through Lawn avenue, Newtonville, from an existing sewer southerly, and

Only 10 Per Cent Cast Ballots In Tuesday's Primary Election

Election Cost Estimated at 56c A Ballot

With only 10 per cent of the total registered voters in Newton exercising their right to vote, resounding support was given to most candidates seeking re-election in Tuesday's primary balloting. Local Democrats hewed closely to the party line with solid backing for their convention-nominated candidates.

In the lone contest within the city limits, Reps. Irene K. Thresher and Arthur G. Healey easily beat off a challenge by William M. Ellingwood in the Fifth Middlesex District. Healey drew 1496 votes, Mrs. Thresher had 1509, and Ellingwood was far behind with 363.

Newton also gave Cong. Laurence Curtis an 11-1 margin over Charles C. Kefauver in the Tenth Congressional District campaign, the widest margin the congressman received in his re-nomination. Curtis had 2783 votes to Kefauver's 245.

"Native son" Ellis Sutcliffe of Newton drew heavy support in his bid for nomination as county commissioner, polling 1575 votes — more than the other eight candidates combined.

The 1270 Democrats who voted gave Robert F. Murphy a 1035 to 170 margin over former attorney-general Francis Kelly for governor. Clement A. Riley, and Foster Furcolo, endorsed by the pre-primary convention for treasurer and senator respectively, both outdistanced their combined opponents by two to one.

In the Democrat contest for the Tenth Congressional District nomination, Jackson J. Holtz had 956 votes to Waldo

579 More Students than Last Year Report Monday for School Opening

Nearly 14,600 Now Enrolled In Newton's Public Schools

Sending to nearly 14,600 the total number of pupils enrolled in Newton public schools, 579 more students reported at Monday's opening of classes as summer came to its official end with the beginning of the 1954-55 school year.

The increased enrollment is expected to reach 600 at the end of the month, when families returning late to Newton have all returned. The same increase is expected to repeat itself next year.

The elementary school population jumped 246 pupils, with three Newtonville schools leading the way. Clafin School had the most new pupils as 39 new faces reported for classes. The Carr School added 35, mostly from a nearby housing project, and the Cabot School had 23 more children. The Oak Hill School had 29 more, and the Pierce School in West Newton, 17 more.

Reflecting the rise in births during World War II, the junior high schools had 268 more students than last year as the "war baby" classes reached the seventh grade. Increases reported were Weeks Junior High, 90; Warren, 74; Day, 63; and Bigelow, 41.

Sixty-five more boys and girls entered Newton High School and the Technical-Vocational High School.

To take care of the extra pupil load so the schools will not overflow, some pupils were shifted from the Memorial School in Newton Centre to the Spaulding School, which

23 Newton Men Given Sendoff For Induction

Twenty volunteers were among a contingent of 23 Newton men who left for duty in the armed forces Monday morning after sendoff ceremonies at Selective Service Headquarters in Newtonville.

With about 30 more volunteers waiting to be taken into the service next month, Newton probably will not have to call up any registrants to fill the October quota. This continues a trend started in May, when the first large number of volunteers replaced prospective inductees.

Leaving after the ceremonies for Boston Army Base were:

25% of Population Over 20 Years Of Age, Not Eligible to Vote Here

Over one-quarter of Newton's population who are 20 years of age or over, are not eligible to vote.

This startling figure was released this week by the League of Women Voters of Newton, who have recently completed an exhaustive analysis of the registration figures in the city.

Of a total population of 58,072 who were over 20 years old on January 1, 1954, the total unregistered voters is 15,315. Unregistered women in the city total 8,625, men 6,690 and young people of 21, 454.

Announcing these figures as the opening gun in an extensive campaign for total registration in Newton, Mrs. Richard G. Mintz, Voters Service chairman of the Newton League, said that the analysis of these figures is the first step in a community-wide project to urge everyone who is eligible, to vote in the city, state and national elections. It is hoped, Mrs. Mintz said, that other organizations in the city will join at a future date in an intensive campaign, whereby a personal

Edna Was A Lady Compared With Her Sister Carol

Edna Harricane proved a more refined lady in Newton last Saturday than did her sister Carol Harricane previously, and aside of cutting a few capers in scattered sections of the city, conducted herself in more or less ladylike fashion.

Newton, fortunately, sustained no where near the amount of damage which the previous hurricane vented on property here although the torrential rains Saturday did much damage to cellars of homes, mercantile and industrial establishments. The streets of the city also suffered from the heavy rains, and on Westchester road, a dozen families had to be evacuated from their homes as water reached a height of about 8 feet when Edna's Pond overflowed. Two other families were evacuated from their homes in West Newton, and the new Countryside School on Dedham street, Newton Highlands, was flooded to the first floor.

Many streets had to be blocked off because of floods, and two streets, Upland road, from Heatherland to Dedham street, Oak Hill, and Margaret road, had to be closed as the result of being undermined. Reinforced by a fresh crew from Cleveland, Ohio, Edison Company workers at the Homer street power station, had power

G.O.P. Receives Jolt in Maine Election... Faces Confident Democratic Party in Massachusetts...

This has not been a reassuring week for the Republicans. First, the Democrats captured the Governorship in Maine for the first time in 20 years, and the winning candidates for the U. S. Senate and Congress found their pluralities shaved down in startling fashion.

Here in Massachusetts, while the Republicans were largely assuming the role of passive bystanders in the primary, two men who will head the Democratic State ticket in the coming autumn campaign demonstrated sturdy vote-getting ability.

There was nothing unexpected about the victories scored by the Representative Robert F. Murphy and State Treasurer Foster Furcolo in their bids for the Democratic nominations for Governor and U. S. Senator, but the one-sided margins by which they scored their wins surpassed anticipations.

That doesn't mean that the Republicans are staring certain defeat in the face here in Massachusetts. But it does mean that the G.O.P. is confronted with the prospect of a hard and bitter campaign. It means that the picture isn't nearly as bright for the Republican party in the Bay State as it was a few months ago, and it means, too, that the G.O.P. is fortunate, indeed, that its State ticket is headed by two vote-getters of the stature of Governor Christian A. Herter and Senator Leverett Saltonstall. This promises to be a campaign in which the men will be separated from the boys.

Three Day X-ray Survey Last Week Set Record

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, 1357 Washington street, West Newton, has reported that a record number of 1,940 x-rays were taken in their three day free x-ray survey last week. This was the most successful health program carried on in Newton by the Association which is supported solely by the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Staff members were assisted in the work of the survey by volunteers Mrs. S. P. French, West Newton, and Mrs. Alan W. Parmenter, Newton Highlands.

plea to every unregistered voter can be made. To be the first city in the state to achieve nearly 100 percent registration is an inspiring goal, she said.

According to the analysis there are a large number of professional men in their thirties, including many doctors, who are not registered. Also, a large number of people 65 years of age or over. The answers to why these groups are not registered, and the steps to be taken to remedy this, is a task that the League has set for itself this year.

The only group not registered who are eligible to vote are servicemen on active duty, it was pointed out. These servicemen may vote by applying for an absentee ballot from the Registration Office at City Hall before each election, as long as the applicant is a legal resident of Newton.

Ward 1 has the most unregistered voters, with 1535 of a population of 5042 or 32 percent. Precinct 3 of Ward 2 shows 39 percent unregistered, or 540 of a population of 1391. Ward 3 shows 2545 unregistered voters, of a population of 8985, or 28 percent.

Other percentages are: Ward 2, 27 percent or 2369 unregistered of a population of 8888; Ward 7, 26 percent or 1251 unregistered of a population of 4730; Ward 4, 25 percent unregistered or 1114 of a population of 5584; Ward 6, 25 percent unregistered or 2395 of a population of 10,493; and Ward 5, 24 percent or 3606 unregistered of a population of 15,584.

The League has announced these figures this week in the hope that those who are unregistered will do so between September 15 and October 1 in order to vote in the state election November 2.

League members working on the analysis of the figures are: Mrs. Chester Lipsett, chairman, and Mesdames David Cooper, Joseph Miller, Irving Rabinowitz, John Schulman, Charles Williamson, Shepard Yesley, George Flashen, Herbert Morrison, Richard Myerson, William Phillips, Phillip Ratzkoff and John Worcester.

opened in the spring. Rooms were partitioned to accommodate new children at the Cabot and Claffin Schools.

For the first time, four classes entered the new pentagonal-shaped addition to the Franklin School in West Newton. School officials are anxiously watching how the prefabricated, 75 percent movable addition works out, as it may be a simple solution to finding extra school space.

Thirteen hundred children entered kindergarten, and more are expected before the week is out. This is part of the wave of pupils expected to wash through the schools in coming years.

The kindergarten increase reflects the birth of 1,516 children representing the record year—1952 when 1,648 were born—reach school age.

restored almost 100 per cent by Monday night.

Most of the damage in the city resulted from fallen branches, rather than from trees as in the previous hurricane, but many main fuses were blown as the result of installations being flooded by the heavy rainfall.

In comparison with other communities, the storm Saturday, did not hit here with the fury that the first hurricane did.

NEWTON POLICE CHIEF Phillip Purcell, co-chairman, and Paramount Theatre Manager Alex Castoldi, chairman of the Newton Jimmy Fund Drive which opened September 11, announced that one thousand Jimmy Fund banks were distributed throughout Newton this year. Foreign students number ten in all, with three from Mexico, two from Peru, two from British West Indies, one from Cuba, one from Venezuela, and one from Delhi, India. The last, however, hardly ranks as a "foreign" student, for she is Miss Catherine Flanagan, daughter of an official of the American Embassy in India. Her local address is 1475 Centre street, Roslindale, Massachusetts.

Newton residents in the class are Miss Veronica Brown of 28 Payne road, Newton Highlands; Ann Louise Claumeyer of 62 Dalton road, Newton Centre; Miss Josephine Kirk of 180 Franklin street, Newton; and Miss Lucille Saccone of 35 Buswell Park, Newton. Miss Maureen Ronan of 6 Ashmont road, Waban, will also be in the class. Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. was represented by Alderman Harry H. Ham, and Veterans Services Agent Edmund T. Dungan gave each man leaving a pen and pencil set as a gift from the city. Armored Group, and, subsequently, the 12th Tank Group. In 1943 Colonel Leone was assigned to the European Theatre of Operations where he served as Regimental Commander of the 36th Armored Infantry Regiment.

Returning to the United States in 1946, he was selected to be Military Advisor to the New York National Guard. In this capacity he served with the 42nd Division and the famous 107th Infantry Regiment.

Prior to commanding Fort Hamilton, Colonel Leone was Deputy Commander of the Berlin Command.

Colonel Leone has been active in the field of sports during his entire military career. While at the Military Academy he was Boxing Champion and manager of the football team. He plays polo and is an ardent golfer.

As Commander of Fort Hamilton, Colonel Leone was responsible for re-establishing an active sports program on the post, particularly in the field of boxing.

For his World War II service, Colonel Leone was awarded the Combat Infantry Badge, the Bronze Star, and the Medal De Le Recon of the Provisional French Government.

Colonel Leone is married to the former Caroline Whittemore, daughter of Carl T. Whittemore of West Newton. He and his wife plan to make their future home in West Newton.

Full-Time Exec'v Director Named to Newton Boys Club

August E. Mascaro of 255 Derby street, West Newton, nationally-known worker with boys, has been appointed the first full-time executive director of the Newton Boys Club, which is located at 38 Dalby street, Newton.

Mr. Mascaro, who is married and the father of a son and daughter, plans to supply the boys with a diversified program to serve as many interests as possible. His daughter, Mary, is attending Newton High School and his son, David, is a student at Warren Junior High.

"The Newton Boys Club is now an affiliate of the Boys Club of America," he points out, "and will do everything possible to maintain the high standards of the national organization." The Club opened for the fall season yesterday (Wednesday), and Mr. Mascaro invites all parents to visit the club.

At age 9, Mr. Mascaro became a member of the Mount Vernon, New York Boys' Club, later became a volunteer leader. At 16 he was elected to the board of directors of the Club.

He became physical director of the Navy Yard Boys' Club of Brooklyn in 1925, and in 1926 became director. From 1928 to 1930 he served as physical director of the Boys' Club of Washington, D. C. Central Branch and in 1930 he returned to Mount Vernon to assume duties of executive director. He returned to Washington D. C. Boys' Club, Central Branch, as assistant director until 1932, when he accepted appointment as executive director of the Boys' Club of New Rochelle, N. Y., where he served for 10 years. From 1942 to 1950 he served as assistant director of the Eastern Branch and director of the Jelleff Branch's newly constructed $250,000 building in Washington, D. C.

Under his direction, the Boys' Club of Washington Concert Band was developed. Other units organized were an orchestra and an accordion band. A corps of six music instructors were required to teach instrumental music to about 300 boys. He organized the National Capital Instrument Music contest with Mrs. Harry Truman, as Honorary Chairman. Included in the music development were summer concerts in the parks of Washington with a concert on the Band Stand in front of the Capitol, and annual concert at Constitution Hall. During his 34 years of devoted services with boys, thousands of boys have been assisted in becoming good citizens.

In 1945 the Boys' Club of Washington awarded him the Distinguished Service Award. In 1951 Mr. Edwin Hall, President of the Boys' Clubs of America presented him with the Boys' Clubs of America Bronze medal for long and devoted services to boys.

Church School Children Make Toys for Indian Community

Indian children at the Gallup Indian Community Center in New Mexico are playing with toy engines and tenders made and gaily painted by church school children of the First Unitarian Society in Newton during "projects" period of their two-hour Sunday School sessions. Formally presented to the Unitarian Service Committee, which has established the Indian Community Center at Gallup, through the local chairman, Miss Lilley-Owen Smith, by Michael Coulter, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lowell V. Coulter, on Children's Day, a letter of appreciation has just been received by the West Newton Unitarian Church. L. B. Moore, Unitarian Service Committee Project director at the Gallup Indian Community Center, writes:

"Dear Friends: The package of toys and wooden train which you so kindly sent for the use of our Gallup Indian Community Center project has arrived in good order. The materials will be used where they serve the greatest need of Indian people in this area."

"We are advising our Boston office of your contribution. If not already there, your name will be added to our USC mailing list.

"Thank you so much for your thoughtful cooperation. We appreciate your support for this program."

"Sincerely yours, L. B. Moore, U.S.C. Project Director, Gallup Community Indian Center."

John F. Taplin, chairman of the church finance committee, and father of five children in the West Newton Unitarian Church school, has served as director of projects, with Parker M. Lord as associate director in the making of these toys for Indian children. Both the Lower and Upper Church School from Grades 1 through 8, participated in the toy-making periods on Sunday mornings. The two-hour Sunday School session is divided into four half-hour periods: worship service in the new children's chapel conducted by the minister, Rev. John Ogden Fisher; church school class lessons in graded groups; visual education, including movies, film strips and plays; and projects and choir practice.

This is a distinctly new idea in religious education, but no longer an experiment at the West Newton Unitarian Church, where the two-hour sessions from 10 to 12 o'clock will continue for the third successive year when Sunday School reopens October 3. The two-hour experiment was begun by the local religious education committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach, jr. and has continued with Frederick G. Fisher as chairman of religious education, and the addition of Harry B. Taplin to the church staff as lay assistant to the minister and director of religious education. Incidentally, it is the latter's son, John F. Taplin, who has supervised the toy-making project, in which the five Taplin grandchildren have participated.

News of the safe arrival in Gallup, N. M., of these brightly-painted toys, the making of which was as much fun for the West Newton Unitarian children as giving, as for the little Indian children who received them, will be read to the church school at its first fall assembly October 3 and posted on the church school bulletin board.

Doubtless this year's "projects" periods will provide more interesting adventures for a larger group of children expected to enroll in the West Newton Unitarian Church School, enrollment in which

Hurricanes Make Two Busy Weeks for Local Red Cross

William Falconer, Newton Red Cross chapter chairman, and Donald E. Rust, Jr., disaster chairman, have issued the following report:

The volunteer services of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, have had a busy two weeks coping with the aftermaths of the late, but not lamented, Hurricanes Carol and Edna.

Acting in co-operation with Civil Defense, all the trained volunteer services were put on the alert as soon as the first word of the storms came through; but it is after the blow has struck that Red Cross goes into action.

Scarcely had the peak winds begun to subside when the work of Canteen, Motor Service, Home Service, Gray Ladies, Staff Aides, Nurse's Aides and others began. Civil Defense, Police and Firemen, as well as other emergency crews, were fed coffee and sandwiches while at their posts. Home Service was handling calls from anxious families seeking information about relatives at far points throughout New England's stricken areas.

The Chapter House at 21 Foster street, Newtonville, did not escape the power failure.

Candles and kerosene lamps were doing duty in the office and kitchen well into the night.

When Carol's fury was spent, Newton Red Cross took its turn in helping the overburdened New Bedford Chapter to care for and feed the hundreds of homeless families in Wareham. A station wagon with six volunteers left early on the morning of Sunday, the 5th. They made up lunches and suppers at the Wareham disaster headquarters, and helped to feed over 600 people before returning to Newton at 10 o'clock that night.

The Disaster Committee under Mr. Rust was just beginning to take a deep breath of relaxation when Edna was announced. As all will recall, that tempestuous lady brought the most continuous torrential downpour in the memory of most of us. Red Cross was called upon to assist in the evacuation of several families whose homes were flooded. Serno kits were taken out to warm babies' milk.

With final figures yet to be determined, it is estimated that some 50 trained volunteer workers of Newton Red Cross put in a total of at least 425 hours of service. This has been an example of the type of service that Red Cross is pledged to perform in the community. The tools which are used, however, are only available through the generosity of our citizens at Fund time each March.

Carol and Edna have again proved the slogan that "When Disaster Strikes, Your Red Cross is There."

Heed the Law

School is open! A good time for you to review and heed the little known law enacted by Massachusetts last year for the safe protection of children driving to school in the familiar yellow bus.

Come to a full stop when a school bus is discharging or taking on passengers. The life you save may be your own child's. The law reads:

"When approaching a school bus which displays front and rear blinking lights and which has stopped to take on or discharge passengers, the law requires every operator of a motor vehicle to stop immediately before passing, no matter in which direction he is moving. Having stopped, the operator may then proceed to pass at not more than 10 miles per hour if he can do so safely. This procedure is not required if he approaches the bus from the opposite direction on the other side of a divided highway nor unless the bus carries a school bus sign, and blinking lights. (A divided highway is any way with an island, curbing or barrier intended to prevent turning except at intersections.)

When your child enters school this year, there's one chance in three that he'll be transported by the yellow school bus. Eight million of the nation's children are thus carried to school daily during the educational year. That's four times the number of passengers carried daily on all of the nation's railroad and bus lines.

To assure safety in school bus operation, all 48 states have adopted the uniform color of chrome yellow for the vehicles; and three states out of every four have adopted minimum standards for their school buses. Massachusetts is one of them.

Representative Murphy's victory in the Democratic gubernatorial battle was slightly more impressive than Furcolo's win in the senatorial race.

Furcolo beat back the challenges of two opponents of no particular standing. One of them sought the nomination for lieutenant governor at the Democratic State Convention and was turned down. The other comes out of the political mothballs about every six years to run for the U. S. Senate. Neither is any political ball of fire.

But Murphy was matched against Francis E. Kelly who served four years as Attorney General, two years as lieutenant governor, who was waging his 10th successive primary campaign and who was recognized both as a stalwart vote-getter in a Democratic primary and a political foe not to be underestimated.

Many political observers were not certain that Murphy could defeat Kelly at all, much less overwhelm him. They were extremely cautious in discussing the contest, pointing out that Murphy was making his first primary run, while Kelly was a veteran of many a political battle.

But Murphy defeated his better known adversary by a margin of 2-1, and as the primary returns were tabulated a new Democratic figure assumed the mantle of leadership of his political party. The quiet, unassuming, hard-working Murphy, who had been known mostly as an efficient Democratic workhorse in the State Legislature, served notice that he is a man to be reckoned with before the 1954 elections are decided in Massachusetts.

That is not intended to detract any credit for Treasurer Furcolo who also proved himself quite a man at the polls. Furcolo's supporters can afford to be jubilant over his showing. But his opposition wasn't of the same stern caliber as Murphy's.

Standing in the background as the political camps rocked with celebrations or were fogged by gloom late Tuesday night was ex-Governor Paul A. Dever who was largely responsible for the selection of Murphy and Furcolo to head the Democratic campaign in this State and who had swung thousands of votes to them in his efforts to help them achieve a spectacular victory.

The one thing this observer wonders, however, is to what extent the Democrats spent their ammunition in the primary battling. Dever for example, will be an effective figure in the primary campaign, but he will not be as effective as if he had sat out the preliminary fight and had waited for the payoff contest before taking the stump.

Now it will be no sensation and no surprise when Dever takes to the hustings in October and sounds his political clarion calls for Murphy and Furcolo.

The Republicans, on the other hand, have held their fire, and they have probably the strongest state ticket their party has offered in the memory of this on-looker. Herter, Saltonstall, Whittier, Fingold, McCarthy, Constantino, Means, Matched against is the combination of Murphy-Furcolo - Burke - Collins - Cronin-Buckley-Kennedy.

The clash between the two groups will be one well worth watching, and neither side can take too much for granted.

Probably the most remarkable development of the primary, even if it was not entirely unexpected, was the nomination of John F. Kennedy of Canton as the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer.

There is no question but that Kennedy received the votes of thousands of people who confused him with U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy, and that he benefited materially from the confusion. In truth, he probably could not have won except for it.

Kennedy is practically a political unknown who in his own right could not have defeated either State Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley of Norwood or Boston School Committee Chairman William F. Carr, save for the fact that he has the same name as the junior U. S. Senator from Massachusetts.

Now that Kennedy has won his primary battle and in so doing overturned the action of the Democratic State Convention, Democratic leaders must welcome him onto their State ticket, but there is some question as to how warm and sincere that welcome may be.

As a passing comment on the Maine election, this observer would offer the opinion that it foretells the election of Democratic House in Congress seven weeks from now.

There were local factors and influences in Maine, just as there will be in Massachusetts.

Governor Cross was defeated for a second term because of his own unpopularity, not because of the anti-Eisenhower feeling.

The plurality of Senator Margaret Chase Smith dropped off sharply because she stopped trying to woo the Democrats and made partisan Republican speeches in an attempt to help pull Cross through, a sacrifice on her part that proved of no avail.

But, as political experts across the land bend over the Maine returns to analyze their significant, the thing that will get them pause will be the staggering fall-off in the vote of the three Republican Congressmen in Maine.

When the scholars of politics are searching for political trends, they usually go below the top of the ticket and down to the vote for Congress. But whatever portion of the Maine vote is studied bespeaks a Democratic drift.

The one forecast we believe can be safely made now is that the Democrats are very likely to regain control of the national House of Representatives in November unless there is a drastic shift in the political trends and tides.

Army officials discovered that former Private Richard Brown, 18, had lived at Camp Kilmer in New Jersey for a month after his discharge from the service. May be they'll ask him to pay board.

Pravda, Communist party newspaper, accused Russia's People's Courts of displaying too much mercy and flayed one judge for acquitting a truck driver of a charge of stealing meat. That sounds as if either the judge or the editorial writer will be starting shortly for Siberia, if he isn't already on his way there.

Three Kansas City police officers dashed into a house in response to a report that the gas was turned on. Two had to turn and rush out because of faulty gas adjustments. The third set fire to his pants by stepping into a pan of flaming formaldehyde. They later discovered the house was empty and was just being fumigated.

Naturalists have discovered huge cattle herds on two uninhabited islands 300 miles south of New Zealand. The cattle apparently were descended from livestock landed there in sailing-ship days for the use of shipwrecked mariners. The naturalists also found millions of rabbits with silvery-black fur and tame as domestic cats.

After the Town Council in Campbellton, N. B., requested the Mounted Police to crack down on illegal fishing in the town's reservoir, the Mounties obediently did their duty and apprehended Campbellton's Police Committee Chairman Leonard Day. Somebody's face must certainly have been red.

Dr. R. R. Denicola of Richland, Wash., reported that in an operation to cure a patient's severe coughing, he removed a surgeon's glove which had lodged in one lung for 12 years.

Mrs. Ora Baker became suspicious, when her husband absent-mindedly began to call her "Amanda" three days after they were married. She checked up and discovered that he had a wife named "Amanda" in California.

Kansas City police were a bit curious as to why X. L. Rogers had hidden in his shoe $230, which he was accused of stealing. They were a bit taken back, when Rogers told them: "I was afraid of being robbed."

Letters to the Editor

SOME GOOD CRITICAL OBSERVATIONS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I feel that it is high time that some comments were made about the deplorable job that our city has done in clearing up the remains of our two breezy girl friends, Carol and Edna. It has been two weeks since the first hurricane and not a single city truck has appeared to remove the debris in many areas. Similarly, no attempt has been made to collect the weekly trash. If the vehicles and men used for this job are tied up in other work, the city should at least have the courtesy to advise its citizens of its intentions by bulletin or news release. Barrels left on the sidewalk have tipped over, covering the streets with litter. Those who care enough about the appearance of their neighborhood are arm weary from carrying barrels in and out of the cellar.

The lack of action by those responsible for the cleanup leads one to believe that they are proud to display the damage done in Newton to the thousands of sight-seers driving through our once proud Garden City.

You are the editor of a potentially powerful voice. If you think your main function is solely to report weddings, deaths and club meetings or to sell cocker spaniels, you are failing to do your job for over 10,000 subscribers and countless other readers. Why is it that your paper feels compelled to string along with City Hall when in truth you should be attacking our administration for the miserable performance the street department has done?

The privately operated telephone and electric companies are doing a heroic job to restore Newton to normalcy. The work has been done by long hours and hard work. They have recognized their responsibility to the public. But the city apparently isn't up to making the supreme effort so necessary in these times.

If this current failing were the only one, it could possibly be written off to the disastrous storms. However, sub-par performance has become the rule rather than the exception. Snow removal in Newton is notoriously slow. Many of our neighbors put us to shame each winter with their rapid, efficient clearing of the streets and immediate applications of sand.

These things should be remembered by all of us at election time. It is all too easy to forget what happened in the past when we mark our ballots in the future. I have lived in Newton all my life and couldn't ask for a pleasanter place in which to live. However, my displeasure with the present mess is obvious. You, the Newton Graphic, should examine your conscience and take the required action that has made the American press the power that it is.

J. LEO APPEL, JR.
35 Evelyn road, Waban, Mass.

Editor's Note: Although part of Mr. Appel's remarks are somewhat critical of the policy of this paper, to date, we are happy to print his letter and to agree, to a considerable extent, that his criticisms are not without merit. This paper, as a service to this community, has been watching developments very closely for the past five years, particularly as it relates to the political picture here and is developing and formulating its policy on a basis of facts. Perhaps the points which Mr. Appel calls attention to are not too remote from the thoughts of this paper and we thank Mr. Appel for his frank discussion of the situation which he so ably presents.

INCUMBENTS ARE TOO COMPLACENT

Editor, Newton Graphic:

As a resident of Newton who drives to and from downtown

Boston each day, I feel that I've suffered in silence long enough. Invariably, it takes well over an hour to fight my way through Kenmore square (Brookline Village is worse!) and up Beacon street to Cleveland Circle . . . about four miles.

New highways and improved old ones are being constructed all the time on the Southern and Northern approaches to Boston - Storrow Drive, and the new highways to the North Shore - but what about the western approaches to the city? Central Boston gets new roads, Chelsea gets new roads, the South Shore gets new roads, Brookline gets the turnpike widened, but poor old Newton gets nothing. What's happened to the overpass at Hammond street? At Kenmore square? Conditions haven't improved in 20 years, even though Newton is getting the increased traffic of Natick and Wellesley.

It's about time Newton got some Representatives in the State Legislature who are aggressively interested in local traffic conditions and who are willing to introduce some corrective legislation toward this end. Our incumbents are too safe and complacent to be concerned. I'm going to vote for a change in November. Maybe Newton will, in that way, get the benefits to which it is entitled.

NEED TO BE FOREWARNED

Editor, Newton Graphic:

It has now become apparent that some other means must be found where the general public can be warned and kept informed as to happenings; and as they are liable to occur with the necessary remedial action. The public would then know what course to pursue, for the greater protection of their welfare and safety.

The recent visit of hurricane Carol and her cousin Edna to Newton and our neighboring communities; not only destroyed all lines of communication and power, but have caused great worry, suffering and distress; thereby creating greater bonds of friendship, and a spirit of entente cordiale amongst our people.

Our sick, our aged, and our infirm have also been innocent victims; together with storekeepers and home or property owners. These are people who really suffered and need relief and assurance of safety for the future. Their financial loss was enormous and runs into the millions of dollars.

We should not let this opportunity pass without calling to the attention of the proper civil authorities, that our government should do everything within its power to devise ways and means to alleviate all unneccessary suffering; and as how to cope with an atomic attack, where the damage and destruction would be terrific with untold loss of life.

Let us be realistic and face this problem in its true sense and nature. Let us stop spending money foolishly, and warn the people through publication in our newspapers, as to what course to follow. Should we vacate our homes and seek shelter in some out-lying centers, set up by our Civil Defense authorities as a safety measure and a place of haven?

Time is running out and the day is fast approaching when the people should be told what and how to do it; especially the aged, sick and infirm - together with all those without means of transportation, and unable to evacuate to out-lying sections.

We now know that it is practically useless to depend on your radio, telephone or television for detailed information. We have been shown how these utilities have been knocked out suddenly and swiftly by mother nature in all her fury. What we need is a well informed and educated public. To be forewarned is to be fore-armed.

Post-Hurricane Tree Care

Now Comes the Problem of Repairs

By CARL C. PERRY

Hurricane Carol left in its path here, a sorry sight of strewn branches, uprooted trees, broken utility wires and damaged buildings. Thanks to the indefatigable efforts of so many willing hands working "around the clock," much of the litter has been removed and public utilities have been almost completely restored. Property owners and public authorities are now faced with the problem of repairing the damage to the trees that still stand, wounded and in need of care.

Even the most casual observation of the fallen limbs and broken trunks discloses the fact that many, yes, most of the trees that were damaged had been weakened by rot that had developed, mostly unseen, within the trees. Some of this could have been presented, because the rot started in most cases in the remains of broken branches shattered in previous wind or ice storms that seem to visit us with increasing frequency. In other words, the stubs had not been properly treated permitting the entry of rot-producing fungi. The major tree problem ahead, therefore, is to treat the wounds that have resulted from the breaking of branches and limbs. This can be accomplished by carefully pruning the splintered stubs or injured branches and then treating the wound with a fungicidal dressing.

The first step in the process of stub and branch removal is to make a preliminary cut about 10 inches beyond the point where the final cut is to be made. This is done by sawing upward from the lower side of the stub or branch, about one-third through. A second cut is then started on the upper side and about 6 inches beyond the under cut, until the stub or branch is severed. These preliminary cuts are made to prevent stripping of the bark. The final cut is made by sawing flush with the limb or trunk from which the stub is to be pruned, care being taken to support the stub just before the cut is completed.

It is best to apply a dressing to all wounds more than 2 inches in diameter. Special tree paints are available at hardware or seed stores. A satisfactory substitute can be made by stirring together raw linseed oil and commercial bordeaux powder to form a thick paint to be applied to the wound with a brush. With the renewal of plant activity in the spring, healing will begin and will continue until scar tissue covers the wound. This will take years, depending on the size of the wound and the vigor of the individual tree. Redressing is recommended, therefore, as needed during this healing process.

This removal of damaged branches and stubs constitutes the first line of action needed in post-hurricane tree care. In many instances, other work will be necessary. On trunks where the bark has been torn away, the jagged edges should be cut away and the bark at the edge smoothed off with a sharp knife and the wound shaped to facilitate the healing process. Such wounds should be dressed, of course. Still other work will entail the elimination of rotted tissue in trunk wounds and painting the resulting cavity. Some trees may need cabling of forked trunks or large limbs. The degree to which these treatments can be applied will depend on the vigor and value of the surviving tree and the expense involved.

In many cases repair work will be beyond the physical abilities of the property owner, in which case Newton residents are fortunate in having within the city or in neighboring communities, a number of reliable arborists available for such work. You may have to wait for the services of these local tree workers. Remember, too, that working on ladders is hazardous to the inexperienced individual.

What about the public shade trees? Locally we have an excellent tree-care department. This department is equal to the task, but it will cost money. Tree-lovers should unite in a demand that adequate funds be provided by the authorities so that our street trees may be given the post-hurricane treatment needed. It will be money well spent, because much of the damage that occurred on August 31 could have been prevented through more adequate tree care, and can be prevented for the future. Years ago a plan was set up under which all street trees in a given section of a community would be inspected each year and given proper surgery treatment. Over a period of years the entire community was to be covered systematically. Unfortunately, this plan was not followed for long, because of inadequate appropriations for the purpose. It would have been money well expended and would have been the means of preventing the fall of many a limb with its devastating effect on public utility lines.

The degree to which any of the trees "come back" will depend on the age of the tree and upon its physical condition. If of the younger type, the tree usually has a goodly supply of small branchlets and it will be relied upon to restore the trees. Some species develop a greater number of these small branchlets than others, and they will be the trees in which recovery will be the greatest. The young Elm, for example, is usually supplied with an abundance of these small branches or branchlets, while the Sugar Maple develops them most sparingly. In all this consideration of possible recovery, the one encouraging fact is that in the majority of cases the injury that has occurred has not affected the vitality of the tree, but rather its physical form. In other words, the trees have an enormous amount of energy stored up in roots, trunk, and remaining branches so that the initial response at least, should be most satisfactory.

Post-hurricane tree repair and surgery can be done at any time, but should be completed if possible prior to sap run, come spring. Out of this disaster to our trees comes the thought that Nature has great recuperative powers, and in a comparatively short time, the evidence of the damage and the scars in the landscape will be erased somewhat. However, Nature as represented by our surviving trees needs assistance, the better to withstand the violence of the elements when another Great Wind comes our way, as come it will.

Wire Inspector Is Named to Electrical Comm.

Robert E. Murray, Newton's inspector of wires, has been named to the electrical week committee of the Paul Revere chapter of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors, Joseph W. Ross of Weymouth, chapter chairman, announced.

The committee will direct a program in observance of National Electrical Week in Massachusetts, October 18-24.

Newton Firm to Build New Junior High School

Newton firm to build new Junior High School. A contract has been awarded to the Wexler Construction Company, Inc. of Newton Highlands for the construction of the new Meadowbrook Junior High School in the Oak Hill District of Newton.

Among previous school projects completed by the Wexler Construction Company, Inc. in this region are the Fiske School, Wellesley, Fells School, Wellesley, Westboro School, Westboro and the Bennett-Hemenway School, Natick.

Architects for the Meadow-brook School are Rich and Tucker Associates, 45 Newbury street, Boston.

Completion of the new school will give Newton one of the finest Junior High School buildings in the nation and will add further to an already distinguished record of caring for the school needs of the children of Newton.

Work on the school has already begun and it is expected that construction will be completed in the Winter of 1955.

Temple Emanuel Plans Identical Pair of Services

Two identical services will be conducted for the High Holy Days at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, this year, according to Joseph Greenbaum, president.

The Temple Sanctuary and the recently-completed Community Hall, both of which are air-conditioned, will be the setting for the Rosh Hashonah (Jewish New Year). Services will take place beginning Monday evening, September 27th, at 6:15 p.m.; Tuesday morning, September 28th, at 8 a.m.; Tuesday evening, September 28th, at 6:15 p.m.; Wednesday morning, September 29th, at 8 a.m.

Two thousand worshippers will offer their prayers unto the Almighty for a year of peace among men.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader of the Temple, and Cantor Gabriel Hochberg, will be assisted by Dr. Solomon Grayzel, editor of the Jewish Publication Society of America, noted historian and author, and Cantor Max Alperstein, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, in conducting the identical services. They will be accompanied by the Temple Emanuel Choirs under the direction of Louis Sigel; Mrs. Rhoda J. Kaplan and Arthur Fultz, organists. The Rabbis, Cantors and Choirs will alternate in conducting the Services in the Main Temple and the Community Hall.

Installation Tonight

Walter T. Hannigan of Newton Highlands will be installed as deputy grand knight of the Cardinal O'Connell Council, Knights of Columbus, tonight (Thursday) at ceremonies in Fr. Clink Auditorium of St. Ignace Church, Chestnut Hill.

Photographs to Portray Work Of 32 Local Playgrounds

A complete photographic exhibit of Newton children's activities with the Recreation Department in 1954 will be displayed at Atwood's Camera Shop, 21 Pelham street, Newton Centre, (next to Municipal parking lot) starting today, September 15.

Fifty photographs portray the summer happenings of our children on the 32 Newton playground areas, including Crystal Lake.

Highlights of the exhibit will be the Field Day event photos from all the play areas. The Field Days represent the culmination of all activities that took place during the summer months.

The program consists of things such as: crafts display of projects made, bicycle and vehicle parade, doll carriage parade and dancing exhibitions.

Also there are demonstrations of team games: volleyball, kick ball and tug of war. Pie eating contests, sack races, shoe tying races, potato races, obstacle and relay races are a major part of the activities.

"More Newton children than ever took advantage of the recreation facilities on the 32 playground areas in 1954 than in any previous year! This past season has truly been the most active to date," says Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson.

WITHIN A 12-DAY PERIOD, no utility system in the country ever before faced the problems of service restoration left in the wake of hurricanes Carol and Edna. The Boston Edison field forces were reinforced by hundreds of out-of-state line crews from as far west as Detroit, Akron and Cincinnati. Weary after the recovery battle following Carol, the destruction wrought by Edna was largely cleared late Monday night. Linemen from New York and Pennsylvania are shown arriving to aid Boston Edison linemen restore service in Newton.

Residential Division Leaders Discuss Plans

More than 50 leaders in the Residential Division of the Newton Red Feather Campaign, to be held this fall, attended a meeting at Brae Burn Country Club last evening (Wednesday) when plans for the Campaign were discussed. Edward A. Green, Residential Chairman, presided and on the program were Benjamin Shattuck, Newton Campaign Chairman, Henry J. Wilson, Assistant Campaign Chairman, Nathan D. Bugbee, President of the Newton Community Chest, and H. J. Pettengill, Campaign Director.

It was announced that Newton's Campaign dates in the Residential Division will be from October 21 to November 15, with preliminary solicitation in the advance divisions starting October 1. In addition to the Kick-Off Dinner to launch the Campaign, plans are being made to hold a Worker Information Theatre Party at which time those who are to do the actual soliciting will have opportunity to learn by demonstration, through slide films and movies the types of services rendered by Red Feather Agencies and the good that they accomplish. Announcement of these dates will be made later.

In advance of these two large meetings there will be group meetings of Captains, Majors, Assistant Chairmen, and Chairmen from the various Newton districts under the leadership of the three Assistant Residential Chairmen, Norton Grossman of Chestnut Hill; Philip Segal of Newton; and Frederic D. Tower of Auburndale.

In addition to the leaders mentioned above the following were invited to the Brae Burn meeting: Newton—John W. Gurney, Chairman; George E. Rawson, B. Moskow, and Miss Moira Sullivan, Assistant Chairmen; Francis D. Donovan, Jr., William H. Frisbee, Jr., Robert Hunter, Wilbur Hayes, Kenneth L. Yukes, and Miss Patricia Cunningham, Majors. West Newton—Stephen B. Wellington, Chairman; Mrs. David S. Bond, George R. Hayes, Edward W. Pride, Jr., and Mrs. George O. Boule, Jr., Assistant Chairmen; David Rallsback, Oscar Varriale, Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, William T. Schenk, Mrs. Richard F. Carey, and Mrs. Manuel S. Taylor, Majors. Newton Centre—Leslie A. Pike, Chairman; C. E. Gould Capon, Joseph G. Deitz, Henry Freeman, and Henry G. Schafer, Assistant Chairmen; Frank S. Metcalf, Edgar Grossman, Abraham I. Kaye, John Tudor, Arthur Bloom, Harry C. Gibson, James F. McInerney, Majors. Newtonville—William R. Farrell, Chairman; Frederick A. Gorgone, Jr., and Donald H. Gordon, Assistant Chairmen; Lee Loumos, Richard G. Mintz, and Kenneth Champion, Majors.

Newton Highlands—Philip J. Baird, Jr., Chairman; Charles Olton, Assistant Chairman; Victor M. Kumin, John L.

Pisco's 141, Holtz went on to capture the nomination with ease.

Endicott "Chub" Peabody received 662 votes to lead the Democratic candidates for the Third District governor's councillor nomination. His nearest opponent, Thomas C. Quinn, had 248 ballots.

The most votes for any Democrat candidate were given to Murphy in his contest for the gubernatorial nomination. Newton Alderman Leo M. Cannon ranked fourth among the Democrats with 1005 votes for the state senator nomination.

Lt. Gov. Sumner G. Whittier topped the Republican slate with 3037 votes. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall was the only other C.O.P. candidate to pass the 3000-vote mark as he drew support from 3027 Newtonians.

The light voting bore out pre-election predictions that a lack of important contests—especially among Republicans—would hold down the turnout. As far as percentages are concerned, the Democratic supporters made a far better showing at the polls.

Democratic ballots were selected by 1270 voters, while there were 3165 Republicans voting. Although there were more Republicans, the totals did not carry out the 5:1 ratio that registered Republicans enjoy over the Democrats in Newton.

City Clerk Monte G. Bagbas estimated early Wednesday morning that the election would cost the city "under $2500." On this basis, each vote cost Newton 56 cents.

Cadillac

A Ride Is an Education!

There has never before been a time—since the beginning of the automotive industry—when you could learn as much about motor car performance in a single hour as you can today!

All you need do is slide behind the wheel of a new 1954 Cadillac—and head for the open highway.

That great Cadillac engine introduces you to a new measure of power and performance. It takes even the most challenging hills in easy stride—and sweeps you out of a difficult traffic situation with only the slightest pressure on the accelerator.

Cadillac's improved Hydra-Matic Drive is unbelievably responsive and silken and smooth—and takes you from a standing start to your desired rate of speed in one continuous flow of power.

You guide the car with only a feather-light touch on the wheel. It seems almost to follow the weight of your hand around the corners—and it takes you over the winding highway as if it were reading your mind.

Vision is so wide and clear that a single, sweeping glance acquaints you with traffic on every hand. Braking is unbelievably sure and easy. And you ride in such comfort and quiet that you seem to be resting in your favorite easy chair.

Yes, it's an education to take the wheel of a 1954 Cadillac—an education in all the good and wonderful things of motordom.

So stop in any time—slip into the driver's seat—and head for your favorite stretch of highway. You're in for the greatest surprise of your motoring life!

University Lutheran Church Scene of Braate-Beasom Nuptials

At the University Lutheran Church in Cambridge last Friday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Catherine Beasom, daughter of Mrs. George R. Beasom of 1 Primus street, Boston, was married to Mr. Norman John Braate, of 11 Capital street, Newton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Braaten of Minneapolis, Minn. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry E. Horn.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother Mr. George R. Beasom Jr., of Jamestown, R. I., wore a white cotton lace gown with satin binding, Juliet cap with French illusion veiling at shoulder length and she carried a white tulle bouquet.

Miss Bertha Christine Olson of Boston served as maid of honor and she wore a rose antique taffeta, ballerina length gown, and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Doris Greenquist, a sister of the groom, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Miss Lee Beasom, a niece of the bride, of Jamestown, R. I., served as junior bridesmaid.

The bride's mother, Mrs. George R. Beasom, wore a grey lace gown over pink trimmed in pink velvet with a pink velvet hat and the bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace gown.

Mr. Karl V. Struss of Carlisle, Mass., served as best man and the ushers were Mr. Earle Rowe of Belmont, Mr. James Strickland of Cambridge, Mr. Robert Roske of Waltham, and Mr. Gerald Hughes of Lexington.

Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held at the church.

The bride, a registered physical therapist, graduated from the Harvard Medical School Graduate Course in Physical Therapy and the Glendale Junior College at Glendale, Calif. The groom is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.

The couple will reside in Minneapolis, Minn.

Beverly Artz Studio Of Elocution Opens For Fall Season

The Beverly Artz Studio of Elocution has opened again at 245 Maple street, West Roxbury, with classes and private instruction for pupils of all ages.

Miss Artz studied under Wilma Dearborn Carter and is a graduate of the Bishop-Lee Theatre School. She has done radio shows in Boston and has appeared in such groups as the Bishop Lee Players, the American Theatre Wing, the New England Stock Company and the Hampton Beach Playhouse.

For two years she was the leading lady with the latter two organizations.

In addition to her own studio, Miss Artz taught elocution at the Futuristics School in Chelsea, directing plays for women's clubs proved so popular in Chelsea that Miss Artz is now offering this special feature to women's clubs in this area.

Miss Artz states that through the study of elocution and dramatics the student attains freedom of body, correct breathing habits, distinctive and unself-conscious speech without being pedantic, a well-modulated voice and self-confidence.

Modern and approved techniques are used in making voice recordings, a method designed to show the progress students are making.

Further information on the Beverly Artz School of Elocution may be obtained by calling Parkway 7-9495.

Garden Reception Held After Schirmer-Theophile Wedding

A garden reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt H. Theophile of Waban, followed the four o'clock ceremony last Saturday afternoon when Miss Gertrude H. Theophile was married to Mr. Rex Porter Schirmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Schirmer, also of Waban. The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald officiated in the Union Church, Waban, which was decorated with white carnations on the altar and candles and ferns along the aisle.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned with an imported Chantilly lace bodice, long sleeves, a rounded neck embroidered with seed pearls, and a short lace frill fell from the waistline in front lengthening into a peplum at the back over the bouffant skirt of white nylon tulle over satin. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace, which matched the gown, and was bound with white satin and edged with rows of tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Walter A. Fuller, Jr., of Needham Heights, was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ann Theophile and Miss Anne Walker of Waban; Miss Marcia Collins of Newtonville, and Miss Shirley Cullinan of Auburn. They were gowned alike in blue crystalettes, fashioned with a folded shawl collared neckline and a very full gored skirt. As hats they wore bands of matching blue straw flowers with face veils and carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers with blue predominating.

Mr. Duke Schirmer of Amherst was best man and the ushers were Mr. Sidney Smith of Geneva, N. Y., Mr. Dermot Cronin of Newton Centre, Mr. Robert D. Buck of Framingham, and Mr. Walter A. Fuller, Jr., of Needham Heights.

The bride was graduated in 1953 from Boston University, College of Practical Arts and Letters, and her husband, who prepared at the Rivers Country Day School, was graduated that year from Dartmouth College. Now attending Harvard Business School, he is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity and Phi Beta Kappa honorary society.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire they will live in Cambridge.

O'Brien-Ring Nuptials Held At St. Bernard's Church

Miss M. Josephine Ring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Ring of 46 Northgate park, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. James F. O'Brien, of Waltham, at St. Bernard's Church where a nuptial mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. last Saturday. The Rev. Daniel F. Quinn performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an imported lace gown which fell into panels with a fitted bodice over satin and nylon tulle, ending in a cathedral train of slipper satin, with a portrait neckline. Her fingertip veil was caught to a pearl trimmed cap with matching lace and she carried a prayer book with an orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Eileen Mae Ring, a sister, served as maid of honor, and she wore a simple French blue crystalette gown with a violet shell cap and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Marie Ellen

Roche of Cambridge, a cousin of the bride; M. Patricia Walsh of West Newton, and Rita M. Kindregan, also of West Newton. They wore identical gowns as that of the maid of honor.

The bride's mother wore a rustic rose street length gown of crystalette with blue hat, gloves and shoes.

Mr. Lawrence J. O'Brien, a brother of the groom, served as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Matthew J. Ring Jr., Mr. Dennis Ring of Cambridge, a cousin of the bride, and Thomas O'Brien of Waltham, a brother of the groom.

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was held at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Boston.

The bride is a graduate of St. Bernard's High School, class of 1949 and Bryant & Stratton Business School. The groom is a graduate of St. Charles High School, Waltham, class of 1945.

Following a wedding trip to Lake George and Lake Placid, the couple will reside at 35 Oak street, Newton Highlands.

Pappastathis-Kinas Wedding Held at Greek Cathedral

Sunday, August 29, at the Greek Cathedral of the Annunciation, Boston, Mr. Evangelos M. Pappastathis of Newton, took Miss Mary Alice Kinas of Brighton as his bride, with the Rev. James Coucouzis performing the marriage ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Nicholas Kinas, wore a white gown with train, nylon lace and tulle over satin, illusion net at neckline with seed pearls, a fingertip illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white orchid, stephanotis, gladioli, and white roses.

Miss Joan M. Pappastathis, a sister of the groom, served as maid of honor and she wore a smoke blue silk crystalette ballerina length gown with shoes and headpieces to match and carried an old fashioned bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Kinas, mother of the bride, wore a blue lace cocktail dress, blue velvet hat and an orchid corsage.

The ushers were Mr. Arthur Kinas, Mr. Ernest Kinas, Mr. Christopher Kinas, all of Brighton, and Mr. Nicholas Varoutsas of Woburn.

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was held at Metropolitan Hall, Brighton.

The bride is a graduate of the Hickox Secretarial School and the groom is proprietor of Carbone's Restaurant, Newton.

Following a wedding trip to Atlantic City, Ashbury Park and New York City, the couple will reside at 300 Centre street, Newton.

Miss Emma Weedon Marries Mr. Lucius Gray At Second Church

Wearing her maternal grandmother's wedding gown of ivory brocaded satin trimmed with rose point lace and carrying pale yellow roses and orange blossoms, Miss Emma Hart Weedon was married last Saturday afternoon to Mr. Lucius James Knowles Gray, son of Mrs. Knowles McPherson of New York City and Mr. William C. Gray of Washington, D. C. The four o'clock ceremony was performed in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, by the Rev. Arthur Bradford, and the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Weedon of Newtonville, was given in marriage by her father. A reception followed at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Hart Fessenden of West Newton.

The maid of honor was Miss Maureen Moher of Wellesley Hills and the bridesmaids were Miss Sally Biscoe of Chestnut Hill, Miss Sally Kinkade of Brookline, Mrs. Wallace Buell of Windsor, Conn., and Miss Jane Richardson of New York City. With their gowns of jade green taffeta, they carried bouquets of ivy with flowers in shades of yellow and orange. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Weedon wore slate blue taffeta. Mrs. McPherson, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in navy blue satin.

Miss Carol Bohlin Wed To Mr. Stephen Lee Eakman of Illinois

At the 4:30 ceremony in the Brigham Chapel of the First Church in Newton last Saturday, Miss Carol Bohlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Bohlin of Needham, became the bride of Mr. Stephen Lee Eakman, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dewey Eakman of Aledo, Ill. The Rev. Nathaniel M. Guptill officiated at the ceremony and a reception followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown

Observed Golden Anniversary On Tuesday

Rev. and Mrs. Herbert E. B. Case, of 20 Ware road, Auburn, had their golden anniversary on Tuesday, September 14. They were married in Pawtucket, R. I., their native city, in 1904. For over forty years they have resided in Auburn, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Case are graduates of Brown University, 1900 and Pembroke, 1902. After Mr. Case completed the course at Hartford Theological Seminary, they were appointed missionaries of the American Board of Foreign Missions, 14 Beacon street, Boston, and served terms in Micronesia. Mr. Case then joined the staff of the foreign department of the American Board, and continued in that position until retirement in 1942.

15,000 Mile Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. McKay of 46 Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands, have just returned from a two-month, 15,000 mile trip through countries in Africa, Asia and Europe bordering on the Mediterranean. Accompanying them was their daughter Miss Frances M. McKay of Shrewsbury.

hat of gold velvet and a cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, completed her costume. In an identical gown, Miss Deborah Whipple of Goffstown, N. Y., was bridesmaid.

Mr. Charles Adams of Oneida, Ill., was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Charles F. Banker of Pittsfield and Mr. Gerald Ernst of Lanesboro.

The bride was graduated in 1952 from Duke University and her husband is a graduate of the University of Illinois, College of Engineering. He is now stationed at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

They will live in Pittsfield following a wedding trip to Nantucket.

Candlelight Ceremony Held At Lane-Friend Nuptials

At a candlelight ceremony in Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, which was decorated with snapdragons and full mums, Miss Susan Cabot Friend was married to Mr. Franklin Johnson Lane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Johnson Lane of Winchester. The Rev. Robert W. Woodroffe, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony last Saturday afternoon. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Stuart Friend of Newton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned of white organdy over satin with a portrait neckline, short folds of satin which terminated in a short train. Her illusion veil was caught at the sides with lilies-of-the-valley and she carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias, lilies of the valley, centered with garnet roses and ivy.

Miss Gretchen S. Friend of Newton was maid of honor for her twin sister. She wore a white organdy waist length gown figured with tiny pink rosebuds with matching pink shoes. Her colonial bouquet combined pink carnations, sweetheart roses and baby's breath which matched her headpiece.

The bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Biddle of Cambridge, Miss E. Benson Woodroffe and Miss Barbara Learnard, both of Newton, and Mrs. Edward M. McDavitt of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom wore similar gowns to that worn by the maid of honor, with two attendants in white organdy figured with tiny blue rosebuds, one figured with yellow rosebuds.

DR. MATTISON MATTRESS

revolutionary new mattress designed by an orthopedic physician with famous weight-differential stress formula!

Today, 8 out of 10 people find it difficult to get the basic 8 hours' sleep so vital to good health. Actually, doctors know that less than 8 hours of deep sleep is worth far more than many hours of fitful "surface sleep." This fact led Dr. Norman D. Mattison to develop an entirely new kind of mattress... one that supports your entire body in balanced relaxation. The Dr. Mattison Mattress contains three different sets of springs which give three different degrees of support to compensate for your body's weight for correct level posture... deep healthful slumber. Other conventional mattresses ignore this fact! This means that the heavier parts of your body sink deeper than the lighter parts! The result is a body in constant tension... a body that can never completely relax. Now sleep on a Dr. Mattison mattress and enjoy a good night's sleep. And please note: A good box spring is equally as important as a good mattress.

only $8 down each unit; balance in monthly terms

HOW OLD IS YOUR MATTRESS? Compare service and cost for these two! $150 will buy the best in sleep-support for a minimum of 10 years... with not one penny more to pay in upkeep. And it gives dividends to you in the good health that proper sleep provides. See our collection of quality beds in g, exclusively ours...

Greatest mattress development since innersprings! Tests revealed 3 basic weight regions, regardless of body type. Dr. Mattison's weight-balance formula compensates for these regions through 3 separate, balanced spring units.

Steady saving is the secret

No one has to teach a squirrel to save. He knows his very life depends on it. And, because the squirrel can carry so little, he constantly stores the food he'll need.

Take a tip from the squirrel. Save as if your future depended on it. It may. Remember: whether you can save a little or a lot, we'll welcome your account.

Newton Art Association to Start Sixth Year Sept. 23rd

Thursday evening, September 23, the Newton Art Association embarks on its sixth year as one of the most active art groups in New England. Under the leadership of its new president, Mrs. Carl M. Stiles, a program of instructive and interesting sessions is assured. The meetings, occurring twice a month, include lectures, criticisms, exhibits, social occasions, and group demonstrations by members of the Association. Guests may attend any meeting at a very modest admission charge.

The guest artist at the first meeting will be Mr. Sam Thal, well known New England artist, teacher, and critic. Mr. Thal will discuss some of the paintings produced by members during the summer, pointing out the good elements as well as ways for improvement.

As a result of the efforts of the former presidents, Mr. James K. Bonnar, Mr. Sherwood Blodgett, and Mr. Harland A. Riker, and their committee, the Newton Art Association has attained over one hundred members, and in addition a sizable number of associate members who are interested in matters concerning Art. They partake in nearly all the privileges enjoyed by regular members.

A partial list of the Officers and Committee chairmen include Carl Stiles, President; Roy Randall, Vice President; Chester Reed, Treasurer; Ruth Fonseca, Corresponding Secretary; Grace Stone, Member-ship; James K. Bonnar, Program; and Sophia Coty, Entertainment.

"Please Don't Hurt My Little Girl"

DEAR DRIVER:

Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker-spaniel whose name is "Scoot," sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "goodbye" and started off to the halls of learning.

Last night we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her . . . the girl with the yellow curls . . . and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head . . . and about the trees in the school yard . . . and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things; tremendously vital, unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic and then to bed.

She's upstairs now . . . sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her Daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it . . . but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

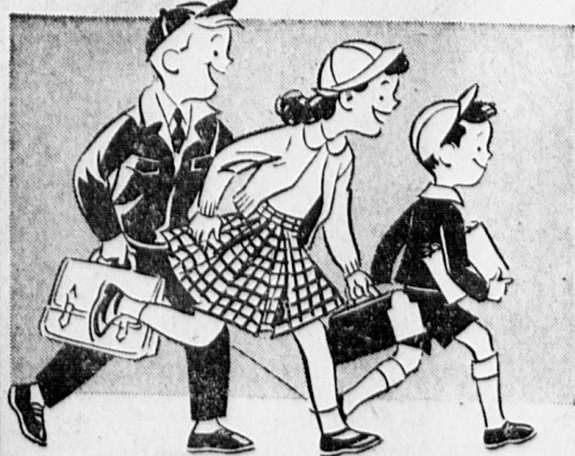

She's a sweet little girl and I'm so proud of her. She can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time . . . I have to work to pay for her clothes and education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive carefully, please drive slowly past the schools and intersections . . . and please remember that children do run from behind parked cars.

ANY LITTLE GIRL'S DADDY

Off to School—
Or Disaster?
It's Up to Your Car and You!

Happy children can often forget . . . But! you, as a driver can't! This is the time of year when every motorist must redouble his efforts to drive safely and make the streets safe for our children.

Heed Those
Children at the Crossings!

When you see the sign "School Zone", always proceed with extreme caution! We all know that youngsters have a way of dashing heedlessly into the street . . . it's up to you, the driver, to be on guard. Help protect the lives of our school children.

Oak Hill School PTA to Hold First Meeting September 21

The first meeting of the Oak Hill School P.T.A. will be held at the school on Tuesday, September 21, at 8 p.m.

The reception, where the parents will meet Mrs. Edythe Clarke, our new principal, will be presided over by Dr. Samuel Hedrick, president of the Oak Hill School P.T.A. All of the teachers will be introduced to the parents, and since there are several new teachers at the school this year, parents will be interested in meeting them, also.

The speakers will be Dr. Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools of Newton, Dr. J. Bernard Everett, director of the Division of Instruction, and Dr. Edward Landy, director of the Division of Counseling Services, who will outline briefly to the parents the philosophies and aims of the Newton School System. There will be refreshments and a social hour following the speakers, and all parents of the Oak Hill School are urged to attend this reception.

IGOR YOUSKEVITCH, universally acclaimed the world's greatest ballet dancer, gives instruction to pupils of Mary Goddard Davidson School of the Dance.

Mary Goddard Davidson School Opens Next Monday

Igor Youskevitch, "universal" acclaimed the world's greatest ballet dancer, was guest teacher during the 1954 season by invitation of Miss Mary Davidson at a special class at the "Mary Goddard Davidson School of the Dance", which opens for its fourth season, Monday, September 20. Classes are being formed in Classical Ballet, Toe Variations, and Tap for girls, boys, and adults.

Studios are at 40 Columbus street, and at the Workshop, 72 Columbus street, Newton Highlands. Telephone LA 5ell 7-3302. Miss Davidson, a member of the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists, has traveled extensively abroad. She has studied at the Ballet Theatre School and also at the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo School in New York.

All Newton Music School to Begin Forty-fourth Year Monday

Next Monday the All Newton Music School will begin its forty-fourth season. This school is a Community School whose facilities are open to all who wish to study music seriously.

During the years since it was founded in 1911, it has expanded to the point where, staffed by professionally trained musicians and functioning through a planned curriculum it offers music study of high standards to children and adults.

Instruction is organized in such a way as to take the student from his very first introduction to the world of music through the various stages until the time when he may be ready to plan for a professional career. At the same time, the many who do not have professional aspirations, but seek sheer pleasure through knowledge of music, are carefully guided in a program to meet their needs and talents.

The Music School aims not merely to "give lessons" but to provide the broadest possible opportunity for the well-ordered acquisition of understanding, appreciation, and taste in music.

The needs of each individual student are of primary importance and are given careful consideration. Many young people who are not athletically inclined, find an outlet here at the Music School for their talents. Through a student-aid program, many gifted youngsters get a professional musical education at low cost. The standards of the school are high and there is splendid cooperation between the school office, staff and parents.

Many referrals from Newton Agencies come to the Music School and these are met, as far as possible, within the limits of the present budget.

Registration for former students was held during the week of September 7. New students are registering during this week, September 13 through September 17, from one to five p.m.

Some vacancies in the various departments have occurred by students leaving for prep-schools and colleges and moving out of town. These will be filled by the new applicants until exhausted.

Classes in Musicianship will start during the first week in October. These classes are designed to teach the fundamentals of music, develop a sense of rhythm, train the ear and prepare for the later study of composition and theory.

The All Newton Music School, a Red Feather Service, is not endowed and is largely self-supporting. It is a member of the Newton Community Chest, Newton Community Council and National Guild of Community Music Schools.

Announces Fall Course In Writing For Women

Mrs. John R. Horgan of 109 Walnut Hill road, Newton Highlands, President; Mrs. A. B. Leahy, 50 Halcyon road, Newton Centre; Mrs. Allan McIntosh, 90 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, members of the Board of the Agnes Carr Writers' Club of Boston, announce the Fall 1954 course in "Writing for Women" by Agnes Carr, poet, lecturer, author of "Where Happiness Is."

Beginning October 19th, the class will meet every Tuesday for eight weeks from 2 to 3:30 P. M., at State Teachers' College, Huntington and Longwood avenues, Boston.

The course comprises earning money with leisure-time writing of fiction; newspaper and magazine features; contests; publicity; children's stories; greeting card verse and poetry.

The course is under the direction of the Massachusetts Department of Education, State University Extension, with which Miss Carr has been connected for twenty years. Enrollments will be accepted only at the State Education Office, 200 Newbury street, Boston 16. The first meeting, October 19, is free to all women of writing talent. Completion of the course and approval of a manuscript submitted qualifies for membership in the Agnes Carr Writers' Club.

Newton Ctr. Man Named Executive Of Milk Concern

Election of Arthur Norris as executive vice president of the Whiting Milk Company was announced today by A. A. Sticker, president of the firm, following a meeting of the board of directors. At the same time, George A. Miller was elected a director.

Mr. Norris, a resident of Newton Centre, at 53 Greenlawn avenue, has been with the Whiting Milk Company for the past 13 years. His background includes wide experience in the dairy industry, both in the United States and Denmark. A graduate engineer from the Agricultural Institute of America, he did post-graduate work at the University of Copenhagen.

During his association with the company, Norris originated and developed the only true French-style cream cheese in this country — Fontainebleau Cheese, distributed by Whiting.

A food technologist, product development engineer and production manager with sales experience, he has also been technical consultant to food processors in the baking, meat packing, candy and ice cream industries.

Miss Risa Perry, 25 Kodaway road, Waban, has enrolled at the Miss Allen's Modeling and Finishing School for the fall and winter term.

W. N. Man's Song Rapidly Winning Local Popularity

An original Italian song, written by a West Newton man, is drawing great popularity locally after being released this month by a New York recording firm. Written by 55-year-old Peter Ferone, "Siente a Mamma" ("Listen to Mama") leaped to popularity after a trial recording was played over Station WCRB in Waltham and Station WJDA in Quincy during Italian programs directed by Tony Cordone.

Tony heard Ferone's own recording of the song, but thought that Ferone was a "better writer than he was a singer." A week later, Cordone met Tony Dechiara, who was in this country only two weeks and wanted to be a singer. A test recording was made with the new vocalist, and the song leaped on its way to popularity.

HERE'S A NEWTON SUPER RECIPE

Suggested by our own Chef Antonelli

Season meat with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with flour for a richer brown. Brown meat slowly in a little hot fat. Add a small amount of tomato juice. As juice cooks away, add a little more. Cover tightly. Simmer over low heat on top of range, or in slow oven (325°) until meat is tender, (2 to 3 hours).

NEWTON, MASSACHUSETTS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1954

Single Copies 5c; $2.00 Per Year

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS of Newton helped a Newton man celebrate his 21st birthday last week. Mr. Frank N. Dalo, with four members of his family, registered as a new voter here as one of his first acts upon reaching the age of 21. The Newton League brought Mr. Dalo and his family to the City Hall to be sworn in by City Clerk Monte Basbas. A birthday cake was presented Mr. Dalo in honor of the occasion. Shown at the ceremony, are, left to right: City Clerk Basbas; Fran Dalo, 267 Pearl street, Newton; Frank Dalo, Jr., 267 Pearl street, Newton; Mary Incorvati, 265 Pearl street, Newton; Frances Dalo, 36 Vernon street, Newton. Tests This Week Likely to Cause Water Discoloration

A series of flow tests will be conducted by Coffin & Richardson Inc., engineers of Boston, currently making a survey, under contract with the Water Department, of the southern pressure district of the city water distribution system on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 23rd, 24th and 25th.

The making of these flow mination of the capacity of the tests on certain main pipes in system to supply ample water the southern pressure district with adequate pressure under now under study by the engi- all foreseeable conditions and the neers, is essential to the deter- development of recommenda-

Primary Returns Indicate Hard Fight Ahead . . .
Both Parties Prepare for Show-Down Battle . . .

While leaders in both political parties have been trying to read what they would like to see into last week's primary returns, the fact is that about the only thing the primary voting actually disclosed is that the rival State tickets are probably in for a real fight.

Stripped of the wishful thinking and of the politically biased interpretations, this is what last week's election and primary results in Maine and Massachusetts indicated to the writer:

1. Maine's election disclosed a Democratic trend and some feeling against the Eisenhower administration. Yet, political observers are at a loss to reconcile the Pine Tree State vote and reports from other sections of the country with the various polls which show that President Eisenhower's personal popularity is still extremely high.

2. Here in Massachusetts the victories scored by Representative Robert F. Murphy of Malden and State Treasurer Foster Furcolo revealed that the two men who will head the Democratic State ticket as the candidates for Governor and U. S. Senator will have pretty nearly united support in their own party—at least as far as the Democratic leaders are concerned.

tions to eliminate deficiencies where discovered. Unavoidably, these flow tests will cause discolored water in the several areas where they will be conducted. It is suggested in order that the public suffer the least inconvenience as a result of this condition, that washing of clothes not be planned for the day or days upon which tests are to be made in areas which will be specified below. In addition, it would be advisable to set aside water in advance in suitable containers for use

Set Open Houses Elect Newtonite At Local Center School Supt. of For Newly Blind Dover, Sherborn

A series of "Open House" meetings, for the benefit of workers and their friends, will be held at St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center for the newly blinded, 770 Centre street, Newton, on the next three Monday evenings, 8 to 10 o'clock it was announced this week by Rev. Thomas J. Carroll, director of the Catholic Guild for the Blind which sponsors this service.

Established only six months ago and the only center of its kind in New England, St. Paul's unique program helps the blind to re-learn everyday skills, acquire mobility, develop talents and a sense of security, and enables them to return to their homes and communities

For the past two winters, Newton has been one of the few communities of its size to be without its own adult symphony orchestra. Chorus we have, and good ones, as for example Club and Newton Community Chorus.

Why don't we have our own orchestra here? There is no good reason why we cannot. We know that good players on every instrument reside in the Garden City. In the past many of these have been loyal to long-standing associations with orchestras outside Newton.

In recent years, however, graduates of our own schools who have become proficient on some musical instrument have become permanent residents of Newton and have expressed a wish that a permanent group be built up here.

The last orchestra to be called the Newton Symphony Orchestra was a group of 75 players, conducted by Donald S. March which functioned as a part of the Adult Education program. Many of the players were from outside Newton, however, and thus it was not a true Newton orchestra.

As a result of requests by players and what seems to be a genuine need in the community, the Adult Education Department has announced that it will again undertake the formation of a Newton Symphony Orchestra.

The conductor, for this season is to be Donald S. March, supervisor of instrumental music in the Newton schools. Mr. March is a graduate of the New England Conservatory, where he is now taking graduate work. He is a violinist and has given concerts and recitals throughout New England both as violinist and conductor. He is particularly known in music education groups as an author and adjudicator at various music festivals. He was a scholarship student at Tanglewood in 1947 where he audited conducting classes under Kous-sevitsky, Bernstein and others.

Tests--

In cooking, drinking, etc. The Water Department wishes to point out that not alone persons living on any of the streets listed below but also those residing on intersecting streets in the general neighborhood may be inconvenienced by the described conditions. The Water Department will make every effort to clear up the disturbances by further flushing at the hydrants if found necessary, immediately subsequent to the tests.

On Thursday, September 23rd, it is planned to make the flow tests on the following streets: Grove street, Beacon street from Washington street to Manitoba road, Boylston street—Newton Highlands section, Dudley road from Boylston street to Greenwood street.

The department wishes to stress the fact that it may not be possible to perform the Dudley road flow test on Thursday, in which case it will be done on Friday.

On Friday, Sept. 24th it is planned to make the following tests: Dudley road from Boylston street to Greenwood street (if not completed on Thurs.) Lee road and Hammond street. (There may be disturbed conditions in the mains of the Chestnut Hill area south of Beacon street.) Walnut street from Homer street to Centre street in the Newton Centre and Newton Highlands sections.

On Saturday, Sept. 25th it is planned to make the following tests: Needham street from Winchester street to Oak street, Fuller street from Commonwealth avenue to Chestnut street.

Each day the several tests will be made in the consecutive order in which they are listed. Operations will commence at approximately 9:00 o'clock each morning and it is anticipated that about two hours will be required for each flow test.

In order to form a group capable of playing fine symphonic music, it will be necessary to place some requirements on membership. No formal auditions will be held but only players with sufficient sight reading ability to perform the standard orchestra repertoire should apply.

The first rehearsal will be held Tuesday, October 19 at 7:15 p.m. in Room 2312 at the Newton high school and on alternate Tuesdays thereafter. Players need not carry their own racks as these and larger instruments will be provided.

A registration fee of $3 for Newton residents and $5 for non-residents will be required at the first meeting. Applicants are requested to send the following information to Newton Symphony Orchestra, 40 Elm road, Newtonville 60: name, address, telephone, instrument, number of years experience and other orchestras played in.

with the ability to become self-supporting and self-sufficient. Last week the third group of blinded men and women, whose members come from five of the six New England States, began their 12-week training course. Training methods inaugurated by Rev. Thomas J. Carroll, director of the Catholic Guild for the Blind, have the enthusiastic endorsement of leading scientists, educators and medical men throughout the country, and represent an entirely new approach to the problem of blindness and the blinded.

"The only adjustment that will ever bring anything approaching happiness to a blind person in this life is adjustment in and to a sighted world—and our job at St. Paul's is to help blind persons with true understanding and with the skilled assistance needed to grow strong and live as a participating member of sighted society," Father Carroll explained.

"It is equally important, to my mind, to dispel misconceptions and false pity in the public attitude toward the blinded. We must make their families, the everyday world without penalty and, at the same time, without special privilege because of their loss of sight. It is a two-fold responsibility—full acceptance of the sighted world by the blinded, full acceptance of the blinded as persons in their own right by the public."

GEORGE L. WHITE

George L. White Gives Talk on Revision of Will

At a recent meeting held by Babson's Reports, Inc., in Wellesley Hills, George L. White, vice-president and trust officer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, spoke on the subject: "Have you recently revised your will?"

Drawing from his vast fund of experience as both a lawyer and a trust officer, Dr. White delivered a very informative and interesting address on the practical aspects involved in revising wills in view of new laws and conditions.

Earlier this year, Mr. White delivered an address to the distinguished leaders of business and industry at the winter conference held at Webber College, Babson Park, Florida.

Also installed as officers were Miss Jean McPherson, senior vice-president; Mrs. Rose Fernandez, junior vice-president; Mrs. Mary Regan, secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Gertrude Nee, chaplain; Mrs. Catherine Chandonait, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Dorothy Wilkerson, historian.

Seated as members of the executive board were Mrs. Barbara Chandonait, Mrs. Esther Faherty, Mrs. Anne McPherson and Mrs. Frances Edmunds, the retiring president.

The Newton Unit will sponsor its annual opening birthday party of the season at the Bedford Veterans Administration Hospital tonight (Thursday) under the chairmanship of Miss McPherson. The bus will leave for the hospital at 6:30 p.m. from Newtonville Square.

are compatible, but particularly in the months of October and November by business obligations are heaviest, and the same is true of the duties of the School Committee. Plans for business this year indicate unusually heavy obligations in the fall months. Consequently, I hereby submit my resignation to take effect as soon as a successor is chosen.

"The privilege of serving on the School Committee these past years has been stimulating and very pleasant. To say that I tender my resignation reluctantly is an understatement.

"It has been actually and truly rewarding primarily because of the deep devotion to public education and to the welfare of the children in the City of Newton that characterizes the members of the Committee and the members of the staff, particularly those in the central administration. I shall miss more than I can say the close association with all of you."

study of possible ways to give payments for firemen, policemen and other salaried city workers who put in countless hours of overtime in clearing up the hurricane mess. He pointed out that many of these men had lost days off and would probably be unable to make them up before the end of the year.

He proposed asking department heads to submit proposed ordinance amendments for making up the overtime.

The board should not take action upon the resolution, argued Alderman Richard H. Lovell, since this is an administrative matter. The mayor is studying the situation, he stated, and the board should not stimulate the filing of claims at this time with the hint that payment may be coming.

Canon's resolution was not seconded, and therefore no action was taken.

License Refused

After Joseph B. Davis, chairman of the franchises and licenses committee, reported that the building was not in conformity with Health Department regulations, a license renewal as a lodging house was denied the Mechanics House at 25 Mechanics street, Newton Upper Falls.

The renewal of the license was applied for in May, but the application was held by Davis' committee for noncompliance of the health regulations. Mechanics House was ordered at that time to improve the conditions.

A letter was read from Harlan W. Kingsbury, sanitary inspector, that conditions were not sufficiently improved, and the aldermen unanimously declined to renew the license. The denial, Davis pointed out, orders the house closed.

The aldermen appropriated $4200 for a demountable steel building to be used as a temporary shelter for Engine 3, which is currently stationed in the yard of the Mason School.

The engine was forced from its station on Willow street, Newton Centre, due to construction of a new Fire Department building beside the present structure. Originally, plans called for the engine to remain throughout the project, but the hurricanes changed the situation.

The foundation for the new station had been dug beside the older building when the two hurricanes struck, and water undermined the structure so much that it was declared unsafe. Engine 3 has since been parked in the Mason School yard, protected only by a tarpaulin.

H. Eugene Jones, chairman of the public buildings committee, explained that the heated building was needed so there would be no difficulty in starting the engine in cold weather.

Retirements approved were Raymond H. Jewett, retiring from the Fire Department; Charles A. Burns, from the Street Department; Luigi Costanza, from the Water Department; and Ralph R. Acker, from the School Department.

Road Approved

Although opposition was registered by a dozen residents at a public hearing before the business meeting, the aldermen approved construction of a $17,000 road from Grove street to Concord street to service new businesses planned on Grove street, Newton Lower Falls.

Referring to the theme of the protests, Edwin A. Terkelsen, chairman of the public works committee, said the road would be engineered to eliminate traffic hazards. Also voted was $1465.84 for land damage awards in connection with the street.

This figure, Finance Chairman Wood said, may be subject "to later adjustment" when it comes to settling the damages.

Other appropriations voted were replacement of 120 feet of pipe on Kenneth street, Newton Highlands, at a cost of $1095; elimination of Water Department dead ends on Central street, Auburndale, at Hancock street and Grove street, costing $1300; and water main extensions on Cleveland street, West Newton, $350, on Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, $932, and on Thomas street, West Newton, $2435.

ANN FOGARTY

Ann Fogarty to Make Exclusive Visit to Cronin's

Top notch American designer Anne Fogarty will make her third exclusive visit to the Grover Cronin Store in Waltham on Saturday, September 25th. She will personally present a showing of her new fall and winter fashions from the Grover Cronin Studio at 3:30 p.m.

Grover Cronin introduced the famous young designer to New England in October, 1953, and she quickly captivated the audiences with her personal charm and the striking originality of her designs.

Pennsylvania-born Anne Fogarty studied drama and modeled before becoming a star designer for Margot Dresses. Her fashions, although strikingly simple in design, are noted for the theatrical effect created by dramatic use of color and detail.

Advance forecasts of the Anne Fogarty collection for fall and winter 1954, feature the "Winged" silhouette -- a longer-than-usual torso with extra side and back fullness of the skirt to give a feeling of graceful flight. Other new silhouettes include the "Mobile" -- an elegantly casual design with the fullness wrapped and belted, and the "Meteor" -- an arrow-skin sheath. Anne Fogarty has used both domestic and imported fabrics in a wealth of rich colors for her new collection.

Anne Fogarty dresses and coats will be shown with Capezio and the unique accessories which have been exclusively designed for her.

Grover Cronin has cordially invited the public to see Anne Fogarty introduce her fall and winter designs from the street floor Studio at 3:30 on Saturday, September 25th.

Women's Council Of 2nd Church Sponsors Talks

The Women's Council of Second Church in Newton is sponsoring a series of five lectures on current events by the well-known lecturer, Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor recently returned from a three-month trip during which she visited Manila, Hong Kong and Japan. She will have much up-to-the-minute news and many items of interest to tell us. Her subject for the series is "Where Are We Today?"

These talks will be held Friday mornings in the assembly room of Second Church at 10 a.m. on October 12, November 12, February 18, March 18 and April 15.

Members of the community who are interested are cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained by calling the church, Bigelow 4-2890, or the following members of the committee: Mrs. Richard B. Catlett, LA 3-7318; Mrs. William P. Helms, Bigelow 4-3399; or Mrs. Earle F. Bliss, Bigelow 4-0561.

N-W Hospital Jr. Aid Association Meeting Tonight

Members of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Junior Aid Association will meet tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in Allen Riddle Hall, Nurses' Home, at the hospital.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Earle F. Johnson, owner of New England Interiors in Wellesley. His topic will be "Interior Decorating As Applied to Home Furnishings."

The Association anticipates an active and productive year to mark its fifth anniversary. As the hospital continues to expand, the need for equipment and service also grows. Members have been diligently working throughout the summer on the various projects for the biannual bazaar to be held in December.

All Newton and Wellesley residents who are interested in working with the Junior Aid Association are invited to attend the first meeting of the 1954-55 season.

3. Murphy's sweeping win over former Attorney General Francis E. Kelly showed that he has made substantial headway since his nomination at the Democratic State Convention in Worcester early in June and that to some extent he has overcome his early handicap of not being well known throughout the State.

4. Nothing whatever has happened to change the appraisal of a month or six weeks ago that Governor Christian A. Herter and Senator Leverett Saltonstall are extremely strong in their own right and that they are well entrenched for the Democratic drive to oust them from the positions they hold.

5. While the Maine election unquestionably showed the impact of a Democratic trend, it also was influenced by local factors, and it is difficult to estimate where one stops and the other begins.

6. One reason the voting in both Maine and Massachusetts created a political sensation, is that many Republicans here had been anticipating an easy campaign and were probably overconfident. The present realization that the G.O.P. had better brace itself for a hard battle is probably a healthy thing for the party.

7. Because Governor Herter, Senator Saltonstall and the other members of the Republican State ticket were unopposed in the primary, they now have actually more work to do than if they had preliminary warm-up contests, as did Murphy and Furcolo.

As far as the Maine election is concerned, it shows that the storm signals are up for the Republicans, and it probably presages the election of a Democratic Congress. But there is still some uncertainty as to just how strongly the Democratic tide is running.

Maine's Governor Cross had managed to make himself extremely unpopular in a period of two years. He apparently did about as much to antagonize and displease the voters as it was possible to do.

Great emphasis is being placed on the slash in the plurality of Senator Margaret Chase Smith, and the drop in her vote obviously had considerable political significance. But it wasn't entirely due to the Democratic trend.

Mrs. Smith conducted an entirely different type of campaign this year than she did in 1948. Six years ago, she wooed Democratic voters, and her speeches were carefully worded to be not too partisanly Republican. She was a sort of down-the-middle campaigner, seeking to draw in all groups.

This year Mrs. Smith went down the line for the G.O.P. She made party-line Republican speeches, and she tried to save Governor Cross from the defeat that threatened him and was eventually to engulf him. That strategy cost Mrs. Smith votes, and it undoubtedly cut her plurality.

That, of course, does not explain the sharp drop in the vote totals of the three Republican Congressmen in Maine. They lost some votes because of Governor Cross, but they also were cut to some extent because of the fact that the political pendulum is swinging against the G.O.P.

What is baffling many of the political pundits, as they endeavor to size up the coming election, is the conflicting sets of facts which confront them.

On the other hand, President Eisenhower seems to be tremendously popular, if any credence is to be placed in the various polls. On the other hand, is evidence of public dissatisfaction with his administration. That is causing puzzlement to the experts.

The President is planning to speak in a number of States, including Massachusetts, in an attempt to extend a helping hand to Republican standard-bearers, and without exception the G.O.P. candidates want and will welcome his support. Yet, one set of reports say he would be an asset and the other that he would be a liability.

In the midst of the signs that there is a trend against the national administration, Republican candidates with hard fights facing them hope to ride back into office on the coattails of the leader of that administration. That is certainly a paradoxical situation.

It's still somewhat early to tell whether any political tide is running in Massachusetts, as was evident in Maine. If there is any such trend in Greater Boston, it is not yet apparent to this observer of political happenings.

While the events of last week had a sobering effect upon the Republican high command and served notice that the G.O.P. may be in for a battle, it should also be remembered that Democratic Standard-bearers Murphy and Furcolo haven't yet won anything except a skirmish in their own party and that the real test is still ahead.

Letters to the Editor

SUGGESTS SALARY FOR BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Editor, Newton Graphic:

After making a comparative survey of the volume of legislative work done by the members of our Board of Aldermen, versus other cities which I will not mention, who have seen to it by legislative process to approve payment of a salary for the members of their City Government in the $300 to $500 brackets, I feel justified in recommending that legislation be passed to grant the members of our city government a salary of at least $200 per year, making a total cost of about $4500, which amount could be lopped off other appropriations in the yearly budget — no change in the tax rate.

I think a fair appraisal on one or two points could not be challenged. (1) The Newtons cover a greater territory than any of the Greater Boston cities as well as cities bordering on such cities, and I am confident that our city government handles more legislation than many other cities. (2) At the last primary election there were about 4500 votes cast, approximately 10 per cent of the total vote, and each vote cost the taxpayers 56 cents. Surely the taxpayers and other citizens would not object to giving members of the Board of Aldermen about 60 cents per day for their services which would in some way compensate them for expenses. (3) As a former member of a Board of Aldermen, I can vouch for time and expenses.

Possibly our representatives in the General Court for the next session will file a bill and have it enacted, subject to a "YES" or "NO" vote by the voters on the ballot.

Based on the above pertinent facts only, I am in favor of a bill granting a salary to our Board of Aldermen for their services.

Many voters and taxpayers may assume from the above opinions that I will be a candidate for the Board of Aldermen.

Frankly, I will state at this time, "I DO NOT CHOOSE TO RUN."

Lee Carver Kitson

ONE PARTY RULE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I think it is deplorable that only 10 percent of the Newton electorate was sufficiently interested to vote in the recent primary.

Perhaps the real malady which produces these unfortunate symptoms is ONE PARTY RULE. Newton is so safe for the Republicans that candidates who do not receive the nod from the party's ruling clique stand practically no chance of nomination. Therefore, interest in primaries which never fail to be a rubber stamp is bound to lag. Fear of reprisal by those in control of the Republican party, keep others from running who might otherwise tend to flout the party choice.

Registered Democrats fail to vote because they feel the cause is already lost. This is in spite of the fact that the Democratic party has produced well-qualified candidates in the past. This year, four outstanding, intelligent and public-spirited men have been nominated to run for the state legislature. Citizens sincerely interested in good government in Newton, would do well to shun political orthodoxy and consider working for, or at least voting for, these Democrats.

JEROME GROSS, M.D.

THANKS VOTERS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I deeply appreciate the splendid vote which I received on Primary Day for the Democratic Nomination for the Office of Register of Probate and Insolvency in Middlesex County. It was gratifying to be so honored by the Democratic Party.

May I assure you, the voters of Middlesex County, that I shall conduct a vigorous and informative campaign for this office.

Based on my record of Public Service and your continued support, I am confident of victory in the November election.

John J. Foley.

Schools Offer Opportunity for Study of Music

"Music for every child, every child for music," so reads the slogan of the Music Educators National Conference.

What does this mean to our children in the Newton Schools? Simply that a staff of trained experts in music stand ready to offer just about any kind of musical experience there is, from the String Quartet to the Marching Band of the Newton High School.

What's more, a great deal of this instruction is offered free of charge. Take class lessons on instruments for example. For several years, free class lessons on most orchestra and band instruments have been available for beginners for one school year. After that, they take private lessons during school time for which they pay a reasonable rate directly to the private teacher.

Amazingly enough, each year less than four per cent of the school population take advantage of these free class lessons. In a few instances, school-owned instruments, particularly the more unusual ones, are loaned free of charge to pupils.

In order to help tell the story of these opportunities, the Music Department summarizes as follows:

(1) Any child in the elementary school from the third grade up may take free class lessons on most instruments for one year (exceptions, piano and drum).

(2) A musical aptitude test is given each child as he enters the fourth grade.

Instrument may be rented from many companies in this area at an average cost of $5 per month. Less for strings.

(4) Each school boasts an orchestra or band for the children to play in after a few months of lessons.

(5) Private lessons on all orchestra and band instruments may be had at a fraction of studio prices. These lessons are held during the school day.

(6) Application blanks are available through the public schools or by contacting Donald S. March, Supervisor of Instrumental Music, 380 Austin street, West Newton.

the 106-year-old West Newton Unitarian Church.

Invitations have been sent to Mayor Howard Whitmore, the Newton Board of Aldermen, district senators and representatives, members of the parish and church school, all contributors to the building fund, all Protestant churches and Jewish temples in Newton and to all Unitarian churches in the Norfolk and Middlesex conference.

The new $72,000 one-story building, only the entrance to which is visible from the street through the archway connecting the church edifice with the parish house, Alliance Memorial Room and church offices, comprises the Cora E. Richards Chapel, church school classroom—including large nursery and kindergarten rooms—a new parish kitchen and special children's washroom facilities.

Following the dedication service, there will be a "pilgrimage" through the new building, with members of the Jaynes League as guides and members of the religious education committee and church school teachers as hosts. This "pilgrimage" will head to the parish hall where a reception will be held and refreshments served.

In addition to the regular senior choir under the direction of Mrs. John O. Fisher, organist, and Warren S. Freeman, choir-master, the primary choir will sing at the dedication service under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Sweetser.

Ushers at the dedication will be recruited from the men who served on the building committee and building fund committee.

REV. ERNEST W. KUEBLER

under the co-chairmanship of Joseph C. Skinner, former chairman of trustees, and Henry Whitmore, Jr., building committee chairman. A special escort will be provided for James L. Richards, whose individual contribution acted as impetus for the building fund campaign, and to whose wife's memory the Cora E. Richards Memorial Chapel is dedicated.

Three bronze plaques in addition to other brass plates commemorating special gifts will be dedicated at this time also. The plaque committee is headed by Mrs. Leonard A. Monzer, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Weissblatt and Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach, Jr.

Two bronze plaques are being installed on the sides of the stone buttresses left exposed just inside the archway entrance to the new building. The inscription on the first plaque reads: "This church school building is dedicated to our children that they may carry forward the ideas and ideals of our free faith. Erected through the devotion and generosity of the Newton Centre Unitarian Society, the Channing Religious Society and the members and friends of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, 1954."

The second bronze plaque, in honor of A. Bela Sziklas, member of the parish who served as architect for this unique church school building, is inscribed as follows: "In grateful acknowledgment to A. Bela Sziklas, architect, whose vision, talent and time found permanent expression in this building."

On the door of the new children's chapel is another bronze plaque simply inscribed "Cora E. Richards Memorial Chapel," as requested by the donor, James L. Richards, in memory of his late wife.

The specially-designed children's chapel, with its natural wood altar and two high-backed ministerial chairs, is in memory of Dr. Irving Jewell Fisher and Richard Hall Fisher, given by Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Jeanne Fisher Skinner and Robert Gordon Fisher. Mrs. Fisher served as chairman of the children's chapel committee, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Weissblatt, Parker M. Lord and Henry Whitmore, Jr.

The organ in the Cora E. Richards Chapel is the gift of Mrs. William J. Tyler "in loving memory of Nellie S. Browne."

Other memorials to be dedicated at this time in the new church school building include a collection plate in memory of Robert Avery Whidden, given by Mrs. Robert A. Whidden; kindergarten folding door in memory of Marion Drew Bassett, given by Mrs. Helen B. Lapham and Miss Sadie Winchester; candlesticks in the Richards Chapel given by Mrs. Norman W. Bingham; kindergarten furnishings given by Mrs. William S. Ball; 12 tables for classrooms and parish hall, given by the Women's Alliance, and 12 similar tables given by the Couples Club.

Special memorial funds have been established, some of which will be augmented to provide special equipment still needed for the chapel and classrooms. Among these are memorial gifts from Henry Whitmore, Jr., and Mrs. Ada W. Hartman in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whitmore; Henry W. Merrill Fund to which there have already been 57 contributors; and the fund Writing this summer in a British periodical about France, the country on the continent which he knows best, Mr. Schomer says: "In our own time a growing chorus of observers, Catholic and Protestant alike, have sounded the alarming theme that twentieth century France is a dechristianized land, its culture entering into a definitely 'post-Christian era.' But even as the churches of France acknowledge that they have never been emptier, the nation's playwrights fill the theaters with play after play dealing with modern man's search for God. Judged decadent, not only by conde-

PLAN HARVEST FESTIVAL—In charge of arrangements for the Harvest Festival to be held tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday at Trinity Church, Newton Centre are, left to right, Mrs. Anthony Jauregui, secretary of the committee; Mrs. Gustav Breitzke, committee chairman, and Mrs. Walter I. McNally, vice-chairman of the committee. They have been busy for many months planning the festival. (Photo by Gordon R. Wilk)

Trinity Church's Harvest Festival Friday, Saturday

The annual Harvest Festival of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, will be held tomorrow (Friday) from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Something of interest is promised for all ages. Christmas presents may be purchased at the various booths and the household and gift tables. There will be food to eat on the grounds or to take home. Also scheduled are games, pony rides, mechanical horses, a fortune teller, entertainment in the evening and "Sara's Attie," where one is apt to find almost anything from vases to bed springs.

The art and hobby table will give a door prize: a sketch of someone named by the lucky ticket holder, done by the well-known local artist Helen Heuer.

Miss Nancy Hogsett Installed Worthy Advisor of Rainbow

The Hospitality Committee is composed of Judith Field, chairman, Lesley Clarke, Lorraine Hintlian, Carolyn Cleveland Margaret Holmes, Marilyn Cox, Sallyann Miller, and Marjorie Morrill. Custodians of Properties are Cynthia Davis, chairman, Linda Borden, Carole Hamilton, Anne Brock, Roberta Ingham, Nancy Butler, Margaret MacKenzie, Jean Gordon, Judith Nordstrom, and Judith Ransom. The Sunshine Committee includes Nancy Wilbert, chairman, Anita Smith, Eleanor Vernon, and JoAnn Swett.

Judith Field, junior past worthy advisor of Newton Assembly, officiated as Installing Officer, and was assisted by Jean Ryder, past worthy advisor of Newton Assembly, as Installing Marshal; Alice Crandall, past worthy advisor of Newton Assembly and Grand Courier of the Massachusetts Grand Assembly, as Installing Chaplain; Pauline Ferran as Installing Recorder; Margaret Tomlinson as Installing Soloist; and "Dad" George R. Loud, member of Dalhousie Lodge, as Installing Organist.

Following the installation, an informal reception was held in the social hall and refreshments were served.

Circles World Aboard Carrier

The USS Tarawa returned here Sept. 7th, completing a tour of duty in the Far East and a round-the-world cruise. Returning aboard the attack aircraft carrier was James F. Doucette, pipe fitter third class, USN, of 366 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls. The Tarawa left Norfolk, Va., in November, 1953, to engage in training exercises in the Mediterranean with the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

Two months later she was enroute to Japan for duty with the fast carrier Task Force 77 patrolling off the Korean coast. She took part in the fair weather training operations off the Philippines. Time out was taken from operations to visit New Zealand and Australia for a good will tour and ceremonies commemorating the Battle of Coral Sea.

Eagerly Await the Opening of Studio

The pupils who have this week been registering for the Waban and Newton Centre dance classes of the Katharine Dickson Dance Studio are anticipating eagerly the opening sessions on Oct. 5. Leotards, ballet slippers and tap shoes are foremost in their thoughts.

These Newton classes are designed for those who wish to give their children the best in cultural, physical and mental opportunities. From pre-school age to the teens technique is used as the means for developing rhythm, coordination, carriage, participation in group activities and understanding of the arts. It is fun to dance, it is excellent for the body and for the mind.

Miss McKenna begins her second year with Miss Dickson in Newton. She was auditioned and accepted by Ballet Theatre, one of America's foremost ballet companies. Her ballet background is enviable. She has studied from earliest childhood. Among her teachers have been Muriel Stuart, Frederick Franklin, Margaret Craske and many other ballet greats. She has danced professionally throughout the country. She is a member of AGVA and Equity.

Both Miss Dickson and Miss McKenna conduct courses at the Boston Center for Adult Education.

Avery Committee Of L.W.V. Meets At Marlboro Home

The Avery Committee of the League of Women Voters was entertained by Mrs. Miles Standish at her home, "High Pines," in Marlboro Tuesday night.

Miss Eunice Avery, who has just returned from a tour of Southeast Asia, was greeted by the members of the committee. Those attending from Newton were Mrs. George S. Fuller of West Newton, Mrs. V. Stoddard and Mrs. William Cochran of Auburndale, and Mrs. George Danforth of Waban.

TEN LECTURES FOR ADULTS
By Charles Moulton on How To Listen More Intelligently To Music - At Our Needham Studios Starting in October
This course will explain:
What is meant by expression in music.
Why popular music may be appreciated immediately, while a great masterpiece makes no such instant appeal.
What makes a good interpretation.
What is the common background and similarity of all arts.
Why some music seems difficult to understand.
Why music is a special meaning or does it only express itself.
Two types of listeners.

2nd Anniversary Fete for 10 Days At Waban Market

Waban Market on Windsor road, Waban, will mark the second anniversary of its expansion into a full-fledged supermarket for the next 10 days with special sales and events.

The celebration, which starts today (Thursday) and continues through Saturday, October 2, will also mark the 28th year that the Waban Market has been in existence at the same location.

The anniversary will be featured by a treasure chest hunt, giving customers a chance to purchase groceries and meats free. During the 10 days, every customer will receive a key after passing through the checkout registers. If the key fits a "treasure chest," the customer will receive back the full purchase price.

VIVIAN BOLD
Vivian Bold Dance Studio to Open In Waban Oct. 1

A new studio of dance instruction, the Vivian Bold Dance Studio, will be opened in Waban Centre on October 1. Located at 1643 Beacon street, Waban Center, Newton, the studio will offer a comprehensive range of dancing instruction, for various age groups, and will be one of the most modern and completely equipped dance studios in the New England area.

Registration will be held October 1 and 2 and classes will be limited to small groups to insure thorough and specialized instruction. Special arrangements may be made for individual private instructions.

Miss Vivian Bold, owner and operator of the studio, is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on dance instruction. She has a thorough and extensive background as both a professional dancer and dance instructor. Touring theatres, nightclubs and U. S. O. shows as a featured star for the past nine years, Miss Bold, also appeared with the Barbara Mettler Modern Creative Dance Group and was modern creative dance instructor at the Boston Y. W. C. A.

Students will be accepted for class and individual private lessons. Classes will be divided into separate age and experience groups... with highly specialized instructions for both advance and beginner groups. Instructions in tap and ballet will be conducted and in addition the comparatively new "modern creative" phase of dancing will be included.

"This new medium of expression is particularly beneficial in the development of expression, poise and grace," explains Miss Bold. "It opens up endless creative possibilities through the limitless realm of movement and has great therapeutic value. It is undoubtedly the most satisfying form of dance for the non-professional, in truth, anyone young or old, even the physically handicapped, can dance."

Those wishing more information can contact Miss Bold by calling LOnwood 6-1634 or see her in person at her studio.

'Swap Shop' to Open October 6

A clothing and equipment exchange, called the Mason-Rice "Swap Shop" will be opened for the first time on the third floor of the Mason School on Wednesday afternoon, October 6 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. E. Philip Levine, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Mason-Rice Parent-Teacher's Association, announced today. The Swap Shop will be open each Wednesday afternoon during October, October 13, 20 and 27, and if the operation fills a community need, may continue throughout the year.

For the Swap Shop opening, goods will be limited to children's items in great demand at this time of year and will feature ice skates, boots and rubbers, Scout uniforms for boys and girls, snow suits, winter clothing, toys and sleds and leotards, ballet and tap shoes. Unsold items will be returned to the owners on Wednesday, November 3.

Heading the Swap Shop operation will be Mrs. Thomas DiMaura, assisted by members of the Ways and Means Committee. Goods for sale may be brought to the third floor of the Mason School on the Wednesday morning preceding each afternoon sale.

Mrs. R. Hamilton Gen'l Secretary Of PTA Council

Mrs. Roger Hamilton has been appointed general secretary for the Parent-Teacher Association Council, according to a recent announcement by Melvin J. Dangel, president of the Council.

The office of general secretary has been established to help all PTA organizations in Newton as a central information bureau, said Mr. Dangel, filling a need for better communications between the various school groups.

Mrs. Hamilton will be available from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at her office in the old Pierce School, Chestnut street, West Newton. The phone number is LAsell 7-9396.

Miss Eleanor H. Ashley Bride of Mr. Charles B. Medford, 2nd

Wearing the gown worn by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Helen I. Hudson, at her marriage in Brookline in 1900, Miss Eleanor H. Ashley became the bride of Mr. Charles B. Medford, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Medford of Swarthmore, Pa., at the Union Church in Waban Saturday afternoon. The four o'clock candle-light ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald and was followed by a reception at the Waban Neighborhood Club.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Ashley of Waban, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned of ivory silk satin. The yoke and the skirt, which had a cathedral train, were trimmed with rose point lace worn by two previous generations. Her veil of illusion net was held in place by rose point lace which had been worn by her mother, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of cream chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Albert E. Stone, Jr., of New Haven, Conn., was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Anne G. Batchelor and Miss Joan O. Batchelor of Brookline, twin cousins of the bride. They wore full-skirted waltz-length gowns of golden bronze crystalate and carried bouquets of autumn flowers to match their headbands. Mrs. Gorham L. Cross, Jr., of Wellesley was the honorary matron of honor.

Mrs. Ashley, the bride's mother, wore cinnamon lace and net with matching and contrasting accessories and a spray of small rust orchids. Mrs. Medford, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in navy blue lace with matching accessories and white orchids.

Mr. W. Edward Medford, Jr., of Swarthmore, Pa., was his brother's best man. The ushers were Mr. Peter C. Ashley of Waban, brother of the bride; Mr. Philip M. Smithers of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. James Stull of Ridley Park, Pa.; Mr. John Kirby Tompkins, 3rd, of Wynnewood, Pa.; Mr. F. Murray Hastings of Beverly Farms, and Mr. Bertrand B. Hopkins of Ayer.

The bride was graduated from Dana Hall and from Smith College in 1932. She attended the Boston Museum of Fine Arts School for one year. The bridegroom prepared at Episcopal Academy, Merion, Pa., and was graduated in 1952 from Trinity College where he was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity. He recently completed two years service with the U. S. Air Force. After a wedding trip to England, they will live in Wallingford, Pa.

Miss Suzanne Kimball Wilson Wed to Mr. Charles L. Bryson

Following the wedding of Miss Suzanne Kimball Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris Wilson of Waban and Mr. Charles Lawrence Bryson, son of Mrs. Charles Bryson of Newtonville, and the late Mr. Bryson, which took place in St. Philip Neri Church in Waban last Saturday afternoon, a small reception was held at the Brae Burn Country Club. The ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. Francis Bransfield and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown of imported French chantilly lace and ivory silk taffeta had a lace bodice with a portrait neckline and a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel-length train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a cap of matching lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of

MRS. JOSE L. RODRIGUES

Miss daSilva Bride of Mr. Jose L. deAlmeida Rodrigues

Saint Anthony's Church of Cambridge was banked with white gladioli for the wedding of Miss Claudette C. F. da Silva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Bernard F. da Silva of 92 Dedham Street, Newton Highlands, to Mr. Jose L. de Almeida Rodrigues, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Rodrigues Jr. of Lisbon, Portugal, prominent publisher and editor.

Rev. Manuel Cascais performed the Holy Sacrament of Matrimony at the 11 o'clock Nuptial Mass. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her exquisite ivory imported French Chantilly lace over satin gown; the close neckline was embroidered on lace with seed pearls and sequins, the close bodice and very bouffant skirt of lace formed a peplum and continued into a full billowing sweeping train of lace and satin. She carried a Cascade bouquet of stephanotis, white roses, white orchids and orange blossoms from Portugal; a beautiful crown of pearls and a long traditional veil.

The maid of honor, Mrs. Irene Sousa Smith of Middletown, R. I., wore a coral capucine full length gown of crystalline with empire waistline, centre fan pleating graced her bouffant skirt, and carried a Cascade bouquet of yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums. The bride's mother wore a dusty rose silk and lace gown, and a corsage of orchids.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothea Abreu of Cambridge, Miss Dolores Faria of Somerville, Miss Dorothy Medeiros of Watertown, and Miss Polly Burris of Newton Highlands. They wore Peacock gowns the identical style as the maid of honor, with very bouffant skirts, and carried cascade bouquets of red roses and white chrysanthemums. The flower girl, Miss Rosemarie Cordeiro of Boston, wore a full length pink crystalline dress and carried a basket of pink sweethearts and white chrysanthemums. The ring bearer, Howard Rogers of Cambridge, carried on an ivory satin pillow, a silver tray with the rings.

Mr. Frederic Sousa of Middleton, R. I. was the best man and Junior ushers were: Ronald and Joseph Abreu of Watertown. Bernard F. da Silva, brother of the bride, sang a song in their honor.

The ushers were Gené Della Piano of Dorchester, Americo Francisco of Cambridge, Francisco da Silva, uncle of the bride who is from New York, and Jose da Silva of Cambridge.

A reception was held at the Caruso Room in the Hotel Gardner, Boston, with a lunch and dance. The wedding cake an original of the famous artist and specialist of wedding cakes, Mr. Manuel Velozo, was one of the most beautiful cakes ever seen.

The bride was graduated from Academy of the Assumption, and Mount Ida College. The Groom is a graduate of Lyceum Camoes, L'Ecole Francaise and the University of Lisbon. After the wedding trip they will live in Newton Highlands.

Miss Marilyn Delano Is Wed To Mr. George E. Marsh

A reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Potter Delano of Waban, followed the 4:30 ceremony Sunday afternoon, when Miss Marilyn Delano was married to Mr. George Estabrook Marsh, son of Mrs. Robert Penman Marsh of Springfield and the late Mr. Marsh. The Rev. Santley W. Ellis officiated in an all-white setting in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, which was decorated with gladioli, roses, lilies and ferns, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was fashioned of old ivory taffeta with Alencon lace applique. A cap of matching material held her elbow-length veil of French illusion in place, and she carried a bouquet of orchids, stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Frederic R. Childs of Concord was matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids included another sister, Mrs. William H. Wightman of Wayland. Mrs. Robert Marsh, Jr., of Waban and Mrs. Stanton K. Gleason of Wellesley. They wore dresses of coral pink velvet and carried pink roses, shaded pompons and green ivy to match their headdresses.

Mrs. Frank H. Simpson of Wilmette, Ill., was the honorary bridesmaid.

Mrs. Delano chose a cocoa and ice-blue colored taffeta gown with a corsage of pink roses for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Marsh studied at Bennett Junior College and is a graduate of the Boston Museum School. Her husband was graduated from Tufts College.

After a wedding trip to Canada, they will make their home on Beacon Hill.

Miss Federico Is Bride of Mr. Harvey J. Palmer

Miss Teresa Mary Federico, daughter of Mrs. Louise Federico and the late Mr. Federico, of Chestnut Hill, was united in marriage last Friday evening at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, at 7 o'clock, to Mr. Harvey Joseph Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Palmer of Lexington, Kentucky. Rev. Father McElroy performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Joseph Federico, the bride was gowned in an ivory satin dress trimmed with lace, nylon veil and carried a bouquet of Gardenias.

Her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Davis, of Baldwin Park, Framingham, Mass. who served as matron of honor, wore a light blue satin dress and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Mr. Earl Russell Davis of Framingham served as best man and the ushers were Mr. Joseph Palmer of Chestnut Hill and Mr. James Northangle, of Rochester, N.Y.

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Louise Federico at 85 Florence street, Chestnut Hill.

"Please Don't Hurt My Little Girl"

DEAR DRIVER:

Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker-spaniel whose name is "Scoot," sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "goodbye" and started off to the halls of learning.

Last night we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her . . . the girl with the yellow curls . . . and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head . . . and about the trees in the school yard . . . and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things; tremendously vital, unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic and then to bed.

She's upstairs now . . . sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her Daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it . . . but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a sweet little girl and I'm so proud of her. She can run like a deer and dart about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time . . . I have to work to pay for her clothes and education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive carefully, please drive slowly past the schools and intersections . . . and please remember that children do run from behind parked cars.

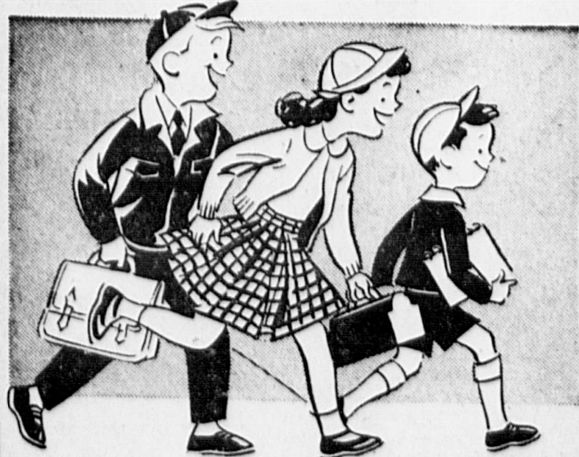

ANY LITTLE GIRL'S DADDY

Off to School—
Or Disaster?

It's Up to Your Car and You!

Happy children can often forget . . . But! you, as a driver can't! This is the time of year when every motorist must redouble his efforts to drive safely and make the streets safe for our children.

Heed Those
Children at the Crossings!

When you see the sign "School Zone", always proceed with extreme caution! We all know that youngsters have a way of dashing heedlessly into the street . . . It's up to you, the driver, to be on guard. Help protect the lives of our school children.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT
(SEAL)
In Equity.
To Mary M. Foucar, formerly of Woburn, and Augustus H. Foucar, formerly of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives.
Greeting:
Whereas a suit in equity has been begun against you in our Land Court by Sisters of Providence, a religious society duly organized and incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts;

WE COMMAND YOU, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of December next, which Monday is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer to be filed in the office of the recorder of said Court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fall not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

The plaintiff alleges to be the owner of certain land on Commonwealth Avenue in said Newton and there appears in the chain of title affecting said property a deed running from Mary M. Foucar to Augustus H. Foucar, dated March 6, 1912 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book 3676, Page 64, in which through a mutual mistake between the parties the words "of record" were omitted from the subject clause, and praying that said deed be reformed.

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiff that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton the last publication to be one month at least before the said first Monday of December next.

Witness, JOHN E. PENTON, Judge of our Land Court, the seventeenth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four.

SYBIL H. HOLMES, Recorder.

During the summer months the sanctuary has been entirely redecorated and a new

Temple Shalom Makes Plans For High Holy Day Services

Temple Shalom of Newton will usher in the Holiday Season on Rosh Hashanah evening, Monday, September 27. Because present facilities cannot accommodate the Congregation, services will be held at the Unitarian Church at 1326 Washington street, West Newton. As in the past, this kind invitation was extended to the Temple from the Unitarian Church.

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of the Temple since January 1, 1954, will conduct all adult services. He will be assisted by members of the congregation and the Temple choir, under the direction of Mr. Bernard J. Siff, with Mr. Richard Reynolds at the organ. Special children's services, prepared by the Religious School principal, Mrs. Shlomo Marenow, will be conducted by students of the six and seventh grades. Rabbi Rothman will deliver the sermonette.

"Mothers' Magic Morning" to Be Held at "Y"
An outstanding feature of the fall adult program offered by the West Roxbury-Rosindale YMCA will be a "Mothers' Magic Morning" to be held Tuesday mornings for a series of eight weeks starting October 19. These sessions will offer women and mothers an opportunity to join in a class of physical conditioning or a film forum at 9:30. Next there will be a coffee break followed by an hour and a half of an elective choice.

Women may select classes in either textile paintings, millinery design, or contract bridge. A supervised nursery class for children two and half to five will be held at the "Y" during these sessions to enable mothers with young children to attend.

In addition to these classes the "Y" will offer classes for adults in Red Cross first aid, contract bridge, and square dancing. The first aid classes will be held on Wednesday evenings starting with October 13. The series of ten sessions will be under the leadership of Mrs. Relda Howard. A Red Cross Certificate will be awarded to those who complete the course.

Two contract bridge courses will also be offered. A beginners class on Monday evenings starting with October 11 and an intermediate class on Thursday mornings starting on October 7. Both of these courses will be under the direction of Edward Rowe and the intermediate course will be taught by Forrest Maddix.

Every Wednesday evening there is a square dance and class under the capable direction of Joe O'Sullivan, one of Boston's most popular callers. A small charge is made for some of these courses and others are offered free of charge. Further details may be obtained from the advertisement in this paper or by calling the YMCA Parkway 7-8568.

The "Y" is located on Bellevue street, which runs off Centre street, near LaGrange street, West Roxbury.

Too Much Cook'g, Too Many Baths, Make Roof 'Leak'
Think your roof might be leaking? Maybe it's not. Maybe you take too many baths. The fact is that often, when a roof appears to be leaking, condensation on the under surface of the roof deck, not holes in the roofing material is actually the cause.

Asphalt roofing shingles have a long service life and high "weathering" ability. If an inspection of the roofing shows it to be sound, any moisture on the inside of the roof is probably the result of condensation. Moisture from cooking, baths or air-conditioning, rises with warm air and condenses when it reaches the cold roof sheathing.

Condensation may be minimized by ventilating the under-roof area. Louvers placed high in gables are the customary way of doing this.

To Clean Wicker
Wicker furniture should be washed out of doors. Brush it with a stiff brush, then dip the brush in lukewarm suds and go over the entire surface. Rinse thoroughly until the last trace of suds is removed and wipe as dry as possible with a cloth. Leave the furniture in an airy place until it dries completely.

Bids Are Sought For Nonantum Post Office Unit

The Post Office Department has authorized the establishment of a classified financial post office branch for the Nonantum area of the City of Newton. Bids are requested for 1800 square feet of floor space for lease to the post office for five or ten years, with two five-year options; or 15 years with a five year option; or for 20 years.

The primary requisite should be good daylight and adequate space for the loading of trucks. Bids will close on October 18. Specifications and additional information can be secured from Mr. C. W. Tenney, Post Office Inspector, Room 1402 Federal Building, Boston 9, Mass.

Named Manager Of Industrial Division, C.C.&F.

Russell N. Cox of 57 Walker street, Newtonville, has been promoted to manager of the Industrial Development Division of Cabot, Cabot and Forbes, Inc., developer of the Newton Industrial Center (Miracle Mile). The New England Industrial Center, and similar developments in greater Boston.

Mr. Cox succeeds Daniel G. Wheeler of Dover, who has become a vice president. A native of Newton, Mr. Cox attended Newton High School, going on to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received his B.S. in engineering in 1949.

Newton Singer On TV Program Sunday Night

Florence Currier of Newton—better known professionally as singer Jane Morgan—will star on next Sunday's "Colgate Comedy Hour" on television over Channel 4 at 8 p.m.

Born in Newton and brought up on Mt. Ida Hill, Miss Morgan was star this year for four months of what Variety termed "the most successful show in Miami," at the Palm Garden Casino. For 10 weeks she appeared at the Desert Inn at Las Vegas, and since June has been featured at the Latin Quarter in New York City.

Two of her brothers are still residing in Newton. They are Stephen C. Currier of 79 Pembroke street, Newton, and C. Bertram Currier of 126 Prince street, West Newton. A third brother is owner and producer of the Kennebunkport Playhouse in Maine. Her sister, Olga Currier, is Mrs. James A. Sterling of Jacksonville, Fla.

Seek Workers For Newton Red Cross Chapter

Mrs. Donald E. Mayberry, chairman of Canteen Service, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, has issued a special appeal for volunteers. Recruits are needed for the Canteen Disaster Unit and for the regular Chapter program.

Volunteers for the Disaster Unit must be prepared to go into immediate action at any hour, whenever disaster strikes. Canteen is called upon to feed relief workers and victims of fire, floods, hurricanes or train wrecks.

"The recent emergencies," states Mrs. Mayberry, "have proved that training is absolutely essential before a volunteer can do an effective job. There is a 12-hour training course for women who sign up for disaster as well as for — WORKERS — (Continued on Page 2)

5 Classes for Diabetics to Be Held Here

The third series of 5 classes for people with diabetes, their immediate relatives or those responsible for the care of diabetic patients will be held on Thursday evenings, October 7 through November 4. The meetings are scheduled for 7:30 to 9 p.m. and will be held at the headquarters of the Newton Nutrition Centre and Visiting Nurse Association, 1990 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls.

This program is being sponsored by the Newton and Wellesley Visiting Nurses, Nutrition Services, Health Departments and Hospital. Instruction for the October series of meetings will be provided by Miss Charlotte Stearns, Visiting Nurse and Mrs. Ellen Sheehan, Nutritionist, both of Wellesley. A small fee is asked to help cover cost of the program.

Registration in the group is limited to about ten persons. In this way the members of the group can receive more individual attention to their questions. Diet, use of insulin, meaning of tests, special preventive care are some of the subjects that will be considered. The informal meetings allow plenty of time for discussion and questions.

Registrations are being received by the Newton Nutrition Center, BI 4-4912.

In a "bury the hatchet" letter, Mayor Whitmore repeated the city's opposition "was based solely on our desire to have some voice in the disposition of land held for park and recreational purposes." He explained that an understanding between the M.D.C. and the city—plus the creation of a Park Commission—has now accomplished this.

The mayor wholeheartedly welcomed the congregation of Temple Mishkan Tefila to Newton, assuring the members that the presence of their new temple and school "will enrich the spiritual life of the community."

"Dropping of the legal protest was noted in an exchange of letters between the mayor and Nathan Yamins of 1429 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, president of Congregational Mishkan Tefila.

Opposition to the sale of a tract off Hammond Pond parkway to the Roxbury temple was first voiced officially at a June meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen, after a hearing had been conducted by the M.D.C. By a 15-3 vote, a resolution was passed urging the M.D.C. to hold the property "for development and the continuing use as a recreational area for park purposes."

The M.D.C. owns 51 undeveloped acres of land on the west side of Hammond Pond parkway. The land has been under M.D.C. control for about 40 years, but no improvements have been made to the hilly rocky area during this period.

When the question of the sale came up, a Park Commission was appointed by Mayor Whitmore, consisting of the members

Winter Program For Children

The Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, Newton, a city owned museum and center of historical activity in Newton, will open its winter program for children on October 5th. Starting that Tuesday, a series of classes will be offered to all children between the ages of 8-12 years. With the exception of Tuesday, October 12, classes will be held every Tuesday afternoon, 2:30-4 p.m. through November 30, 1954. Then, if interest warrants it, a second series will be started.

More than 1200 children have visited the Homestead since November of 1953, and the Trustees have decided to provide a special historical program for them. The teacher, Mrs. Sherwood E. Carver, who is a regular Library employee, will conduct the classes, under the general heading, "Early Newton, as Seen via the Jackson Homestead." Such topics will be discussed as:

"Candle Making, as William Jackson Did It."

"Old Costumes at the Jackson Homestead."

"Weaving and Spinning in the Old Days."

"Old Games and Toys."

"Slavery, and the Underground at the Homestead."

Mrs. Carver will ask review questions and give simple prizes. The classes are free to any child in the age group. However, since the number that may be included in any class is limited, the children should come to the Homestead to register or contact Mrs. W. R. Sears, the Director, at DEatur 2-3920, before October 5, 1954. It is expected these classes will be both popular and worthwhile.

Instead of the customary dinner, the Officers and Board of Directors will act as hosts during a social hour from 7:30 to 8:15, at which time dessert and coffee will be served.

Following the invocation by the Reverend Doctor Joseph C. MacDonald, the meeting will be conducted under the Chairmanship of Mr. Howard W. Lewis.

The entire arrangements for the meeting have been planned by the various Service Groups of the Chapter; with Staff Aides and Fund Volunteers handling invitations; Canteen and Junior Red Cross in charge of refreshments; Safety Services, Nursing Services and College Activities handling decorations and flowers; Entertainment and Supply arranging for music; and Motor Service affording transportation.

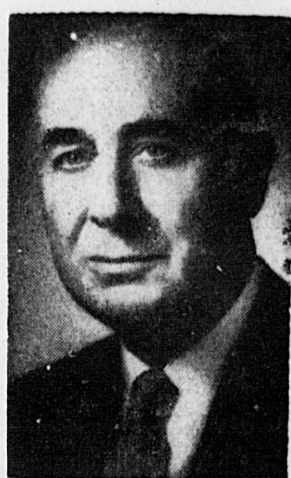

Red Cross wants to make it clear that any resident of Newton who supports Red Cross is welcome to attend the meeting. Persons wishing to attend this social hour should call the Chapter House, LA 7-6000, for reservations. This is to insure a sufficient supply of refreshments, and there is no obligation involved.

Lasell Junior College Starts 104th Year

Lasell Jr. College started its 104th consecutive academic year this week. The second largest private junior college for young women in the United States, Lasell has a record enrollment of 580 students. The incoming Freshman class is the largest ever with a total of 354 girls. Eight countries, including China, Thailand, Guatemala, Holland, Japan, Netherlands West Indies, British West Indies, and Venezuela are represented in the student body.

Lasell announces a three-year nursing program beginning this year in affiliation with the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Summers and the third year, students in the nursing program will live in the hospital as they complete their clinical experience. The nursing program leads to an Associate in Science degree from Lasell Jr. College and entitles the student to be a Registered Nurse, provided she passes the required State Board Examinations.

Homeowners Seeking Payment For Losses by Floods, Trees

Although hurricanes Carol and Edna have long since blown themselves out of existence, their wet and windy influence continues to plague the city, with the first claims for damages.

A public hearing has been scheduled for Monday evening by the aldermen as the result of floods during Edna in the Edmonds Pond area. Residents of Westchester road, Newton, stated the drainage facilities at the pond are inadequate, pointing out that their houses were almost submerged by Edna's downpour.

Claims received to date at City Hall are mainly for breakage of pipes, wires or underground pipes, caused by hurricane Carol, and for flooding, by Edna.

Although Monday's meeting was originally proposed by the aldermen as the date for electing a new member of the School Committee, the election will probably be postponed until October 18—two weeks later—to allow the full membership of the School Committee to be present.

The change in time was requested Monday night when the school group discovered that Gordon B. Russell of 28 Jemison road, Newton, could not attend the October 4 session. Mr. Russell was elected temporary chairman of the School Committee until a permanent successor is chosen.

The vacancy was caused by the resignation due to the pressure of business of chairman Dr. James B. Palmer last week. His pending resignation was revealed by Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Board of

Stringed Instrument Instruction Unique in the Newton Schools

Back when Mom and Dad were in school, practically every family had at least one member taking violin lessons. Frequently, you took fifteen lessons from some itinerant maestro and he gave you the violin outfit, complete with resin and pitch pipe. Then, as life became easier and with the advent of other forms of entertainment, the violin began to lose its popularity.

The percentage who actually learned to play under the methods prevalent in those days was pretty small anyway. You had to be hardy to survive the dreary exercises, the squawks, and the taunts from the neighbors' kids. In time, the violin, the noblest of all instruments (when mastered) gave way to the saxophone and the harmonica.

This may seem to be one of the world's lesser problems but as a matter of fact, if the playing of stringed instruments were to cease completely, a Senator Saltonstall Still a Strong Vote Getter . . . His Primary Run Proved a Great Relief to G.O.P. . .

Senator Leverett Saltonstall proved the top Republican vote-getter in the recent primary in which all seven members of the G.O.P. State ticket were unopposed, and by his showing indicated that he is probably the Republican standard-bearer best positioned to withstand the impact of the Democratic trend disclosed in the Maine election.

The unusual thing about Saltonstall's feat in drawing a slightly greater complimentary vote than did his Republican running mates was that his name was listed seventh on the ballot and that the G.O.P. voters came to the names of six other candidates before they reached Saltonstall's.

There wasn't a great deal of difference between the vote polled by Saltonstall and that of Governor Herter or Lieutenant Governor Whittier, but to the students of politics, searching for straws in the wind, that difference has been the subject of study and analysis.

The official complimentary vote totals for the seven State-wide Republican candidates were: Saltonstall 175,493; Whittier 174,113; Herter 172,605; Attorney General George Fingold 167,799; Representative Augustus G. Means, candidate for State Treasurer, 163,062; Representative Michael J. McCarthy, the nominee for Secretary of State, 160,938; and Representative William P. Constantino, candidate for State Auditor, 158,243.

Aldermen, when he suggested the October 4 joint meeting with the School Committee.

Also on Docket

Other items on the preliminary docket for Monday's aldermanic meeting include appropriations of $27,500. Of this figure, $25,000 has been asked by the Public Buildings Department for grading the Emerson School Playground, and the remainder was requested by the Water Department for lowering 600 feet of water main on Grove street, Newton Lower Falls, in connection with the construction of a ramp entering Route 128. Hearings scheduled for 7:45 p.m. are:

Boston Edison Company and New England Telephone and Telegraph, for four joint pole and wire locations on Redwood road, Oak Hill.

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company, for a license to "keep, store and use" inflammables at 1330 Centre street, Newton Centre. A license was granted by the aldermen on March 17, 1952, but the permit was allowed to collapse.

Holy Trinity Cadets, for permit to conduct a Drum and Bugle Corps competition Sunday afternoon, October 17, at Alumni Field of Boston College. This was originally scheduled for September 19, but was postponed because of the weather.

On laying out, grading and acceptance, including cement curbing, of Jane road, Oak Hill, from the accepted portion southwesterly, and of Pontiac road, Waban, from Varick road to Quinobequin road.

On construction of common sewers through Boylston street (south side), Chestnut Hill, from Hammond Pond parkway westerly, and through Kenrick street, Newton, from the Brighton line to beyond Kenrick terrace.

On taking land for and construction of a main drain through private land from Alhermarle road northwesterly, Newtonville.

Monday's meeting marks the return to the normal every-other-week schedule of aldermanic meetings. During the summer, the board has been meeting every third week, with committee meetings held before the full session of the board. The committee sessions had pushed the other meetings back until 9 p.m. or later.

The hearings Monday, however, will commence at 7:45 p.m., and the aldermen are expected to begin their meeting about 8:30 p.m.

Instrument-

large slice of our Western culture would go with them. Most of the world's greatest musical treasures can only be satisfactorily brought to life on stringed instruments.

Music educators have long been sensitive to this but too often have been helpless before the overrushing tide of marching bands, drum corps, etc. While these are important in the American scene nothing should be allowed to replace the orchestra and the string quartet.

The Newton schools have sought to include in the music program, a solid plan for the teaching of the stringed instruments as well as all other instruments. So effective has this been that the violin is now second only to the piano in popularity with children. One would have to travel far and wide to find a school system where this is so. Even the cello, once almost a rarity, is now a frequent choice. While the strings still require a good musical ear and better than average persistence, many young people and their families are discovering the right musical and social experiences open to string players.

Free string classes (often with school instruments supplied) are conducted in each school where there are six or more applicants. These classes are held once or twice a week and the children are able to perform simple compositions almost immediately under modern methods. The average child is ready to join his school orchestra in about six months. Further information on the string program in the Newton schools may be had by contacting Donald S. March, 380 Austin street, West Newton 65, or calling LA 6-7300.

of the Planning Board. The Commission was created to give the city control over the sale of M.D.C. land within its borders, since laws provide the M.D.C. must notify such bodies before selling property in the city.

However, in later court action it was ruled that the Park Commission had no bearing on the Chestnut Hill sale as it had been created too late.

The mayor's letter follows:

"I am pleased to advise you that in view of the fact that the Metropolitan District Commission as now constituted has voted that it will not sell any of its Park land in the City of Newton prior to May 2, 1955 without the concurrence of the Mayor of the City of Newton and its Board of Aldermen, the Park Commissioners and I, as Mayor of Newton, have decided not to appeal to the Supreme Court the finding of the Superior Court Justice in the pending litigation.

"Our objection to the sale of Park land in Newton by the Metropolitan District Commission was based solely on our desire to have some voice in the disposition of land held for park and recreational purposes. This has now been substantially accomplished as a result of the vote of the Metropolitan District Commission and by the creation of a Board of Park Commissioners in the City of Newton.

"As Mayor of the City of Newton I look forward to welcoming your congregation to our City. I know that the presence of your Temple will enrich the spiritual life of the community."

Mr. Yamin's reply was: "Your letter of welcome was enthusiastically received, not only by me personally, but by the entire congregation.

"We realize the problem that exists in the City of Newton relative to the scarcity of available Park Land and we appreciate and respect your desire to have a voice in the disposition of M.D.C. Park Land in Newton.

"I know, too, from our talks with you and the members of the Park Commission that both you and the Commission are eager to co-operate with us in every way.

"As soon as our engineering survey is completed, we shall be happy to again confer with you and the Park Commissioners so that the location and areas of land used will prove most beneficial to the Temple and the City of Newton, bearing in mind the future park plans of the City.

"Again, please accept the thanks of the congregation for your gracious welcome and your sincere cooperation."

Mayor Whitmore's proclamation follows:

"Whereas each year between eight and ten million Americans suffer accidents that require rehabilitation and change of jobs; and

"Whereas many thousands of veterans disabled through World War II and the Korean Action require rehabilitation and change of jobs; and

"Whereas numbers of the above groups are residents of our community; and

"Whereas the Congress by joint resolution and the President of the United States by proclamation has designated the Week of October 3 through 9, 1954, as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week; and

"Whereas the governor of the Commonwealth encourages leaders of industry and labor, and members of religious, civic, veterans', agricultural, women's groups, to take part in the observance of the designated week, in order to enlist the widest possible support of programs designed to increase opportunities in employment of the physically handicapped.

"Now, therefore, I, Howard Whitmore Jr., Mayor of the City of Newton, do hereby call upon the people of our community to observe the week beginning October 3, 1954 as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week. And I further urge that all employers place their job openings with the Employment office of the Division of Employment Security located at 290 Centre street, Newton, to the end that the physically handicapped be given the opportunity to prove that they are capable, productive and reliable workers."

And I further urge that all employers place their job openings with the Employment office of the Division of Employment Security located at 290 Centre street, Newton, to the end that the physically handicapped be given the opportunity to prove that they are capable, productive and reliable workers."

Newton Junior College To Hold Adult Courses

Adults who want to elect courses in the Evening Division of the Newton Junior College will find a rich and varied selection in the program for 1954-1955. Open to all adults who are interested, these courses may be taken without any previous background in the subject chosen. There are no formal admission requirements for the Evening Division, and the tuition, both for residents of Newton and for people living elsewhere, is kept to a minimum cost of $12 per semester.

Classes in the Evening Division start on Monday, October 4th, in the Junior College wing of the Technical Building of the Newton High School. Most classes meet once a week for eleven weeks; however, those in banking, law, and economics meet twice a week. College credits are given to those who desire them when they have met the requirements of the course pursued.

Ten courses have been scheduled for the fall semester and these classes will begin the first week in October. The college is ready to offer any course in which the people of the community are interested, providing there is a registration of 12 or more.

Let the People Know. If you are a publicity chairman for your pet organization, here is a chance to learn how to do a bang-up job in public relations. This course is a workshop, dealing with individual problems in public relations and editorial work. Come and learn the techniques and tricks of an increasingly important service. Meets Monday evenings.

The Improvement of Reading. In these hurried days, there is less time for reading and therefore a greater need for more efficient reading skills. This course will help you improve your own methods of reading, help you get more enjoyment from what you read, and retain better the material which you read. Monday evenings.

Your Income Tax Return. Here is a chance to take the mystery out of figuring your income tax return. By learning how to work out your own tax problems you can save yourself time and money, and be spared the worries and doubts that will concern your neighbors prior to the April 15th deadline. Monday evenings.

Conversational French. If you have never studied French, but have always wanted to, or if you learned it years ago and have forgotten it, this course is designed for you. By listening to spoken French and by learning to speak it yourself, you can get much enjoyment. This language skill will be a great help to those planning to travel. Monday evenings.

English and Writing for Business and Everyday Use offers adults an opportunity to better their English by studying the more practical aspects of the language. The course is designed to help men and women express themselves more easily, more clearly, and more concisely both in speaking and writing. Particular emphasis include better letter writing and the ability to converse with confidence and power. Monday evenings.

Real Estate Fundamentals provides elementary training in the selling and handling of suburban real estate, and also starts the beginner on the road to becoming a real estate agent. The relationships of the real estate agent to sellers and buyers will be discussed, as well as the customs and regulations which control the business. Setting up an agency, securing clients, establishing real estate prices and commissions, the passing of title, mortgage, financing, kinds of deeds, and contracts are other topics studied in the course. Thursday evenings.

Conversational Spanish. Are you planning a trip to Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, or other Latin American countries? If so, and you have no knowledge of Spanish, or have forgotten what you used to know, this course will be of real help to you. In it you will learn to speak Spanish well and to understand it easily. Being able to use this language will greatly increase your enjoyment of Spanish speaking countries. The size of the class is limited to allow for each student sufficient opportunity for active participation. Tuesday evenings.

Fundamentals of Banking. Designed primarily for those who work in banks, this course which has the approval of many of our banking institutions, gives a training essential to workers who want to advance in their chosen profession. Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Commercial Law. Like the course in Fundamentals of Banking, this course has its emphasis on problems that deal with the handling of money, securities, trusts, and other financial papers. Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Economics, which considers problems pertinent to banking, provides a sound training for students who have not had, but have felt the need of, a beginning course in basic economics.

Those figures probably are not of great significance since it may be assumed that most of the 198,129 Republicans, who took the time and trouble to go their polling places in the recent primary, when there were few and, in some cases, no contests for them to decide, probably will vote the straight G.O.P. ticket on Nov. 2.

But they do indicate that Saltonstall has lost little of the vote-getting ability that saw him win fights for the Governorship in 1938, 1940 and 1942 and for the U. S. Senate in 1944 and 1948, and that is a matter of some relief for G.O.P. leaders since it probably means that Saltonstall not only is still strong in his own right but that he will add strength to his party ticket.

While Saltonstall is one of the top Republican leaders in the U. S. Senate, his work is of such a nature that he is not before the public eye as much as a Governor or probably even a Lieutenant Governor.

The fact also is that Saltonstall has not run for public office for six years and that he has not had a real fight since Paul A. Dever battled him for the Governorship back in 1940, a race which he won by the paper-thin margin of 5588 votes.

He had a fairly easy time beating back the challenge of Roger Lowell Putnam in winning reelection to a third term as Governor in 1942, and the men who opposed him for the Senate in 1944 and 1948 only went through the motions of campaigning against him, if, indeed, they even did that.

So Senator Saltonstall hasn't had a searching test of his political strength for 14 years and he hasn't had any real test at all for 12 years. Republican leaders, who saw Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., upset two years ago by John F. Kennedy, consequently heaved a sigh of relief when the senior Bay State Senator came up with the greatest G.O.P. primary vote, even though it was only of a complimentary nature.

Actually, Saltonstall does not have the problem that confronted Lodge two years ago. Lodge was defeated by members of his own party who cut him because of their resentment over the type of fight he had waged against Robert A. Taft at the 1952 Republican national convention.

That doesn't mean, however, that Saltonstall and his G.O.P. ticket mates in Massachusetts are not confronted with their own share of problems. They have more than an average amount of political worries, the two major ones being: 1. The fact that a Democratic tide appears to be running across the nation. 2. The controversy over Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer C. Nelson very shrewdly advised G.O.P. office-seekers to keep quiet about McCarthy, cautioning them that whatever they might say would cost them votes in some quarters. But even that sound counsel doesn't eliminate McCarthy as a campaign issue.

It is a fact that the Democrats are no more anxious to be quoted on McCarthy than are their Republican opponents, but McCarthy is a Republican and as such is primarily a problem to the G.O.P.

An ironic aspect to the political picture in Massachusetts is that Governor Herter is largely combatting factors over which he actually has no control.

There has been little criticism of anything Herter has done or failed to do that he should have done. There also is little disagreement that he has been a good Governor and a fine leader.

His outstanding accomplishment probably was to cut the State income tax 25 percent, but that was just one of many achievements during his 21 months as Governor of Massachusetts.

Governor Herter is faced with a real fight, as it appears he may be, his predicament is not unlike that of the late Maurice J. Tobin in 1946 when Tobin was hit by a wave of resentment because of the shortages of meat, butter and nylon stockings, matters about which he was powerless to do anything.

There is a tendency on the part of many Republicans to dismiss the Maine returns as having no significance as far as Massachusetts is concerned and to write them off as representing a political accident that happens in the Pine Tree State about once every 20 years.

That is simply a case of blinding one's self to the political facts of life. A political trend doesn't stop at State borders. It would be silly to argue that there is a Democratic drift in cities and towns just over the State line in Maine and not in communities just over the State line in Massachusetts.

Political surveys and tests so far have indicated that there is no Democratic trend that would sweep the Democratic State ticket into office by the pluralities by which the Democratic candidates carried Massachusetts in 1948 and 1950.

But there are definite signs that a trend to the Democrats is cutting down what would otherwise be the normal Republican strength in Massachusetts.

What that means in plain language is that if there were no Democratic trend, as reflected in Maine and elsewhere throughout the country, the G.O.P. probably would have an easy time in Massachusetts this year.

The fact that there is a Democratic drift means that the Republican party in this State has a fight on its hands—a real fight. Those G.O.P. members who don't recognize that are merely being shortsighted and closing their eyes to a tremendous amount of political evidence.

Thursday.

His four eldest grand children, Maxwell, Jr., William, and Don Wills, and Richard Griswold, Jr., along with his two sons-in-law, Maxwell Wills and Richard Griswold were pall bearers.

Rev. Henry Beckelman and Dr. Frances Taylor conducted the services.

He is survived by his two daughters Mrs. Maxwell Wills of Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Richard Griswold of Attleboro, and three sons, William, Edmund, and Vernon.

Interment was in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Forest Hills.

CHARLES E. MERRY

Funeral services for Charles E. Merry, 22 Randlett park, West Newton, who died on Wednesday, September 22, were held at the Daniel Fudge Funeral Parlor in Somerville on Friday.

Mr. Merry, 79, was president of the Charles E. Merry Company and had been in the food manufacturing business for 30 years. The Merry Company was the producer of Golden Buck Food Products at its Newton Centre plant.

He is survived by two daughters, Ruth L. Davidson, with whom he made his home, and Mary C. Russell, of Tenery, N.J., and four grandchildren.

CHARLES W. ERNST

Charles W. Ernst of 10 Thaxter road, Newtonville, passed away on September 22 after a long illness.

A carpenter and builder, he was born May 23, 1873 in Lunenburg County, Nova Scotia and had lived in Newton for over fifty years.

His wife was the late Alma (Johnson) Ernst, who died in 1936. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ruth E. Hansen of Newtonville; a brother, Otto O. Ernst of Auburndale, and a sister, Florence Armita Wolfe of Marlboro.

The funeral was held at the First Lutheran Church in Waltham Saturday, September 25. The Rev. Carl O. Bergquist officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Letters to the Editor—

THE CHAMBER SPEAKS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Reference is made to your issue of September 16, 1954, which carried a letter from J. Leo Appel, Jr. under your headlines, "Some Good Critical Observations." This letter with your editor's note has been brought to the attention of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Their reaction was that both the letter writer and the editor (insofar as he agrees with the contents) could well have obtained the facts and thereby avoided the criticisms which we feel is due both of them.

It is our sincere belief, that the citizens of Newton can be very proud of the work which was accomplished by their street department assisted by additional contracted trucks and personnel which the city was able to hire. All departments of the city assisting in this monumental task worked twelve hours or more per day, which was the same work period put in by the utility companies. With reference to track pick up, in order to release men and trucks to help clear the streets, notices were sent by special messengers to every home in Newton on September 1 and 2, informing residents that rubbish would not be collected until regular deliveries beginning September 9. Reprints of this notice appeared in all the local papers. Perhaps the city could have imported men and trucks from states as far away as Ohio but it would have been a prohibitive expense. The utilities did so because of the eminent danger to life and health from falling wires and food spoilage. Despite this great effort, the damage to lines was so severe that some homes were without electricity for as much as ten days or more.

In contrast, all Newton streets were accessible and many were entirely cleared, at least once in far less time. To add to the burden, many citizens cleared their own property of trees and branches placing them on the already cleared streets. These streets were again cleared by the city and in many cases, a third time. Your readers may note with pride, that despite the loss of over 4,000 trees and 450 flooded basements pumped out, some estimated 25,000 truckloads of debris were taken to dumps arriving at disposal areas every ten seconds between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. for over two weeks. A trip to City Hall during the emergency would have found the Mayor and his staff of department heads working incredible hours of duty night after night. We cannot justify Appel's letter suggesting that your paper, "should be attacking our administration for the miserable performance the street department has done." In the absence of any constructive suggestions, we doubt that he knows yet any fraction of the problems that arose during the hurricanes or their disposition. All of these facts could have been obtained by calling City Hall.

When he mentions the work done by our good neighbors, a thoughtful comparison shows the 18 square miles that comprises Newton, is greater than the combined area of Brookline (6.6), Cambridge (6.2), and Belmont (4.6). The people we have met during this trying period were more constructive and helpful. They were busy cleaning up their own property or assisting the city wherever possible. Many of them called City Hall if there were a dangerous situation in their neighborhood and it was immediately corrected by direct action of the Mayor and his staff. A notable contribution was made by sixty volunteer citizens who served their city without remuneration on September 6 and 18 together with numerous auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen from the department of civil defense. They helped out by checking crews and trucks and work done throughout the critical areas and expedited deliveries of rubbish to the burning areas. Combined with the efforts of the city employees, this resulted in 95% of the 300 miles of our streets being made open to traffic within 8 hours.

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have unanimously voted to extend our congratulations to the Mayor and the city departments for their excellent work and constant attention to duty, during this crisis. It was agreed that no city with an equal number of miles of streets, confronted with an equally colossal task could have done a better job at a lower cost.

Additional facts and figures to prove the injustice of the Appel letter and your editor's note are available at both the City Hall and the Chamber of Commerce.

Sincerely yours,
John B. Rubenstein, President
Newton Chamber of Commerce

IN DISAGREEMENT

Editor, Newton Graphic:

In reference to the proposal to pay the members of the Board of Aldermen an allowance or small salary for their services as performed; I am heartily in disagreement. Although the idea is high in purpose and noble of intention; such an appraisal is far from my approval, or favorable as presented.

My own solution to this problem, if any, would involve a change in our city form of government. I would propose a council to replace the present out-of-date and old-fashioned Board. Most cities now have a Mayor and council form.

The seven, or eight wards as now contemplated, would elect a councilman and he would devote his full attention to the residents of that particular ward. My proposal would then be to pay these councilmen a living wage or salary, commensurate with their work, and comparable to other cities of like size and population. I would also pay them a pension after a certain number of years on the council. This could take the form of a contributory pension.

Most, or all of the present members of the Board, knew and accepted their election to office with the full knowledge that no salary or other compensation was attached to such a position.

For years, civic pride in our community, has overcome personal selfishness in serving our City on the Board of Aldermen. Many past members of the Board have, through their service, advanced themselves in higher State, and National governmental affairs. The Board has thus become a spring-board for high and greater service to our Government.

Paying living salaries with a pension attached, would attract capable and competent men to run the affairs of our City. We all know how that famous small initial salary, has skyrocketed to a much higher and larger salary; witness our present State Legislature.

Over and above all; let us give the poor tax-payer, now overburdened with the two recent hurricanes, and a possible rise in his already high and excessive tax rate, a little breathing spell; so he can decide this very important issue.

Thank you.

Edward F. Durkin

REPLY TO DR. GROSS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Dr. Gross in a letter in the local paper this past week, expresses concern over the small primary vote, which he attributes to one-party rule. Perhaps he overlooks the fact that the Republicans, at their pre-primary convention, chose an outstanding slate of candidates whose wholehearted acceptance by the party's voters is evidenced by the lack of G.O.P. primary contests.

Even if the Democrats feel "their cause is already lost" in Newton, since almost every office on the Democratic ballot provided a contest, they had a real obligation, if they believe in the primary system, to vote in large numbers.

His letter states that "four outstanding" men have been nominated to run for the state legislature. Actually, five Democrats were nominated, and we wonder which one he omits. "Citizens sincerely interested in good government in Newton" will look at the records of their past and present legislators, all Republican, and compare them with those of Democrats from other districts. If they do that, I feel sure they will continue to vote Republican.

JOHN B. STETSON, Chairman
Newton Republican City Committee

THANKS VOTERS

Editor, Graphic:

I want to thank all my supporters for voting for me for Governor's Councillor on Primary Day.

It is a source of great satisfaction to my wife and myself that so many people should have such faith in us. If elected, I shall do all in my power to warrant this confidence and trust.

I should like to thank you for the kindness extended me in your columns during the primary campaign.

URGES PLEDGE CHANGE

Editor, Graphic:

A resolution has been filed in Congress by Senator Homer Ferguson to insert the words "Under God" in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

I am heartily in favor of the inclusion and I hope that the resolution will pass without a dissenting vote. On our pennies we can read the words "In God We Trust."

Governor Christian Herter has given the change his endorsement. Also many superintendents of both public and parochial schools have rendered

First October Weekend Best for Foliage

Late Summer Dryness Will Bring Fall Colors Early

The first weekend in October will be the best for Fall foliage tours in New England, according to John R. Treadway, ornithologist and innkeeper, of Williamstown, Mass.

Late summer dryness will bring fall colors early to the Berkshire Hills, Mohawk Trail and Green Mountains, he predicts. To avoid heavy traffic and see the foliage at its best, Treadway advises motorists to get out before Columbus Day and the Columbus Day weekend.

Over the past fifteen years, he has observed that the fall colors begin to be evident around September 23 and are at their best during the first two weeks of October. In Northern Vermont, trees begin to turn about a week earlier.

With Route 5, the continuation of the Merritt Parkway, through Massachusetts, as a starting point, you can join the Mohawk Trail, Route 2, at Greenfield. For a more scenic start that takes in three college campuses, pick up Route 116, off Route 5, at Chicopee, see Mount Holyoke at South Hadley, and the University of Massachusetts and Amherst College at Amherst. Here, the Lord Jeffery, a perfect replica of an ancient country inn, is open to the public year 'round.

The winding Mohawk Trail, famous for its spectacular fall scenery, joins Route 7 at Williamstown, Mass., another beautiful college town. The Inn on the grounds of Williams College is always open to the public.

Going Northward, Route 7 leads through the picturesque farmland of Pownall Valley, Vermont, to Bennington. A Battle Monument here marks the spot where the Green Mountain Boys defeated Burgoyne's Redcoats in 1777 and commands a fine view for many miles around.

Farther North on Route 7, the Ethan Allen Highway, is the village of Arlington, home of Vermont's favorite author, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, and of Norman Rockwell, one of the country's most popular illustrators. Manchester, an old and gracious resort center, is reminiscent of America's spa era and another mecca for writers and artists.

Turning East at Rutland on Route 4 will take you through Sherburn Pass (elevation 2,190 feet) which is crossed by the famous Long Trail—a footpath through the Green Mountains, 250 miles long from the Massachusetts to the Canadian border. Where the Long Trail crosses Route 4 stands Long Trail Lodge, the only authentic rustic inn East of the Mississippi, which will be open all through the foliage season and makes a good stopping place for those who want to see some of the countryside on foot.

Driving via Route 4 to Route 100 northward will take you through some of the most exceptional foliage in the U. S. Join Route 2 at Middlesex and swing Eastward across the Connecticut River and into the White Mountains of New Hampshire. At Randolph, N. H., you are in the shadows of the highest peak of the Presidential Range, Mount Washington (6,288 feet). Here the Ravine House will remain open for foliage viewers through October 15. For superb views of the flaming foliage take the Cog Railway to the summit of Mount Washington but be prepared for winter temperatures at the top!

Swing South and West on Routes 115 and 3 which leads through Plymouth, N. H., past Lake Winepesaukee, 22 miles long and from 1 to 10 miles wide, the state's best known lake-resort region. In Franklin is the birthplace of Daniel Webster. At Concord, the State capital is a bronze statue of the famous orator. Going Southwest from Concord on Route 202 you pass through Peterborough and the well known MacDowell artist colony. Farther South, near Jaffrey, is a well marked road to the Cathedral of the Pines at Rindge, a memorial to the servicemen of World War II.

Just across the Massachusetts border, beautifully situated on a hillside outside the old toy making town of Winchendon is Toy Town Tavern. On its 18-hole golf course sits the largest rocking horse in the world and in the dining rooms are murals of scenes from Mother Goose nursery rhymes—both a delight to children.

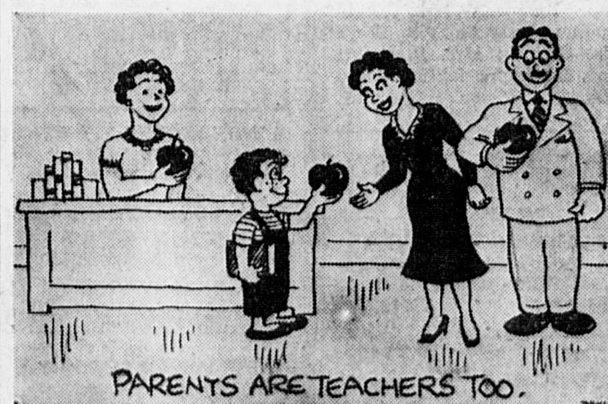

From Winchendon, Route 12 going Southeast goes in the direction of Worcester. Crossing Route 9 you'll be on Route 20 which Westward takes you to Old Sturbridge Village, never more enjoyable than on a sunny Fall Day. Leave your car at the gate and rustle through the leaves along the 18th Century roads of this recreated old New England town... visit the potter, the miller, and the village blacksmith at work. See the farmer pressing fresh apple cider.

A mile beyond the Village on Route 131 is Sturbridge Common and the Publick House, a 1771 coaching tavern where you can spend the night or enjoy good food and drink in the authentic colonial atmosphere of an old New England inn. Within a few minutes you can be back where you started from Route 5 headed for Hartford or New York and other points.

Those taking the tour from Boston can shorten the route by picking up Route 2 at Route 128 and driving Westward over the Mohawk Trail to Williamstown. Homebound, take Route 9 through Framingham which has its own historic dining spot, the 1812 House, an old New England homestead built on land known as Salem End that was once the refuge for early colonists driven from their seashore homes by witchcraft persecutions.

With these suggestions, John Treadway advises motorists that "the fall foliage won't wait. Plan your trip for early October and see New England at its best."

Newtonville Woman's Club to Open Fall Season October 5

The Newtonville Woman's Club will open its fall season on Tuesday, October 5, at the Clubhouse, 61 Washington Park, with a return of the popular Barbara Warren Shure presenting Dramatized Theatre Reviews. Miss Shure, trained at the American Academy of Dramatic Art and at Yale School of Drama, had experience on Broadway playing with such stars as Lynn Fontaine, Alfred Lunt, Helen Hayes, and Mary Martin, before initiating her program of reviews of current plays, to audiences throughout the United States. Without Costumes, scenery or lights Miss Shure recreates the characters so vividly that many say "To see Barbara Shure is to see the current theatre."

The 2:14 business meeting will be preceded by a coffee hour at 1:30, at which Mrs. Malcolm MacCadden will be hostess. The pourers are Mrs. William Fish and Mrs. Dudley Hovey. Mrs. Charles W. Tenny and Mrs. Newell J. Trask will entertain with a piano duet.

Spaulding P.T.A. To Meet Oct. 4

With "Getting to Know You" as its theme, the first meeting of the Spaulding School P.T.A. Teacher Association will be held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 5, at the school at 8 p.m.

Robert Richmond of Hartmann rd., chairman of the program committee, has arranged a parent-get-to-know your teacher meeting. The faculty questions most frequently asked will be on a panel discussing the school by the parents.

Such topics as discipline in the school, the teaching of phonics, activity programs as compared with strictly skill programs, and provisions for the exceptional child, will be discussed. The parents, too, are invited to ask questions. Head-

First Lt. Robert J. Bertrand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse C. Bertrand of 149 Pearl street, Newton, who returned from the Far East Command last June, has been assigned to Ft. Dix, N. J., for duty with the G-3 Training Committee.

Entering the Army in January 1951, Lt. Bertrand was commissioned through Officers Candidate School, Fort Benning, Ga., in September, 1952. In May, 1953, after serving as an instructor with the 9th Infantry Division at this station, he was ordered to duty with the 45th Infantry Division in Korea.

In March of this year he was transferred to the 7th Division and served as executive officer until his return to the states. Among his awards are the Combat Infantryman Badge, Korean, U. N. and National Defense Service Medals.

He is married to the former Carol A. Stringham of Plattsburg, New York, and they have a one-year-old son, Robert J. They are presently living in

Elizabeth Hulsman Classes Are Now Being Conducted

Elizabeth Hulsman is again conducting her classes in classical ballet technique, toe, variations, and adagio at The Workshop, 72 Columbus street, Newton Highlands. Graded classes for beginning, intermediate and advanced students are now being formed.

Miss Hulsman has just returned from a summer season in New York, where she has been studying intensively with the professional classes at the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, American Ballet Theatre and Aubrey Hitchins schools, under such world-famous teachers as Swoboda, Franklin, Vilzak, Danielian, Schwetoff, Pereyaslav, Caton, Lazowsky, Hitchins, and others. For the balance of the year, she studies daily with Alicia Langford, leading Boston teacher and dancer, and is a featured soloist with the Langford Concert Ballet group.

The Elizabeth Hulsman School is readily accessible and convenient to students living in and around Newton, and they will find that Miss Hulsman pays careful attention to the teaching of correct classical technique and to the development of poise and grace.

For further information, interested parents or students are welcome to call Bigelow 4-6420.

Explains Sources Of Village Names

(The following is one of the chapters of the informative and entertaining volume "A Young Citizen's History of Newton," which is scheduled to be published tomorrow (Friday) by the Newton School Department.)

The children gathered in Grampa Jones's backyard soon after lunch on the following day. They were interested in knowing how all the villages of Newton had been named. However, Grampa started by asking a few questions.

"How many villages are there in Newton?"

"Thirteen," chimed in the children, for that was one thing they all knew.

"That's right. Now, what are they called?"

The children all joined in, calling out the names of the various villages.

"There's Waban and there's Newton Highlands."

"Newton Centre and Newton Corner."

Upper Falls and Lower Falls."

"Newtonville, Auburndale, and West Newton."

"I live in Oak Hill, and my best friend lives in Chestnut Hill."

"Is Nonantum a village, Grampa Jones?"

"Yes, it is, but you all forgot Thompsonville. Now, let's start with Waban. How do you suppose that village got its name?"

The children were certain of that one. "It's named after the Indian chief, Waban."

"Fine. What about Nonantum?"

"Is that where the Indian village was first located?"

"Yes, it is. But there's more to the story. That section used to be called 'Tin Horn.' A Mr. Bemis owned a factory on the banks of the river, and he used to toot a little tin horn to call the people to work. Since the citizens of the area thought 'Nonantum' sounded better and stood for more important things than the tooting of a tin horn, they changed the name to 'Nonantum.'"

"I'll bet West Newton doesn't have an interesting story like that," said a little girl.

"Oh, yes, it does," answered Grampa. "When the children there did not want to walk all the way to Newton Centre for church, they had meetings to decide on a dividing line. Finally, they agreed to split on a certain farm. By chance, the line divided the farm so that all except a plot of squashes went to Newton Centre. And for a long time, West Newton went by the nickname, 'Squash End.' Grampa Jones continued, 'I'll bet any one of you can tell me how Newton Upper Falls and Newton Lower Falls were named.'"

"Sure," cried the children. "Upper Falls is farther up the river than the other."

"How about Newtonville, Grampa?"

"Newtonville used to have the name of 'Hull's Crossing.' Mr. Bullough built a shed for his grain at the end of Bullough's Pond. He used to flag down the train to take his grain. The train would stop on General Hull's land, so — 'Hull's Crossing.' This was fine, but when it was decided to make it a regular train stop, the townspeople selected the more dignified name of 'Newtonville.'"

"What about Oak Hill?"

"Oak trees," answered the children.

"That's right," said Grampa with a chuckle, "and that's how Oak Hill was named. Chestnut Hill was named the same way, after the chestnuts that grew there."

One boy was puzzled. "We all could figure that out, Grampa, but not Auburndale."

"Auburndale was, in the old days, a peaceful little village called Pigeonville. It was so restful that doctors used to send their patients there to get well. In time, there were them about or taken them to see. One of these places was the Jackson Homestead. Since the name Jackson had appeared in many of Grampa Jones's interesting stories, they asked him to tell them all about the Jackson Homestead.

"You're right when you say that the Jackson family has been important in Newton's history. The Homestead is an interesting place. You must see it. But it will spoil the story to tell you now. If you promise to go to bed early tonight, tomorrow I'll take you to see the Jackson Homestead. I'll also tell you the stories of some of the other old houses

Hyde School Outgrown Shop Opens for Seventh Season

The Hyde School Outgrown Shop opened yesterday for its seventh season. Used clothing and sporting equipment will be on sale every Wednesday from 10 to 3 during the school year. The PTA sponsors the shop managed and staffed entirely by volunteers, as its only fund-raising project.

Large pieces of sports equipment, such as bicycles and household furnishings available for sale are listed on a bulletin board. Merchandise not sold within sixty days is automatically reduced 20 percent. All winter articles not sold by the first Wednesday of February will be reduced 50 percent on that date. 20 percent of the sale price is retained by the PTA.

Money thus earned by the PTA will be used in the past for printing Home and School Together; furthering the music program; sponsoring cub scout work; and underwriting part of the expenses of special trips taken by Hyde School children.

Joint chairmanship of the Hyde Outgrown Shop has been assumed this year by Mrs. George Gibson and Mrs. Frederick Wood. Co-chairmen who assist with the shop planning in preparation for assuming the joint chairmanship next year are: Mrs. Oscar M. Schubert and Mrs. George W. Holmes, Jr. Mrs. Horace McKee will be cashier and the books will be kept by Mrs. W. H. Hulsman and Mrs. Herbert W. Thurston. Mrs. Lewis Alfred will be in charge of sales personnel. Among the other mothers who have volunteered to assist the Outgrown Shop are Mesdames Edward C. Allen, Francis H. Doell, Alan Chesebro, Frank McCarthy, John J. Schweiger, George Goldberg, and Lester Smith.

W.N. Community Centre Opens Next Week

The Fall season at the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., a member agency of the Newton Community Chest, will get under way next week when registrations will be held in Davis School. The registrations will be taken as follows:

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, October 4, 6th and 8th—3:30-5:00 p.m.

Tuesday and Thursday, October 5th and 7th—2:00-4:30 p.m. The activities offered for the 1954-55 season will include sewing, cooking, arts and crafts, dramatics, baton, basketball, swimming, tap, ballet, acrobatic and ballroom dancing.

All activities for the younger boys and girls will be held in the Davis School. Other activities will be held in the Warren Jr. High School and in the West Newton Unitarian Church.

Staff personnel helping Mrs. Burton S. Skinner with the program include Mrs. Thomas Lepore, Mrs. John Frederickson, Miss Martha Sutherland, Mrs. Marjorie Gilbert, Miss Betty DiMuro, Miss Regina Lynch, and Mrs. Lazarus Yudin.

Mrs. Gilbert's baton classes will be open to Jr. High School girls who are interested as well as other age groups. Pre-school dancing lessons will be given this year by Miss Betty DiMuro, who has her own dance studio in Waltham. The kindergarten classes will be taught again this year by Miss Sutherland, who specializes in ballet and acrobatic dancing. Ballroom classes will be open to boys and girls in the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grades under the capable instruction of Mrs. Frederickson, who was formerly with the Newton Physical Education Department.

Paul B. Krutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Krutt of Newtonville, was among 98 members of the junior class of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston who left recently on an Education Trip to Springfield and Rensselaer, N.Y.

Bridge Parties Planned Oct. 19 By Hospital Aid

During the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association, Inc., held at the nurses' home, plans were made to hold their annual bridge parties on the afternoon of October 19 throughout Newton and Wellesley. Proceeds from the parties will be used to provide funds for facilities of a post-operative recovery room at the hospital.

Mrs. Paul T. Babson, association president, announced that Mrs. George C. Prather of Wellesley and Mrs. Herbert C. Dunphy of Newton Highlands, are co-chairmen for the event. Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford of Waban will handle publicity; Mrs. Riley Hampton of Newton, tickets; Mrs. Paul Ingraham of Wellesley Hills, prizes; and Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, also of Wellesley Hills, will be in charge of refreshments.

The village chairmen are: Auburndale, Mrs. Henry F. Keever; Newton Centre, Mrs. Worthing L. West; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Fred G. Sanford; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Melville Ames; Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. John R. Fitzpatrick; Newtonville, Mrs. George W. Hermon; Oak Hill, Mrs. George W. McCreery; Waban, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr.; West Newton, Mrs. Lewis B. Pilcher; Wellesley and Wellesley Hills, Mrs. Roger E. Hall.

Mrs. Riley J. Hampton will be in charge of the tickets, assisted by Mrs. Henry T. Patch for Newton Centre, Mrs. Harold Stillman for Newtonville, Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon for Newton, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell for Newton Highlands, Mrs. Ellis Gates for Waban, Mrs. Henry F. Keever for Auburndale, Mrs. Lewis Pilcher for West Newton, Mrs. Clinton W. Scott for Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Donald Wheeler for Oak Hills, Mrs. Arthur C. Burleigh for Wellesley, and Mrs. Winthrop G. Dow and Mrs. Roger Hall for Wellesley Hills.

Fire Department Praised by W.N. Store for Help

High praise for the work of the Newton Fire Department in pumping out flood waters from a West Newton hardware store during hurricane Edna was registered in a letter to Fire Chief John E. Corcoran this week.

The letter, from A. J. Harris Hardware, of 1276 Washington street, West Newton, follows: "Commendations to you and your men for the grand work during the visits of the past two hurricanes, Carol and Edna. "Our many and personal thanks for the splendid co-operation of your Fire Department personnel for their quick response and action during our troubles Saturday, September 11, 1954, when we called them to pump out our cellar and rearway when flooded beyond our control. The men were quick and efficient and the result was a job very well done.

We have always known that Newton's Firemen ranked on top in their firefighting field. Now we know how excellent they can be and are when conditions prompt actions for other endeavors for the benefit of Newton citizenry or wherever called.

"With great appreciation we are happy to acknowledge our many thanks."

Start Rebuilding Project on NHS Baseball Diamond

Newton High School's baseball diamond rebuilding and regrading job is well under way! The new face lifting is being done according to major league specifications.

This baseball infield has served Newton since the construction of Dickenson Stadium in 1930 along with the rest of the High School plant. Although it has had the best of protection and maintenance a baseball diamond's life expectancy is 10 years—it must then be rebuilt. The appropriation for this project was voted by the Board of Aldermen in the regular Recreation Department budget on the recommendation of the Recreation Commission. This was done at the time the budget was submitted in 1954.

The layout and elevation of baseball fields have been changed in recent years by new rules. The pitching mound is now elevated to 18 inches above home plate, first, second and third base levels. Also there is a gradual slope from the pitcher's mound to the edge of the infield grass, and a lesser slope from the edge of the infield grass into the outfield area.

"This project is in keeping with the purpose of the Recreation Department—to provide the best possible facilities for our Newton youth," said Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson.

Spotlight on Weeks

The Orchestra

The first meeting of the orchestra was held on Monday and the first rehearsal was held on Thursday. This year, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. March, has an excellent distribution of instruments.

On Monday officers were elected. They are Eleanor Vernon, president; Dorothy Bartells, librarian; and Frank Maurer, manager. Eleanor Vernon was also appointed concert mistress.

Our orchestra this year shows great promise of being bigger and better than ever before.

The Year's First Assembly
The annual assembly welcoming the seventh graders to Weeks was held on Wednesday. This seventh grade, the largest in the history of Weeks, contains 430 members.

They were introduced to Kent Barrabee, president of the council and master of ceremonies of the assembly. Mr. Blaisdell, the principal, and Miss King, assistant principal, spoke. Danny Armet, vice-president of the council, secretary Grace Broad, and treasurer Kenny Novack, were introduced, along with the grade presidents: Linda Rubin, grade 8; and Peter Derow, grade 9.

Also presented to grade 7 were: Charlie Nahabedian and Barry Roberts, co-presidents of the Co-operative Store; Steve Wolfe, president of the bank;

Barry Sidel and Allan Paulson, co-editors of the Spotlight, our school paper; and Miss McLaughlin and Mrs. Randell, who are the seventh grade sponsors.

Mr. Bachelder, the music teacher, led us in a few school songs. The cheerleaders, led by Ellen Kahn, their newly-elected head, made their debut by leading the school in a cheer. The band directed by Mr. Parker, played two selections. We all hope that the seventh graders will enjoy three successful years at Weeks.

Program of Creative Dance to Open in First Week of October

The Newton YMCA announces opening of its program of Creative Dance for the first week of October. These classes, which proved so popular during the last three seasons are offered to both children and adults as a healthy, unusual, and enjoyable recreation. This rather new approach to dance is based on the belief that everyone enjoys the dance and that anyone, no matter what his age or ability, can learn to express his individuality through dance forms. The classes are designed primarily for the amateur and exercises are scaled for the average person.

The program this year will be directed by Mrs. Janet Faxon who taught most of these classes last season. She is a student of Miss Barbara Mettler, a pioneer in the field of modern creative dance with a studio in New Hampshire. Mrs. Faxon is an experienced teacher who feels it is possible to interest any child or adult in improving our physical co-ordinations, trying out new ways of expression, using music and costume to enhance the effect of dance. Her students find this kind of dance fun, as well as a relaxation.

Classes will start at the Newton YMCA on Church Street, Newton Corner, on October 4. The class for men and women meets that evening from 8:00 to 9:30 P.M. On Tuesdays at 2:00, children from 5 to 7 years of age who have not attended these classes before, will meet. Intermediates from 5 to 7 will meet at 3:00 on Tuesdays, and beginners in the 8 to 10 age level will meet Tuesdays at 4:00. The intermediate class for girls from 8 to 10 will be held each Wednesday, at 4:00; and the Junior High School group — 11 to 13 year olds, on Thursday at 4:00. Last year these classes filled up quite rapidly, so people are urged to register their children this week. Applications may be mailed to the "Y", or personal registration may be made on Tuesday, September 28, when Mrs. Faxon will be at the "Y" from 2:00 until 5:00 to meet parents and answer questions. Modern creative dance has an appeal for people of all kinds, all ages, and it has been found that parents who join the adult class have a double reward in sharing an aesthetic experience with their youngsters. This is a unique opportunity for the residents of Newton.

Fashion Show Features First Meeting of Reyim Sisterhood

Members of Temple Reyim Sisterhood were treated to an unusual fashion parade at the first meeting of the season held at the Temple. The president, Mrs. Saul Chipman, presided, and the meeting opened with the singing of "Hatikvah" by Mrs. Joseph Liner accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Albert Gersh. The prayer was read by Mrs. Arthur Galer.

Reports were given by Mrs. Myrton Swartz on study groups and Mrs. Norman Platt on Youth Activities. Mrs. Jack Seligman, chairman of customs and ceremonies, spoke on the American Jewish Tercentenary which will be celebrated from September 1954 through May 1955. In keeping with the theme of the Tercentenary, "Man's" opportunities and responsibilities under freedom" Mrs. Seligman reviewed the contributions of the Jewish people to America since the time of the earliest settlers.

Mrs. Chipman introduced the chairman of committees for the coming year as follows: Program: Mrs. Louis Sinofsky; Refreshment: Mrs. Albert Weinstein, and Mrs. Bernard Weinstein; Publicity: Mrs. Samuel Gerson; Remembrance and Happy Day: Mrs. Samuel Ludwig and Mrs. Philip Bograd; New Year Greeting Book: Mrs. Max Stoppelman and Mrs. Herbert Sheppard; National Women's League: Mrs. Myrton Swartz; Hostesses: Mrs. Arthur Galer; Social Action: Mrs. M. Shapiro; Gift Shop: Mrs. Benjamin Libow and Mrs. S. Shelman; Prayers: Mrs. Reevan Levine; Membership: Mrs. Nathan Freidus; Interfaith: Mrs. Israel Arnold; Readers for the Blind: Mrs. Myer Cutler; Bulletin: Mrs. Harold Zibel; Community Cooperation: Mrs. Philip Ratzkof; Good Cheer: Mrs. Paul Goldstein; Customs and Ceremonies: Mrs. Jack Seligman; Decorations: Mrs. L. Fox; Ways and Means: Mrs. Leah Gordon; Youth: Mrs. Norman Platt.

The program for the evening, "Fashion Parade in a dramatic manner", was written and produced by Mrs. Louis Sinofsky and Mrs. Jack Bernstein. The show featured a glimpse of appropriate costumes for milady's needs throughout the day. However, the audience was pleasantly surprised, as they saw take-offs on the fashions suitable for each hour of the day. A typical day finds our housewife arising for the baby's 6 o'clock feeding, as her husband impatiently awaits breakfast before he catches his train. Then she rushes to drive Junior to school and do the marketing. Our housewife relaxes at a beauty salon and finally, prepares for a resort vacation. The models were greeted with much hilarity as they appeared in the outfits designed especially to meet these occasions.

The models for the evening were: Mrs. Robert Schneider, Mrs. Philip Snyder, Mrs. Samuel Ludwig, Mrs. Jack Bernstein, Mrs. Irving Wecker, Mrs. Max Podell and Mrs. R. Promer. Mrs. Saul Shaffman served as commentator, Mrs. Joseph Liner, soloist, and Mrs. Albert Gersh, pianist. The costumes were designed by the models and the program committee, Mrs. Louis Sinofsky, chairman, Mrs. Jack Bernstein, Mrs. Harry Shaffman, Mrs. Saul Shaffman and Mrs. Philip Snyder.

A prize was awarded to Mrs. Nathan Goldstein and refreshments were served under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Albert Weinstein. Hostesses were Mrs. Arthur Galer, Mrs. Leon Glick and Mrs. Harry Shaffman.

Ctr. Woman's Club to Present "Fashions Challenge" Oct. 8

An Open Meeting at 2:45 Friday Afternoon, October 8, in the Auditorium of the Newton Centre Woman's Club brings the Fashion Expert, Maud Preston, in her unique presentation "Fashions Challenge."

Mrs. Preston is a buyer, a fashion and personality consultant and is teaching in Boston University. Her training in the great salons of Paris, London, Florence and Madrid has made her an outstanding authority in the Fashion World. Constructive ideas for building a functional wardrobe, the secrets of being well dressed give you an informative, exhilarating lecture. This one-woman show is clever and entertaining with its dramatic effects.

Distinguished Speaker to Address Emanuel Sisterhood

Temple Emanuel Sisterhood, Newton is very proud and excited in being able to present at its first meeting Monday, Oct. 4, the charming and prolific Mrs. Emanuel Siner, president of the National Women's League of the United Synagogue of America.

Mrs. Siner, wife of Dr. Emanuel Siner of New York, and member of the New York Bar, mother of two children, is a member of the executive committee of the Jewish Welfare Board, member of the board of overseers of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York, past president of her Hadassah chapter and her Sisterhood in New York, as well as active in the Red Cross and other community programs.

The message this extraordinary and brilliant woman brings promises to be inspirational, vital and informative. Mrs. Nathan Angoff will be hostess of the afternoon, which will be devoted to membership; and Mrs. Edward Dashesky will offer the opening prayer.

The meeting in the community hall will be preceded by a coffee hour at 12:30 p. m. and Mmes Stanley Rosoff and Leonard Matthews will pour. Everyone is welcome to attend and enjoy this delightful afternoon.

St. Philip Neri Guild of Waban Meets Wednesday

A talk on interior decorating titled "Before and After" will feature Wednesday afternoon's meeting of St. Philip Neri Guild, Waban, in the church auditorium.

A reception will be held at 2 p.m., with the program at 2:30. Mrs. James T. Godino is chairman, and all parishioners and their guests are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Terkelsen Guests of Honor At Reception

Climaxing a three-week honeymoon trip from Virginia, Minnesota, to the White Mountains and Massachusetts, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad G. Terkelsen were the guests of honor at a reception at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Terkelsen of Auburn, Mass.

Mrs. Terkelsen, the former Betty J. Larson of Virginia, Minnesota, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil H. Larson of that city, and Mr. Terkelsen, were married by the Rev. Robert Peterson at a candlelight service in Our Saviour's Lutheran Church of Virginia, on September 4. The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Paul Brink of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Miss Audrey Helland of Virginia. The best man was Mr.

Andrew Terkelsen of Auburn, Mass., brother of the groom. Ushering were Mr. Gregory Terkelsen, another brother of the groom, and Mr. Daniel Carlson, nephew of the bride. Parents of both bride and groom were present. Following the ceremony there was a reception in the church parlors. Both Mr. and Mrs. Terkelsen are at present in the U. S. Air Force; Mrs. Terkelsen stationed at Lowry Air Force Base and Mr. Terkelsen stationed at Craig Air Force Base in Salina, Alabama. Following their present tour of duty they will make their home in New Hampshire, as Mr. Terkelsen, a graduate of Newton High Schools, plans to continue his interrupted studies at the University of New Hampshire.

Connors-Cooney Nuptials Held At St. Philip Neri Church

The marriage of Miss Frances Margaret Cooney, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard P. Cooney of Waban, to Edward William Connors, Jr., of Arlington, was performed Saturday, September 18 at a 10 o'clock nuptial mass at St. Philip Neri Church, Waban by the Rev. Fr. Gilbert Phinn, cousin of the bride.

Miss Cooney was given in marriage by her father and wore a white antique taffeta gown with a cathedral length train and an illusion neckline with seeded pearls and a crowned headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Cooney acted as maid of honor for her sister, while Miss Marie M. Connors, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid. Both attendants wore princess style gowns of teal blue taffeta with shoes to match and dusty rose accessories. They carried sprays of rubrum lilies.

The mother of the bride wore a full length gown of pale blue lace and a pink flowered hat. The mother of the groom, who attended in a wheel chair due to a recent back injury, wore a slate blue faille dress and pink velvet hat.

John M. Connors, brother of the groom, was best man while Emidio Di Clemente of Belmont, chum of the groom, and Bernard P. Cooney, Jr., served as ushers.

Two cousins of the groom, George Menslage, Jr., of Scituate and William Lewis, Jr., of South Boston were the altar boys.

Miss Cooney attended Framingham State Teachers College and graduated from Assumption Academy of Wellesley Hills. Her father is a veteran of the Postal Service and a member of the Yankee Division of World War I.

The groom graduated from Jamaica Plain high school from where he entered the armed forces. He served with the Army Security Agency in Japan and Korea. His father is attached to the Boston Bureau of the Associated Press.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the Woodland Country Club.

The couple went on a motor tour through New York State after which they will reside in Medford where the groom will continue his studies at Tufts College.

Newton Players to Hold Meetings at Hunnewell Club

Good news for the members of The Newton Players! It's just been announced that final plans have been completed for the use of the Hunnewell Club for meetings and all rehearsals. This year's presentations will be held at the superbly equipped new Beethoven School in Newton. The opening presentation, scheduled for November 4th, 5th, and 6th will be Noel Coward's sparkling comedy, "Present Laughter."

Temple Reyim Open House, greeting new members and guests, turned out to be a "smashing success" in spite of the post hurricane conditions. Some 200 people witnessed the enjoyable evening, after having withstood their recent ordeals of wind, rain and candlelight.

Local Committee Named for Hire Handicapped Wk.

The Newton office of the State Employment Service, along with many other national, state and local organizations, will participate in the tenth annual observance of National Employ the Handicapped Week to be held October 3 through October 9.

"Experience has proven," says John F. Kennealy, manager of the Newton office of the Employment Service, "that hiring handicapped persons does not place a burden on the employer, but is usually a good investment. Handicapped workers who are hired on the basis of their abilities rather than their handicap are apt to be better-than-average workers."

The committee for the promotion of greater interest in the employment of the physically handicapped in the Newton area includes Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr.; Richard J. White, president of the Newton Rotary Club; Police Chief Philip Purcell; Theodore L. Harrington, personnel director for the U.S. Army; Harlan J. Witham, personnel director for the Sherman Paper Products Company; and Frank J. Slyva, personnel director for the Game-well Company.

30th Annual Newton Twilight League Banquet Attracts 450

The 30th Annual Newton Twilight League Banquet was attended by 450 people last week at the Normandie Ballroom, Norumbega Park, Auburndale.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of trophies to the seven champions in the various divisions of the Twilight League. Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. presented the first award, the Recreation Department Trophy in the Soft Ball League. It was given to John Kelly, manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, co-champs with Santy's Cafe for the American League.

The mayor also commended John F. (Buck) Donahue, director of the Twi setup, for a job well done. Mayor Whitmore spoke of "Buck" as the "Connie Mack" of Newton baseball.

Newton Recreation Board members present were: Mrs. Worthington West, Major William J. McCarthy, Chairman James E. Murphy, Ira Conant and Commissioner C. Evan Johnson. Mr. Johnson spoke of the 31 Newton playgrounds which offer baseball to our youths. "The trial grounds and proving grounds for baseball are to be found on our city playgrounds," he stated.

Also at the head table were Rev. Edward W. Beuchler of Corpus Christi Church, Police Capt. Charles E. Walker and toastmaster Thomas J. Lyons. The rest of the awards were: American League champions—Cabot A. C. Eugene Mullen presented the William F. Doherty Memorial Trophy to William Fitzpatrick.

International League Championship — Newtonville A. C. Umpire Association President Marty Boyle presented the Harry "Sonny" Gath Memorial Trophy to Dwight Rideout, manager.

National League A and B champions — Corpus Christi. Leo Cannan, Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge of Elks presented the Elks Trophy to managers Del Ryan and William Connelly.

Past Commander of American Legion Post No. 48, John B. Foley, gave the American Legion Trophy to William Hannan, manager of Santy's Cafe.

Knights of Columbus Trophy was presented to Robert Reed, manager of the National Research Corporation, by James Purcell.

Guest speaker Jim Piersall, Boston Red Sox right fielder, chatted informally about his career and experiences in baseball. He concluded by giving a few helpful hints on how to get along with umpires.

Champions also received gold baseballs and softballs.

Popular Priced Foliage Trips Over Columbus Day

This year Columbus Day coming on Tuesday and including Monday would make a delightful long weekend for a Foliage Trip. With this in mind, the Colpitts Tourist Company of Boston have planned three delightfully low priced colorful Autumn Foliage Tours with a minimum of time lost from business. The New York Tour leaves Saturday morning, October 9, in deluxe motor coach with comfortable high-backed seats and large picture windows for good vision for the greatest appreciation of the colorful countryside. The trip is via the beautiful Berkshires and Mohawk Trail to Albany and thence along the Hudson River and Catskill Mountains via Hyde Park, with a visit at West Point enroute to New York City, including fine hotels, liberal sightseeing, theatre tickets, entertainment, transfers and all taxes.

The other trips are to Montreal, Quebec and Ste. Anne de Beaupre leaving October 2 and 8, going via rail or motor-coach. These colorful four and five day trips include good hotels and the famous Chateau Frontenac, liberal sightseeing, transfers and taxes, all for $39.75.

Circulars and information pertaining to these delightful low priced trips can be secured from the Colpitts Tourist Company at 262 Washington street, Boston.

Newton Sports

The early bird will catch a prize worm Saturday morning when Newton High's gridsters travel to Chelsea Memorial Stadium for a 10:30 a.m. game. The morning time was tried last week when Chelsea played at Malden, and the largest opening-game crowd in umpteen years rewarded the experiment. . . . Chelsea, impressed with the throng, immediately contacted the Tigers and by mutual agreement the game was shifted to the a.m. This morning start seems to be catching on this year to overcome competition from local college and television attractions. This seems like a good step for schools not noted for their power teams and should improve the athletic income of the perennially weaker schools. . . . But the best way to get the crowds, as Newton proved last year, is to produce a winner. . . . The Tigers extended Coach Bud Hawkes' personal winning streak at the helm of the Orange and Black to nine straight games Saturday by trampling an outmanned Rindge Tech outfit, 25-0. The Technicians have only 21 players on their roster—not enough to even hold an intra-squad scrimmage. . . . Newton showed power and balance, gaining yardage equally as well on the ground as in the air. Although the Rindge game cannot be considered a true test of the Orange and Black's potential, a steady improvement in the next few games will again make N.H.S. one of the Class A football powers.

'Quarterback "Chuck" Fogarty stepped into the gaping hole left by the departure of all-everything Art DeStefano, and gave every indication of holding his own in comparison with the fabulous Artie. . . . He completed seven out of nine passes for 102 yards, ran well himself and directed his backfield to 148 overland yards.

The "big gun" in the running attack was left halfback Dick Lucier, who picked up 89 yards—more than double the amount the Cambridge team gained both passing and running all afternoon. . . . The first period was played "close to the vest" due to a pre-game penalty against the home team. Newton appeared about a minute late while Rindge waited on the field, and as a result the kickoff took place 15 yards closer to the Newton goal. . . . The Tigers were unable to cut loose, being deep in its own territory, but began to march as the period ended. A 15-yard strike to Fogarty's favorite target, Billy Reilly, and a 17-yard quarterback sneak set up the first score of the season as Fogarty hurled a fourth-down, nine-yard pass to Reilly in the end zone. . . . By a Margin of seconds, the Orange and Black tallied again before the half ended as Fogarty flipped a running pass to Al Rogan in paydirt from six yards out. Rogan started this touchdown drive himself with an interception, and the big play again was a 42-yard pass to Reilly who made a spectacular falling catch on the six. . . . The half ended on this play, and lightning struck the Technicians again as soon as the second half opened with Lucier sprinting 54 yards on the first play.

Fullback Bobby Lee bucked over from the three for this score, and the fourth tally was added late in the final quarter when Fogarty's replacement, Allan Hackel, tossed a 32-yarder to end Dave Baker. . . . Fogarty to Reilly may prove to be the successor to DeStefano to (Lou) Kahlenbeck, the combination which ruined Newton opponents last year. Saturday morning's game—against a fully-manned squad—will give a better indication whether the Tigers have a chance to cop the Class A decision two years in a row. Off what they showed so far, the chances look pretty good.

Our Lady's High of Newton made the opening weekend of the football season a successful one all around by blanking Martha's Vineyard, 16-0, at the Islanders' home field. Our Lady's completely dominated the game, with the entire 32-man squad seeing action in the independent fray. . . . Outstanding for local school was George Duffy, a transfer from Malden Catholic, who punched holes in the Vineyard line all afternoon. Our Lady's scored first early in the game when a halfback was smothered behind the Vineyard goalline for two points. . . . After penalties stalled the Purple and Gold drive following the kick after the safety, Our Lady's marched from deep in its own territory for the score. Final honors were done by Bova Rufo, who took off for 32 yards on a reverse behind picture-book blocking. . . . Our Lady's counted again in the third period on Duffy's 22-yard TD sprint after racking up four straight first downs. From then on, the Purple and Gold was content to let the substitutes gain experience. Martha's Vineyard managed to move to Our Lady's 15-yard marker, but the game ended at that point. . . . The win must have been encouraging for Our Lady's fans, as the locals football fortunes have been on the ebb for the past few years after a spectacular beginning. Let's hope this is the first indication that the drought is over and better times are ahead.

Forming Metal Craft Classes For Residents

Metal craft classes for adult residents of the city of Newton, sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department, and under the direction of Carl F. Ockerbloom are now forming.

These classes, each limited to an enrollment of twelve, will meet one night a week, beginning October 19 or 20, either on Tuesday or Wednesday, from 7 to 9 p.m., at the Burr Playground Building on Waverly avenue, Newton Corner.

This course has been conducted in Newton for several years, and many beautiful and useful articles have been made by those enrolled. Waste baskets and letter holders covered with gleaming copper foil, trays and bowls of copper and aluminum in many shapes and sizes, book ends, planters, candle sticks, lamps of many styles. These are but a few of the numerous articles made in these classes conducted and operated as a recreational hobby interest.

Those interested in joining one of these classes should contact the Newton Recreation Department, City Hall, Newton Centre, at once for further information.

To See Hollywood Television Show

Robert L. Sokolsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sokolsky of Newton Centre, has been invited to Hollywood to witness the television premiere this week of a new Chrysler Corporation TV extravaganza as a guest of the company.

He was invited to represent his newspaper, the Syracuse Herald-Journal, for which he writes a column titled "Looking and Listening." A graduate of Newton High School and Syracuse University, he spent two years in the Army before joining the staff of the Herald-Journal.

Name Bldg. Chairmen for 250 Neighb'd Halloween Parties

According to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, chairman of the Halloween program committee, gratifying progress has been made by the various building chairmen in organizing the committees in charge of the 250 neighborhood parties scheduled for Newton's forthcoming Halloween celebration. The enterprise is so vast that more than 1500 men and women will take an active part in planning programs for upwards of 15,000 school children.

"I'm delighted," said Mrs. Hovgaard, "with the simply wonderful enthusiasm shown by all the good people who are giving their time and energy to make this huge annual celebration a success. We've had fine Halloween's before. But the spirited way that chairmen and their committee members are starting off gives me the best of reasons to predict that this year's will top them all."

The 1954 celebration, Mrs. Hovgaard added, will be even bigger than in 1953. The school population has increased and two new schools—the Spaulding in Oak Hill and the Beethoven in Waban—mean additional parties in these new locations. Another new party location is the Hunnewell Club, where the Bigelow Junior High will hold three parties.

That there is a real go-ahead spirit in the organization is evidenced by the fact that Mrs. Hovgaard has already received the following reports of progress:

Mrs. Bernard J. Kadish, building chairman of the Bowen School parties in Thompsonville, states that kindergartners will meet from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and that grade pupils, up to the sixth, will have their jollifications from 6:45 to 9 in the evening. There will be games, entertainment in home rooms, refreshments, entertainment and movies in the auditorium, and favors for all. The 5th and 6th grades will also experience the thrills of an exciting "Chamber of Horrors." Mrs. Kadish reports that everything is settled excepting the entertainment in the auditorium.

Chairmen of the various committees are Mrs. Jon Gilbern, program; Mrs. J. DiCarlo, refreshments; Mrs. Herbert Frank, favors; Mrs. Roger Curry, building and traffic safety control; Martin Boormeester, "Chamber of Horrors." As assistants to the room mothers, plans are being made for room fathers for the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius L. Masow, building chairmen of the Bigelow Junior High parties at the Hunnewell Club for 9th grade students, announce that the party for the 8th graders will be held at the Bigelow Gym, both running from 7:30 to 10:30. Square, round and social dancing will be the main feature at both affairs. There will be prizes for the dancers; in addition a varied entertainment is being planned, as well as refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Masow announce that some details are still to be ironed out, but that the evening's program, in general, is well in hand.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Waban area building chairmen was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Morrison. The programs discussed are so extensive that final decisions as to details are not yet available.

The report from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, building chair-

Municipal Magazine Praises Newton City Sealer's Report

The 1953 Annual Report of J. Ellis Bowen, sealer of weights and measures of the City of Newton, has been cited in the September issue of "The American City," a magazine of wide national circulation among municipal and other governmental officials.

The article reports the praise accorded this Newton report by many state, national and international authorities in the weights and measures field, and explains the importance of municipal control of weighing and measuring devices and practices by quoting from Mr. Bowen's report as follows:

"The public is today more than ever quantity conscious. The increased cost of living, the difficulties of making income and expenditures balance, the compulsion to stretch the dollar, have caused most consumers to select their purchases with the thought of getting the most for that dollar.

"High prices are a most convincing argument that ounces, pints, quarts, and yards are dollars and cents. It is axiomatic that how much you get is of equal importance to how much you pay. To receive short weight or measure is equivalent to receiving counterfeit money in change.

"To give short weight or measure is a two-pronged evil. It not only cheats the purchaser, but provides unfair competition by offering a means of underselling an honest competitor.

"Standards of weight and measure, together with the enforcement of laws relating thereto, is a necessary and integral part of economic progress and affords an invaluable and equal degree of protection to all who either buy or sell commodities."

The significance of this outstanding report is further attested by an article in the July issue of the magazine Scale Journal, official organ of the National Scale Men's Association, National Conference on Weights and Measures, Southern Weights and Measures Conference, and various State Weights and Measures Associations, describing and quoting from the report.

The Wisconsin "Newsletter" for May, published by the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture, Division of Economic Practices, Weights and Measures Section, and distributed to weights and measures officials throughout the State of Wisconsin, quoted at length from Mr. Bowen's report, and in part as follows:

"No other public service is more fundamental than the services rendered by your Weights and Measures Department. Probably only Police, Fire, and Health protection are equally so. And like Police, Fire, and Health Departments, the function of this department is service and protection to all without direct remuneration sufficient to cover the cost of operation.

"The American system of free enterprise under the stimulus of our profit system, provides the world's highest standard of living. This high level of economic activity in turn depends upon the small unit profits of mass productivity and mass distribution. Unit profits being small, it is imperative that the merchant not give long weight or measure. For a merchant carelessly, or unknowingly, to do so is to give away his profit, his means of livelihood, and over a period of time to invite bankruptcy. Neither short nor long weight or measure can be tolerated."

Joint Meeting Is Planned Oct. 6

A joint meeting of the three women's groups of the Church Service League of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, is to be held on October 6, in the Parish House. A "get acquainted" coffee and desert starting at 7:45 will be followed by a discussion by Miss Adelaide Ball and Mrs. J. L. Oncley on "Juvenile Problems in Newton."

Miss Ball, a member of the Board of Aldermen, was President of the Newton Community Council when juvenile trouble occurred in Newton. At that time Miss Ball was appointed chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Juvenile Problems and headed a group of Newton citizens who have made a study of the problem in Newton as it concerned youngsters, parents and tax payers.

Mrs. Oncley, a member of the Newton School Committee will speak on what the Newton Schools and Recreation Department are doing to meet this problem.

Mrs. Riley Hampton, president of the Women's Guild, Mrs. Harold Martin, president of the St. John's Evening Circle and Mrs. Ward Funk, president of the St. Elizabeth's Circle are co-chairmen of the meeting assisted by Mrs. Cecil W. Clark, Mrs. John Kobrock and Mrs. H. Russell Williams from the Women's Guild; Mrs. Clifford Eaton, Mrs. Florence A. Moore and Miss Alice Kelley from the St. John's Evening Circle, and Mrs. Stanley Benson, Mrs. E. Lee Gamble and Mrs. Robert Murray from the St. Elizabeth's Circle.

Food Sale

On October 2, beginning at 10 a.m., the Woman's Society of Christian Service, sponsored by the Welcome Circle, will hold a food sale on the church lawn.

If the weather is unfavorable, it will be held indoors.

Fall Meeting Of Sacred Heart Alumnae Oct. 6

The annual fall meeting of the Alumnae of the Sacred Heart will take place this year at the Women's City Club, 40 Beacon st., Boston, at a dinner party on Wednesday, October 6th at 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. William H. Brine, Jr., of West Newton, president is chairman of the fall event. Assisting her are Mrs. Dennis Myers of Newton, vice president; Miss Eunice Ford of Brookline, recording secretary; Miss Barbara Powell of Chestnut Hill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly of Jamaica Plain, treasurer; and Mrs. Wilfred Grapes of Newton, program chairman.

Also Mrs. Paul Glutting of Chestnut Hill, Miss Irene Good of Cambridge, Mrs. Edward M. Gallagher, Jr., of Brookline, Mrs. John Bragdonas of West Newton, Mrs. John Rooney of Jamaica Plain and Mrs. D. Dunn Dempsey of Roslindale, all board members.

The Rev. Herbert A. deSouza, S.J., of India will speak to the group.

Among the invited guests are members of the executive board of the National Associated Alumnae of the Sacred Heart, whose October board meetings take place in Boston this year.

They include Mrs. John Acee, St. Louis, Mrs. Charles Smith, Chicago, Miss Shirley Simpson and Miss Mary Dowling, both of Rochester, N. Y., as well as Miss Margaret Schottmuller, St. Louis, and Mrs. Thaddeus Whalan, San Francisco.

Others are Mrs. Louis Capelli, president of Edmundo alumnae, Providence, and Miss Gail Pitts, Newton College alumnae president.

Membership Tea Held by Oak Hill Pk. Woman's Club

The Oak Hill Park Women's Club opened its fall season with a membership tea this month. Inclement weather forced the tea indoors but did not dull the enthusiasm of the club members and the affair was held at the Memorial school gymnasium.

Forty-seven new members were welcomed into the club and presented corsages made by the garden committee under the direction of Mrs. Edward M. McMahon.

The new members were then introduced by the reception committee to the club officers. Those in the receiving line were: Mrs. David Greer, Jr., president; Mrs. Harry S. Coles, first vice-president; Mrs. Edwin H. Weist, second vice-president; Mrs. Richard P. Emerson, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred B. Hills, treasurer; and Mrs. Lewis E. Day, assistant treasurer.

Mrs. George S. Warren, chairman of the membership committee was in charge of the tea and she was assisted by co-chairman, Mrs. Harold R. Jaques; Mrs. Vernon G. Phipps, Mrs. James T. McCorry, Mrs. Philip F. Hopfe, Mrs. Harry Sudman, Mrs. John H. Barrett, Mrs. Donald B. Stillman, Mrs. Irving Burrows and Mrs. George P. Caffray, Jr.

Pourers were past presidents Mrs. Frederick J. Wood and Mrs. Arthur A. Hagelstein.

Katherine Dixon Dancing School Opens Soon

Members of the regular classes of the Katherine Dixon Dancing School are returning to the studio, Miss Dixon has just returned from the annual convention of the Dance Teachers' Club of Boston held at the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

Miss Dixon, who is a past president of the club, was this year chairman of this convention. The Newton classes which for many years have been run by the late Katherine D. O'Gorman, are now being taught by Miss Grace McKenna who is associate teacher with Miss Dixon.

Aub. Congregat'l Church Women to Stage Work Day

The newly formed "Fellowship of Auburndale Congregational Church Women" will hold its first of four all-day work days next Wednesday from 10 in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Allan M. McClain is chairman for the day, and Mrs. Haviland O. Corliss is in charge of the luncheon which will be served at 12:15 p.m.

Mrs. E. Graham Bates, president of this new organization which includes all women of the parish, has announced that enthusiasm is running high especially in the sewing project to benefit the Ellis Island detention center in New York. Surgical dressings for the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary will be under the direction of Mrs. Jacques V. Yates, and Mrs. Clarence Harding will be in charge of the making of scrapbooks and tray favors for hospital patients.

Small groups of not more than 30 women per group will work for specific projects during the year, meeting five to seven times in private homes or at the church. Two of these groups in particular are designed for business women and mothers of young children and will meet in the evening. Membership in the Fellowship will not depend upon the payment of dues but financial needs will be met by contributions, pledges, and money-making projects both within the groups and by the Fellowship as a whole.

The outline for the year's activities includes four all-day service meetings with luncheons, one guest night in January, two program-teas and an annual meeting in May. The names, addresses and telephone numbers of all women in the parish are listed in the Fellowship's directory which will be available at Wednesday's "Rally Day," when everyone will meet her group leader and learn of particular aims and projects to be undertaken.

Hlds. Men's Club Dinner Meeting Tuesday Evening

The Men's Club of Newton Highlands will launch its 1954-55 season with a dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

Donald L. Willis, president of the Men's Club, has lined up a program designed for the varied interests of the members of this nonsectarian organization.

Featured speaker at the opening meeting will be John Allan May, foreign correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor, featured columnist, cartoonist, and humorist.

Mr. May was born in London, schooled at London University, and educated in Fleet Street. After a stint of sports cartooning, he became a foreign correspondent.

With the outbreak of World War II, he joined the Royal Navy. He spent most of his five years of active service as commander of a PT-boat in the North Sea and English Channel. He was sunk twice, but never went down for the third time.

After the war, he returned to reporting, and was chief correspondent for the Monitor covering the Marshall Plan. In 1951, Mr. May came to the United States as an editor, though still doubling as a columnist. Along with his journalism, he brought his wife, daughter, and dog. All three toured the United States in a small English car in 1953. Some of his experiences set him back on his heels, but he had enough English on the ball to bounce back—and columnist on his experiences.

That year Mr. May was recipient of the English-Speaking Union's Better Understanding Award for "his outstanding contribution to better understanding between the people of the United States and those of the Commonwealth."

The Men's Club Bowling League has already begun its weekly competition, with 10 teams in action. Tony Malfa, as chairman, has scheduled a split season and installed a handicap system. This is expected to result in a tight race all the way to the end of the season.

Bowling captain this year are Joe Cannon, Frank Willey, Rob Foote, Frank Holihv, Howie Whitmore, Ed Oliverio, Robby Robinson, Ed Prietz, Ted Fox, and Don Willis.

Thrift Shop

The Bigelow-Underwood Thrift Shop opened yesterday (Wednesday) morning at the Underwood School. The shop will now be open every Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Articles of clothing, household goods, toys and bric-a-brac may be purchased at reasonable prices.

Underwood P-TA To Hear Child Developm't Talk

Miss Barbara Moulton of the School of Nursing, Boston University, will speak at the Underwood Parent Teacher Association on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The program centers on The Child's Development as a Continuous Process. "Preface To Life," a motion picture which depicts the environmental forces which play such a large part in the life of the growing child, will be used to introduce the topic. Miss Moulton will discuss the implications of these environmental factors and lead a group discussion.

A graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Simmons College and Boston University, Miss Moulton has had extensive experience in the field of pediatrics. She has engaged in camp nursing; has served as Director of Nurseries at Johns Hopkins Hospital and the Presbyterian Medical Center, New York City. Miss Moulton is now an instructor in Maternal and Child Health.

Wellesley Co-op Cloth'g Exchange Sale Next Week

The Wellesley Co-operative Clothing Exchange will hold its Fall Sale on Thursday, October 7th, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Friday, October 8th, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the bicycle room of the new Wellesley Junior High School on Kingsbury street, over the railroad bridge across from the new Star Market. (Please use the basement entrance off the parking area on left side of the school.)

These semi-annual sales have long been known to neighbors of Wellesley as a treasure house for bargain hunters and they offer a wonderful opportunity to replenish the family wardrobe at especially low prices. Only clothes in good wearable condition, without moth holes or tears, are accepted for this sale and a fine selection of clothes for all members of the family will be offered.

The Wellesley Co-operative Clothing Exchange was inaugurated in 1945 by a small group of women who conceived the idea of offsetting wartime shortages and high prices by the exchange and sale of children's clothing. The total amount of that first sale was $150.

This venture is now a thriving business, increasing every year, and last Spring's sale showed $9131 as its total receipts. Members of the community whose garments were sold received 90% of the total sales and 10% was retained by the Exchange for expenses. The Exchange is conducted on a purely volunteer basis—neighbors working together for their mutual benefit and no individual receives any monetary remuneration, nor is the Exchange run for the benefit of any organization.

Temple Emanuel Sets Two Services For Yom Kippur

Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, will conduct two services on Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader of the congregation will alternate with Dr. Solomon Grayzel, noted editor of the Jewish Publication Society of America, in conducting services in the Main Temple and the Community Hall.

Services will take place on Wednesday evening, October 6th, (Kol Nidre) at 6 p.m., and on Thursday, October 7th, beginning at 8 a.m. and concluding at approximately 6:15 p.m. Memorial Services will be held on Thursday at 10 a.m.

On Wednesday evening, Dr. Gordon will discuss, "This We Now Know!" and on Thursday morning "Tercentenary - A Look Into The Future." Dr. Grayzel has chosen "Sins, Old and New" and "Lives Dramas" as the themes of his sermons on Kol Nidre Night and Yom Kippur.

Cantors Gabriel Hochberg and Max Alperstein, together will also alternate in chanting the musical portions of the Services in both Sanctuaries. Organists will be Mrs. Rhoda J. Kaplan and Mr. Arthur Fultz. The special Teen-Age High Holy Day Services will commence at 6:15 p.m. on Yom Kippur Eve; and 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Yom Kippur Day, and 4:30 p.m. to sundown. The Aleph and Junior Congregations will meet at 10 a.m. Yom Kippur Day.

Holtz Shows Strength Through Entire District

Surprising strength in every section of the 10th Congressional district was shown by Jackson J. Holtz, former assistant U. S. attorney, in winning the Democratic nomination for Congress.

Democratic leaders hailed the victory as a sign that the Congressional seat would be turned over to Democratic control after 25 years of Republican rule.

Holtz, a member of the national important and vital American Bar Association Committee to Investigate Communists' Tactics, Strategy and Objectives, swamped his opponent in West Roxbury, Jamaica Plain, Roxbury, Back Bay and Allston by a three to one margin.

At Fort Devens Hospital After Study in Texas

Second Lt. Dorothy T. Regan, daughter of James Regan of 711 Beacon street, Newton Centre, has been assigned to duty at the Ft. Devens Hospital after completing a year of dietetic internship at Brooke Army Hospital, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

A graduate of Regis College, she was one of 11 members of the Women's Medical Specialist Corps who completed their year of internship Friday at the Texas base and were assigned as registered dietitians to Army hospitals throughout the United States.

The year of training, predominantly in actual working conditions on the wards and in the kitchen and dining halls of Brooks Army Hospital, was under the supervision of staff dietitians. The interns learned institutional organization and management, personnel management, waste prevention, stock-room control and financial management as well as the menu planning, food procurement, diet therapy and nutrition teaching.

Winthrop A. Stockwell, Mr. Winthrop A. Stockwell died September 10. He made his residence at 101 Harvard street, Newtonville.

Born in Northampton May 12, 1878, he was the retired owner of the Wales Company.

Funeral services were held at the Westwood Chapel of Smith & Higgins in Westwood, Monday, at 1:00 p.m., with Rev. Merton E. Libby of Westwood, officiating.

Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Springfield.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Elizabeth; one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Pitchford and three grandchildren, all of Westwood; one brother, Mr. Percy Stockwell of Springfield; and one sister, Mrs. Gordon Harlow of Northampton, Mass.

N.C. Woman's Club Site of Temple Reyim's Services

Charles Kaufman, chairman of the High Holiday Committee, announces that the High Holiday services of Temple Reyim will again be held at the Newton Center Woman's Club at 1280 Center street, Newton Centre.

New Years, which falls on September 28 and 29, and Yom Kippur on October 7, will be under the direction of Rabbi Harold D. Kastle, spiritual director of Temple Reyim.

This year the Temple has procured the services of the outstanding Cantor Manuel Zymelman who will chant the services on the holidays. Cantor Zymelman comes to Temple Reyim after a successful concert tour of South America and several concerts in the United States.

He is a graduate of the University of Buenos Aires School of Cantors. He is also well-known in his broadcast of the Israeli music and South American folklore.

Due to the limit of seat capacity Chairman Kaufman urges all members and non-members to make application for seats at once. There will be a special service for the children under the direction of Ira Hochburg and Joseph Finstein.

Coffee Hour Rally Held

Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham, 27 Samoset road, Waban, held a Coffee Hour rally at her home Friday, September 24, for the village chairman of the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale for the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Mrs. Pinkham, General Chairman of the Sale, reviewed materials and plans for the sale and emphasized the importance of the volunteer workers by saying, "Volunteers are vital to a successful Christmas Seal Sale, and funds raised are the sole support of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association."

Village Chairmen are: Mrs. Allen I. Hatfield, Newton; Miss Marie C. Ulmer and assistant Mrs. Harry Wansker, Newton Centre; Mrs. Stanley C. Kindred, Newtonville; Mrs. John D. Fox, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Norman W. Mahan, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. F. H. Fowle, Community Service Club of West Newton; Mrs. Francis R. Sagle, West Newton Woman's Educational Club; Mrs. Norman W. Kempf, Auburndale; Mrs. Stanley Newman, Waban; and Mrs. Harry Sudman, Oak Hill Park.

Hills, Falls Comm. Nursery School Mothers' Meeting

The Hills and Falls Community Nursery School, Inc., held a Mothers' Meeting recently at St. Mary's Parish Hall in Newton Lower Falls.

After the mothers introduced themselves and looked over their work schedules and car pool assignments, Miss Helen McDowell spoke with the mothers about their school.

She spoke of its being "a co-operative school which really cooperates". Hills and Falls is truly the finest, for parents can really work with the teachers and the children, thereby insuring the necessary security. In fact, at Hills and Falls there is security for all: for the child because his mother is there; for the mother because she joins in her child's experience. It makes for a happy atmosphere because it is a "co-operative" co-operative school. All are friends there: children, mothers and teachers.

There is particular attention to freedom but not without limits. That in itself is bad for security. There have to be some rules so as not to endanger the children. The main reason for the rules is to teach the children of the rights of others. The positive rules are stronger than the negative ones, said Miss McDowell.

She spoke further of the development of the children at their own pace on emotional, social and mental levels. The difference in the children is a part of nursery school work.

Specific rules to be followed in the play-yard and in the play-room were then discussed with special emphasis on the mothers' alertness for possible danger situations yet without curbing imaginative play.

The meeting came to an end with a short resume of the schedules for the older and younger groups in the nursery school. The program consists of creative work, routine and free play, and the variation of those three.

Mrs. Duncan Warren was in charge of the refreshments that were served when the meeting was adjourned. There will be another Mothers' Meeting on Wednesday at St. Mary's parish hall. Dr. Stanford Wessler will speak on "Health for the Nursery School Child".

At Chestnut Hill School
Among the 80 new students at Beaver Country Day School in Chestnut Hill are Ann Colcock of Newtonville; Martha Bates Rebecca Dupree and Rhoda Henkels of Waban; Roberta Faneuil and Cynthia Bailey of Newton Highlands; and Carolyn Capron, Dyanne Adams and Lisa Stonberg of Newton Centre.

Local Educators Are Promoted At Brandeis U.

The promotion of two Newton members of the faculty of Brandeis University was announced last week by Dr. Abram L. Sachar, president of the University.

Dr. Abraham H. Maslow of Newtonville, chairman of the Graduate Committee in Psychology, has been given the rank of professor. Co-author of the standard text "Principles of Abnormal Psychology," Dr. Maslow has published more than 50 articles in psychology journals. A collection of Dr. Maslow's papers entitled "Motivation and Personality" will be published in August by Harper Brothers. The Brandeis professor is a member of the board of directors of the Massachusetts Psychology Association.

Promoted to the rank of associate professor was Dr. David Falkoff of Auburndale, whose field is physics. An associate editor of the American Journal of Physics, Dr. Falkoff has served as a visiting staff member with the Brookhaven National Laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Bowen School to Hold Faculty Tea Monday

The Executive Board of the Bowen School P.T.A. is giving a tea for the faculty on Monday, October 4, at 3:45 p.m. This social occasion will provide an opportunity for new members of the board and faculty to become acquainted.

The Room Mothers are cordially invited to attend and meet the new teachers added to the Bowen School Staff.

Mrs. Jackson Saltz is Chairman of Hospitality, Mrs. Frank M. Chambers is Chairman of Reception, and Mrs. Francis DiCarlo is Chairman of Room Mothers.

Nv. Sgt. Receives Emergency Leave To Visit Ill Dad

Staff Sgt. Thomas S. Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Beal of 8 Washington terrace, Newtonville, has arrived home on an emergency furlough from England to visit his father who is seriously ill in the Jamaica Plain Veterans Hospital.

Mr. Beal has been a victim of rheumatoid arthritis the past four years, and a recent complication forced his return to the hospital. He is well-known in the Newtons, having been born and educated here. At one time he operated a plumbing business of his own, and was employed at the Sherman Paper Products Company before his illness.

Sgt. Beal has been serving in the Army Air Force for seven years, and plans to make the service his career. While overseas, he married an English girl, and they have a son, David, one year. He will be at home with his mother and his sister, Barbara, for his month-long leave. He hopes to bring his wife and son to this country in another year.

Community Club

The executive board of the Newton Community Club met at the home of the president, Mrs. Morgan Campbell, 293 Franklin street.

The first regular meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, October 14 at 2 p.m., in Grace Church Parish House. Dessert will be served at 1:15 p.m. This will be an open meeting and Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor is to be the speaker.

Club meetings this year will be held on the second Thursday afternoon from October to April inclusive. If members wish transportation to the meetings, they are urged to call Mrs. Ellis Sutcliffe, Bigelow 4-5073.

On October 18 there will be a dessert and a panel of foreign speakers from the International Institute at Mrs. Morgan Campbell's home.

October 28, there will be a dessert bridge and fashion show at the Hunnewell Club.

November 9 a musical will be given at the home of Mrs. Maurice Dennison, 132 Farlow road.

Elected to PBK
Mrs. Janet P. McAlee of 216 Highland street, West Newton, was elected to membership Saturday in the Wellesley College chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary society. A music major, she previously was named a Durant Scholar for highest academic achievement.

Announce Skating Dates for All School Children

2. Grade School pupils, Tuesday afternoon 1 to 2 p.m.—Angier, Beethoven, Bowen, Claflin, Countryside, Davis, Emerson, Franklin, Hamilton, Horace Mann and Memorial—November 16, 23, 30; December 7, 14, 21; January 4, 11, 18, 25; February 1, 8, 15.

3. Grade School pupils, Thursday afternoon 1 to 2 p.m.—Burr-Williams, Cabot, Carr, Hyde, Lincoln-Elliott, Mason-Rice, Murray Road, Oak Hill, Peirce, Spalding, Underwood, Ward—November 18; December 2, 9, 16, 23; January 6, 13, 20, 27; February 3, 10, 17.

If there is no school on your date due to bad weather there will be no skating.

You will receive additional information from your school representative.

Record Number At 1st Meeting Of Jr. Aid Ass'n

Wellesley Hospital Junior Aid Association met with a record at the first meeting of the year in Allen Riddle Hall at the hospital.

The business meeting, conducted by Miss Constance E. Linberg of Newton Centre, was indeed a busy one with plans and arrangements for the forthcoming bazaar to be held in December.

Miss Linberg introduced Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher of West Newton, a director of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association, and newly appointed liaison officer from the Senior Aid to the Junior Aid.

Mrs. Marshall J. Leydon of Newtonville, general chairman of the bazaar, reported on its progress and demonstrated the latter by an eye-catching display of articles ready to be sold.

Mrs. Jack S. Parker of Wellesley Hills, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Earle Johnson, interior decorator in Wellesley. To the delight of those present, Mr. Johnson showed how each room of a home can be decorated by coordination of color and texture of fabric with focus upon practicality.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Edward Allen of Newton Highlands, hospitality chairman, provided a delightful social hour with refreshments served by her committee; Mrs. Arthur H. Crosbie, Mrs. Henry J. Pinney, Mrs. Forrest D. Tremholm, all of Wellesley and Mrs. Robert I. Carney of Weston. Mrs. Gilman W. Conant of Wellesley Hills and Mrs. Richard L. McElowney of Newton Highlands were the pourers. The floral arrangement was provided by Mrs. Paul W. Boyd of Wellesley.

Art Association In First Meeting

The Newton Art Association held its first meeting of its sixth year at the Newtonville Public Library, with its new president, Carl M. Stiles, presiding. A large attendance of members and guests heard Past President Sherwood Blodgett introduce and welcome the new president. Mr. Stiles revealed that an energetic and varied program is under way for the coming year and after naming the chairman of the various committees, he proceeded to introduce the guest artist for the evening, Mr. Sam Thal.

Mr. Thal is eminently known in art circles as an artist, teacher, and critic, and by referring to paintings brought in by members, he was better able to explain the thoughts he wished to convey. In the development of a successful painting, Thal stressed the importance of such matters as form, simplicity, color values, and texture. It requires enthusiasm, diligence, independence of thought, together with the proper painting medium and innumerable sketches to develop a painting to please the public as well as the artist himself.

On Thursday October 7th, the guest artist will be Mr. Ken Gore, of Gloucester, with a painting demonstration in oil, palette knife method. James K. Bonnar, celebrated painter of New England landscapes and a Newton resident, will exhibit his paintings at the gallery of the Newton Centre Womens Club for two weeks beginning October 7th.

Miss Cavanagh is a graduate of Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, Pa., and received her M. A. degree from Boston College. Mr. Bolin is a graduate of Staunton Military Academy and the University of Virginia.

A February wedding is planned.

Disaster Drive

The generosity of children for the relief of disaster victims was manifested by the resourcefulness and ingenuity of Susan Bentley and Jean Murtha of Newton, who recently made a contribution to the Red Cross Disaster Fund to relieve the suffering of the disaster victims of the New England Hurricanes.

They made potholders and canvassed their neighborhoods until they received the sum of $5. The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to acknowledge this contribution. It will be forwarded to the Eastern Area Office in Washington.
